World War Two Norman Stone, 2013-01-08 A pacy compelling and penetrating account from Wolfson Prize winning author Norman Stone that shows World War Two in a fresh new light The Second World War is the nightmare that sits at the heart of the modern era a total refutation of any notion of human progress and a conflict which still haunts us seventy years on Norman Stone's gripping new book aims to tell the narrative of the war in as brief a compass as possible making a sometimes familiar story utterly fresh and arresting As with his highly acclaimed World War One A Short History there is a compelling sense of a terrible story unfolding of a sceptical and humorous intelligence at work and a wish to convey to an audience who may well have no memory of the conflict just how high the stakes were This is a beautifully written clever and imaginative attempt to convey what can almost not be conveyed About the author Norman Stone is one of Britain's greatest historians His major works include The Eastern Front 1914 1917 winner of the Wolfson Prize and published by Penguin Europe Transformed and The Atlantic and Its Enemies published by Penguin He has taught at the universities of Cambridge Oxford and Bilkent where he is now Director of the Turkish Russian Centre He lives in Ankara Reviews Professor Norman Stone has achieved the impossible he has somehow written a comprehensive history of the Second World War in just under 200 pages summarising the entire conflict while leaving out nothing of importance and bringing his lifetime of study of the subject to bear in a witty incisive and immensely readable way Norman Stone has proved yet again that he is one of the most original witty and powerful British historians writing today Andrew Roberts Standpoint The joy and strength of this compact history besides its trenchancy and in the publishers words the sceptical and humorous intelligence at work is its narrative clarity a book to clear the mind after the grand tour of the big volumes Allan Mallinson The Times Novices will receive a painless introduction but educated readers should not pass up the highly opinionated prologue and epilogue and the author's trademark acerbic commentary throughout Readers of all stripes will find plenty to ponder Kirkus Reviews

World War II in Global Perspective, 1931-1953 Andrew N. Buchanan, 2019-05-07 A comprehensive review of World War II that offers a global level analysis

Written for academics and students of history World War II in Global Perspective 1931-1953 presents a dynamic and global account of the historical events prior to, during, and after World War II. The author, a noted expert on the topic, explores the main theaters of the war and discusses the connections between them. He also examines the impact of the war on areas of the world that are often neglected in historical accounts, including Latin America, sub-Saharan Africa, and the so-called neutral countries. This comprehensive text clearly shows how, in the struggle against the Axis powers, the United States replaced Britain as the global superpower. The author discusses the Japanese invasion of Manchuria in 1931 and the Korean War, 1950-1953, and argues that the core years of the war, 1939-1945, cannot be understood without considering the turbulent events that framed them. The text puts World War II in context as a series of large regional conflicts that intersected and overlapped, finally emerging as a genuine world war with the formal entry of the United States in late 1941. This vital text offers a comprehensive review of World War II that frames it in a global context. Gives weight to the economic and political developments of the war. Provides a robust account of the main military campaigns. Contains illustrations and maps that themselves highlight little-known aspects of the global war.

A Short History of Film Wheeler Winston Dixon, Gwendolyn Audrey Foster, 2008-03-01. The history of international cinema is now available in a concise, conveniently sized, and affordable volume. Succinct yet comprehensive, A Short History of Film provides an accessible overview of the major movements, directors, studios, and genres from the 1880s to the present. More than 250 rare stills and illustrations accompany the text, bringing readers face-to-face with many of the key players and films that have marked the industry. Beginning with precursors of what we call moving pictures, Wheeler Winston Dixon and Gwendolyn Audrey Foster lead a fast-paced tour through the invention of the kinetoscope, the introduction of sound and color between the two world wars, and ultimately the computer-generated imagery of the present day. They detail significant periods in world cinema, including the early major industries in Europe, the dominance of the Hollywood studio system in the 1930s and 1940s, and the French New Wave of the 1960s. Special attention is also given to small independent efforts in developing nations and the corresponding more personal independent film movement that briefly flourished in the United States; the significant filmmakers of all nations; censorship and regulation; and how they have affected production everywhere and a wide range of studios and genres. Along the way, the authors take great care to incorporate the stories of women and other minority filmmakers who have often been overlooked in other texts. Compact and easily readable, this is the best one-stop source for the history of world film available to students, teachers, and general audiences alike.
