José Botelho, Masha Kabakow Rudman, 2009-05-07 Children's literature is a contested terrain as is multicultural education Taken together they pose a formidable challenge to both classroom teachers and academics Rather than deny the inherent conflicts and tensions in the field in Critical Multicultural Analysis of Children's Literature Mirrors Windows and Doors Maria Jos Botelho and Masha Kabakow Rudman confront deconstruct and reconstruct these terrains by proposing a reframing of the field Surely all of us children teachers and academics can benefit from this more expansive understanding of what it means to read books Sonia Nieto From the Foreword Critical multicultural analysis provides a philosophical shift for teaching literature constructing curriculum and taking up issues of diversity and social justice It problematizes children's literature offers a way of reading power explores the complex web of sociopolitical relations and deconstructs taken for granted assumptions about language meaning reading and literature it is literary study as sociopolitical change Bringing a critical lens to the study of multiculturalism in children's literature this book prepares teachers, teacher educators and researchers of children's literature to analyze the ideological dimensions of reading and studying literature. Each chapter includes recommendations for classroom application, classroom research and further reading. Helpful end of book appendixes include a list of children's book awards, lists of publishers, diagrams of the power continuum and the theoretical framework of critical multicultural analysis and lists of selected children's literature journals and online resources. Calling the Soul Back

Christina Garcia Lopez, 2019-04-02 Spirituality has consistently been present in the political and cultural counternarratives of Chicana literature. Calling the Soul Back focuses on the embodied aspects of a spirituality integrating body, mind and soul. Centering the relationship between embodiment and literary narrative, Christina Garcia Lopez shows narrative as healing work through which writers and readers ritually call back the soul, one's unique immaterial essence into union with the body, counteracting the wounding fragmentation that emerged out of colonization and imperialism. These readings feature both underanalyzed and more popular works by pivotal writers such as Gloria Anzaldúa, Sandra Cisneros and Rudolfo Anaya in addition to works by less commonly acknowledged authors. Calling the Soul Back explores the spiritual and ancestral knowledge offered in narratives of bodies in trauma, bodies engaged in ritual grieving, bodies immersed in and becoming part of nature and dreaming bodies. Reading across narrative, nonfiction, performative monologue, short fiction, fables, illustrated children's books and a novel, Garcia Lopez asks how these narratives draw on the embodied intersections of ways of knowing and being to shift readers' consciousness regarding relationships to space, time and natural environments. Using an interdisciplinary approach, Calling the Soul Back draws on literary and Chicana studies scholars as well as those in religious studies, feminist studies, sociology, environmental studies, philosophy and Indigenous studies to reveal narrative's healing potential to bring the soul into balance with the body and mind. A Magical Encounter Alma Flor Ada, 2003 A guide to Latino literature for young readers by literature professor Alma Flor Ada. Handbook of Research on Engaging

Immigrant Families and Promoting Academic Success for English Language Learners Onchwari, Grace, Keengwe, Jared, 2019-04-26 In the past few years there has been an influx of immigrant children into the school system, many with a limited understanding of English. Successfully teaching these students requires educators to understand their characteristics and to learn how to engage immigrant families to support their children's academic achievements. The Handbook of Research on Engaging Immigrant Families and Promoting Academic Success for English Language Learners is a collection of innovative research that utilizes teacher professional development, models, assessment practices, teaching strategies and parental involvement strategies to develop ways for communities and educators to create social and academic conditions that promote the academic success of immigrant and English language learners. While highlighting topics including bilingual learners, family engagement and teacher development, this book is ideally designed for early childhood, elementary, middle, K-12 and secondary school teachers, school administrators, faculty, academicians and researchers. Gary Soto Ron

McFarland,2022-08-05 In a 1995 interview prolific Chicano writer Gary Soto noted Wonderment has always been a part of my life This book surveys Soto s immense range of poems stories novels essays and plays for audiences of prereaders to adults Soto s world moves from the cotton and beet fields of the San Joaquin Valley to the blue collar barrios of Fresno and to urban and suburban settings in Oakland and Berkeley Chapters analyze a wide variety of Soto titles from his breakout works like 1977 s The Elements of San Joaquin to the Chato the Cat illustrated books for children With self deprecating humor particularly in his poems Soto combines his wonderment with the trials and conflicts that beset him throughout life In such novels as Jesse Buried Onions and The Afterlife and in his stories for YA readers including Baseball in April and Petty Crimes his broad array of characters confront the anxieties and annoyances of adolescence Although he continues to motivate young Chicanos to read and write Soto stakes his greatest claims to literary prominence through his poems which are accessible to readers of all ages
