Letters to My Mother Mary Ruth Borg, 2009 I knew I liked to write when I was a teenager locking myself in my room I was angry frustrated and needed a positive outlet I was tired of breaking things I was sad having to pick up pieces of my little treasures So I picked up a pencil to write about how I felt and why I was being self destructive I was determined to find a way to diffuse the confusion in my head Taught very early to pray I'd put my prayers on paper Seeing something written brought me back into reality I had a reference point Something I could read over and over to remind myself who I was and that I would be okay This is my story of survival My journey from the traumatic experience of being molested countless times by my step father while living within the strict religious practices of Jehovah's Witnesses to my healing process with Parents United I thought my life of confusion mistrust and low self esteem could never change As I got older I attracted more dysfunction in my choices I didn't know I could change that I didn't know any better I became afraid for my children I thought I was crazy and didn't have good parenting skills After years of therapy I learned to have control over my life and how to take the power back that I kept giving away I am no longer a victim It has been a long and twisty road Today I am proud to be happy healthy and productive in my world I am proud to be a survivor I hope to inspire others and give them hope that the craziness in their heads can go away I want to keep talking about this until the cycle is broken and all children are safe

Carol's Letters Stephen Cunningham, 2012-11-30. What is appropriate? Do I act like I never saw the letters and put them back in with her things? Do I show them to my dad and ask him what is appropriate to do with them out of respect for mom and out of respect for those of us who survive her because they could have just as easily fallen into anyone else's possession? I will share with you these letters. S. Cunningham, Chapter 23, Dear Diary. Due to various circumstances, she may become overwhelmed by many responsibilities which she feels before God; she must be able to meet them. She doesn't want to complain because she wants to be totally surrendered to God's will and respectful of her husband's leadership. If her husband does not sense the pressure his wife is under and if she feels this is all God's will, then she has NO OUT. This can lead in extreme circumstances to mental disorders, temporary or permanent, or suicide. Carol Cunningham, Chapter 9, Dear Tim. Maybe I'm insane and irrational in an attempt to explain my mother's death, but to me it makes more sense now. Now that I read mom's writing, what she really felt. I read these letters and for the first time see her as more than a mother, but as a person with weaknesses and struggles like anyone else. S. Cunningham, Chapter 23, Dear Diary. The Mom's Guide to Asperger Syndrome Jan Johnston-Tyler, 2007.
