James McLeskey, Fred Spooner, Bob Algozzine, Nancy, L. Waldron, 2014-05-16 Over the last decade the educational context for students with disabilities has significantly changed primarily as a result of mandates contained in NCLB and IDEA The purpose of this book is to summarize the research literature regarding how students might be provided classrooms and schools that are both inclusive and effective Inclusive schools are defined as places where students with disabilities are valued and active participants in academic and social activities and are given supports that help them succeed Effectiveness is addressed within the current movement toward multi tiered systems of support and evidence based practices that meet the demands of high stakes accountability      Taking on a Learning Disability Erin McCloskey, 2012-08-01 In the United States approximately 2 5 million students are diagnosed as having a learning disability and the majority of those children are placed in special education because of an inability to read as expected As a result of this diagnosis these children may be placed in special education classrooms classrooms that are separate from the mainstream population For children with learning disabilities there is likely no place other than in school where a student s inability to read as expected leads to this separation from his her peers Once school is over these children play alongside the kids in their neighborhoods participate in sports teams and attend community activities This book looks at the impact of being labeled as learning disabled and separated from peers in school through the eyes of Samson a middle school student described both as learning disabled and a non reader This qualitative case study explores how Samson his family his teachers and this researcher make sense of special education and the complexities of learning to read as an adolescent Throughout this book there is a contrasting of the laws and procedures designed to guide special education with the actual experiences of those impacted by these laws and procedures Through the three years that Samson was in middle school this book investigates his perspective on his classes his interpretation of what it means to be a student in special education and the process by which he learns to read How disability gets created contested and discussed is highlighted through the many contexts that allow disability to be recognized and to fade into the background      Reading Instruction for Students who are at Risk Or Have Disabilities William D. Bursuck, Mary Damer, 2007 Organized according to the Reading First categories of reading development and instruction as presented in the report of the National Reading Panel this exciting and timely new text presents teaching strategies for children at risk including children of poverty children for whom English is not their primary language and children with learning and behavioral disabilities These are the children No Child Left Behind challenges teachers to serve more effectively The book is more than a list of teaching strategies that are scientifically validated the scientifically validated practices included are integrated into a systematic teaching process that stresses the use of student outcome data within authentic classroom contexts to guide practice The teaching strategies have been field tested with at risk children in both rural and urban teaching settings Most of the strategies have resulted from work the authors did in their recent four year federally funded model demonstration grant in which they have implemented an extensive reading problem prevention model in grades K 3 in three inner city schools Thus the teaching strategies in the book are ones that the authors implemented every day with at risk children not just findings from research articles Features of this First Edition Include Content organized around the five components validated by the National Reading Panel phonemic awareness phonics fluency vocabulary and comprehension Readers learn how to use DIBELS and other curriculum based assessment results for early identification of children at risk of reading failure and to monitor student progress A unique feature is using DIBELS assessments to pinpoint student skill development as they acquire alphabetic principle Accompanying DVD shows teacher explicitly teaching letter sound recognition regular word decoding sight words multisyllable word reading passage reading vocabulary and comprehension Text explains how to use Differentiated Instruction to maximize learning for all students Specific strategies are detailed for implementing Response To Intervention RTI multi tier instruction during the reading block Examines building vocabulary knowledge through direct and indirect teaching strategies Comprehension strategies identified by the National Reading Panel that help students derive meaning from text are emphasized Strategies for individualizing instruction for adolescents and children who are bilingual and or ESL are included within each chapter Effective strategies for managing classroom behavior including instruction groups are provided so that student behavior does not interfere with reading instruction *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
