Towards European Science Linda Wedlin,Maria Nedeva,2015-12-18 Since the European Research Area was launched at the beginning of the century significant efforts have been made to realise the vision of a coherent space for science and research in Europe But how does one define such a space and measure its development This timely book analyses the dynamics of change in the policy and governance of science and research within Europe over the past decade It widens the scope of traditional policy analysis by focusing attention on the interaction between policy rationales new governance mechanisms and the organisational dynamics of the scientific field The contributors build a novel analytical framework to understand the European research space as one shifting from a fragmented space of Science in Europe to one that is labeled European Science The chapters explore the dynamics of this shift through the lenses of political science organisation theory science policy and related analytical traditions Towards European Science is an interdisciplinary book which will attract a wide set of scholars and professionals interested in science policy governance and scientific practice It will also be of use to university leaders and managers as well as policy makers and practitioners working on issues of internationalisation and the Europeanisation of science

Encyclopedia of Diversity in Education James A. Banks,2012-05-17 The diversity education literature both nationally and internationally is broad and diffuse Consequently there needs to be a systematic and logical way to organize and present the state of research for students and professionals American citizens need to understand the dynamics of their increasingly diverse communities and institutions and the global world in which we live work and lead With continually evolving information on diversity policies practices and programs it is important to have one place where students scholars teachers and policymakers can examine and explore research policy and practice issues and find answers to important questions about how diversity in U S education enriched with theories research and practices in other nations are explained and communicated and how they affect institutional change at both the K 12 and postsecondary levels With about 700 signed entries with cross references and recommended readings the Encyclopedia of Diversity in Education 4 volumes in both print and electronic formats will present research and statistics case studies and best practices policies and programs at pre and postsecondary levels

Diversity is a worldwide phenomenon and while most of the entries in the Encyclopedia will focus on the United States diversity issues and developments in nations around the world including the United States are intricately connected. Consequently to illuminate the many aspects of diversity this volume will contain entries from different nations in the world in order to illuminate the myriad aspects of diversity. From A to Z this Encyclopedia will cover the full spectrum of diversity issues including race class gender religion language exceptionality and the global dimensions of diversity as they relate to education. This four volume reference work will be the definitive reference for diversity issues in education in the United States and the world.

Legacy of the New Farmers of America, The Antoine J. Alston, Ph.D., Dexter B. Wakefield, Ph.D., and Netta S. Cox, M.S.Ed., M.L.S., 2022 African Americans have contributed greatly to the history of American agriculture. One of its most compelling stories is the New Farmers of America (NFA) which was a national organization of Black farm boys studying vocational agriculture in the public schools throughout 18 states in the eastern and southern United States from 1927 to 1965. The organization was started at the suggestion of Dr. H. O. Sargent, federal agent for agricultural education for Blacks who felt the time was ripe for an organization of Black agricultural students. Operating within the auspices of the Separate but Equal Doctrine, the NFA started at Virginia State University in May 1927 with a few chapters and members and concluded in 1965 with more than 1,000 chapters and more than 58,000 active members merging with the Future Farmers of America (FFA) as a result of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Sources and Methods in African History Toyin Falola, Christian Jennings, 2004 An overview of the ongoing methods used to understand African history. Spurred in part by the ongoing re-evaluation of sources and methods in research, African historiography in the past two decades has been characterized by the continued branching and increasing sophistication of methodologies and areas of specialization. The rate of incorporation of new sources and methods into African historical research shows no signs of slowing. This book is both a snapshot of current academic practice and an attempt to sort through some of the problems scholars face within this unfolding web of sources and methods. The book is divided into five sections, each of which begins with a short introduction by a distinguished Africanist scholar. The first section deals with archaeological contributions to historical research. The second section examines the methodologies involved in deciphering historically accurate African ethnic identities from the records of the trans-Atlantic slave trade. The third section mines old documentary sources for new historical perspectives. The fourth section deals with the method most often associated with African historians, that of drawing historical data from oral tradition. The fifth section is devoted to essays that present innovative sources and methods for African historical research. Together the essays in this cutting edge volume represent the current state of the art in African historical research. Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin. Christian Jennings is a Doctoral Candidate in History at the University of Texas at Austin.
