A Little Bit Country:

A Decade of Dark Humor Ted Gournelos, Viveca Greene, 2011-08-01 A Decade of Dark Humor analyzes ways in which popular and visual culture used humor in a variety of forms to confront the attacks of September 11 2001 and more specifically the aftermath This interdisciplinary volume brings together scholars from four countries to discuss the impact of humor and irony on both media discourse and tangible political reality Furthermore it demonstrates that laughter is simultaneously an avenue through which social issues are deferred or obfuscated a way in which neoliberal or neoconservative rhetoric is challenged and a means of forming alternative political ideologies The volume s contributors cover a broad range of media productions including news parodies The Daily Show with Jon Stewart The Colbert Report The Onion TV roundtable shows Politically Incorrect with Bill Maher comic strips and cartoons Aaron McGruder's The Boondocks Jeff Danzinger's editorial cartoons television drama Rescue Me animated satire South Park graphic novels Art Spiegelman's In the Shadow of No Towers documentary Fahrenheit 9 11 and other productions Along with examining the rhetorical methods and aesthetic techniques of these productions the essays place each in specific political and journalistic contexts showing how corporations news outlets and political institutions responded to and sometimes co opted these forms of humor concentrates primarily on the Jewish humorists Sarah Silverman Larry David and Sacha Baron Cohen three artists who use their personas to explore the peculiar position of contemporary Jews who exist in a middle space between white and other In chapter 3 Gillota discusses different humorous constructions of whiteness from a detailed analysis of South Park to Blue Collar Comedy and the blog Stuff White People Like Chapter 4 is focused on the manner in which animated children s film and the network situation comedy often project simplified and harmonious visions of diversity In contrast chapter 5 considers how many recent works such as Harold and Kumar Go to White Castle and the Showtime series Weeds engage with diversity in more complex and productive ways Go Blended!
