

A Thousand Peaks

Poems from China

by Siyu Liu and Orel Protopopescu
Illustrated by Siyu Liu

A Thousand Peaks introduces young readers to the art of classical Chinese poetry. China's poets have created shi, poems that follow strict rules about structure and rhythm, for several thousand years. Here are thirty-five shi from the Han dynasty to the modern era, in English and Chinese. Faithful but inventive translations suggest the astonishing beauty of the original poems. The accompanying text describes the world of these poets and the culture that inspired them. May today's young readers read these poems with as much delight as did previous generations?

Siyu Liu was born in China. She is a graduate of Qinghua University and Jinghua Art School, and holds a master's degree in architecture from State University of New York at Buffalo. An architect and artist, she lives in Wading River, New York.

Orel Protopopescu, author, poet, and educator, leads seminars for teachers on creative writing and conducts prose and poetry workshops for students of all ages. Previous publications include two books for children, poetry, and a handbook on teaching writing. She lives with her family on Long Island.

Wise Bauer, Susan Wise Bauer, 2004-09-28 Presents a history of the ancient world from 6000 B C to 400 A D Five Hundred Years of Chinese Poetry, 1150-1650 Kojiro Yoshikawa, John Timothy Wixted, 2014-07-14 Five Hundred Years of Chinese Poetry offers the only historical survey in any language of this important span of Chinese poetry Written by the foremost Japanese sinologist of this century and translated here in a lucid analogue to his famous prose style the work provides a brief but comprehensive review of the period s literary history a sketch of its political and social history in relation to literature and a rendering of more than one hundred and fifty poems Originally published in 1989 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Chinese Paintings in Chinese Publications, 1956-1968 Ellen Laing, 1969 This bibliography includes publications issued between 1956 and August 1968 that reproduce Chinese paintings now in Chinese public or private collections The great majority of these publications were produced in Mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong or Japan Each publication included in the bibliography has been provided with a detailed physical description of the publication itself the amounts of text the number of plates in color and in monochrome and a general evaluation of the quality of the reproductions The title by which each work is referred to in the index is included at the end of each entry Chinese Literature James L. Claren, 2002 Chinese literature one of the world's oldest and richest and consisting originally of poetry and later of drama and fiction may be divided into three major historical periods that roughly correspond to those of Western literary history the classical period from the 6th century BC to the 2nd century AD the medieval period from the third century to the late 12th century and the modern period from the 13th century to the present This book presents an overview of Chinese literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography primarily of English language sources accessed by subject author and title indexes

The Heart of Chinese Poetry Greg Whincup, 1987-09-16 Greg Whincup offers a varied and unique approach to Chinese translation in The Heart of Chinese Poetry Special features of this edition include direct word for word translations showing the range of meaning in each Chinese character the Chinese pronunciations as well as biographical and historical commentary following each poem One Hundred Poems from the Chinese Kenneth Rexroth, 1956 The lyrical world of Chinese poetry in faithful translations by Kenneth Rexroth Chinese Approaches to Literature from Confucius to Liang Ch'i-Ch'ao Adele Austin Rickett, 2015-03-08 These essays by Chinese and Western scholars treat selected aspects of Chinese literary theory history and criticism from the age of Confucius to the beginning of the twentieth century The topics examined include Confucius as a literary critic Donald Holzman the view of ch'i or vital force as a decisive element in creative writing David Pollard the literary theories of the eleventh century poet and essayist Ou yang Hsiu Yu shih Chen and his contemporary Huang T'ing chien Adele Rickett and the seventeenth century philosopher poet Wang Fu chih Siu kit Wong Other essays consider the Ch'ang ch'ou School of the Ch'ing dynasty Florence Chia ying Yeh Chao the distinctive methods of criticism applied to the Dream of the Red Chamber by the Chih yen chai commentators John Wang and the educative function of fiction as outlined by Liang Ch'i ch'ao and Yen Fu at the turn of the century C T Hsia Originally published in 1978 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Chinese Women Writers and the Feminist Imagination, 1905-1948 Haiping Yan, 2006-11-22 Chinese Women Writers and the Feminist Imagination 1905-1948 provides a compelling study of leading women writers in modern China charting their literary works and life journeys to examine the politics and poetics of Chinese transcultural feminism that exceed the boundaries of bourgeois feminist selfhood Unlike recent literary studies that focus on the discursive formation of the modern Chinese nation state and its gendering effects Haiping Yan explores the radical degrees to which Chinese women writers re-invented their lives alongside their writings in distinctly conditioned and fundamentally revolutionary ways. The book draws on these women's voluminous works and dramatic lives to illuminate the range of Chinese women's literary and artistic achievements and offers vital sources for exploring the history and legacy of twentieth-century Chinese feminist consciousness and its centrality in the Chinese Revolution. It will be of great interest to scholars of gender studies, literary and cultural studies, and performance studies.

The History of Chinese Ceramics Lili Fang, 2023-05-23

Adopting the perspective of anthropology of art and combining it with global academic insights, this book helps the readers to recognize that history is in great measure the record of human activity which spreads from the local to the regional, from the regional to the global, and from the global to the universal. Readers will learn that China was not only the first country to create porcelain but also the first to export it to the world, both the products and its techniques. Therefore, the history of Chinese ceramics reflects the history of Chinese foreign trade on the one hand and depicts the expansion of Chinese ceramic techniques and cultures on the other. In addition to ceramics types, molds, decoration, and techniques, the book analyzes the spiritual impacts and aesthetic conceptions embodied in the utensils of daily use by the Chinese literati. Therefore, it reaches the conclusion that ideological systems, and not technological systems, are what bring about social revolutions. In addition, the book is richly illustrated with pictures of earthenware and finely glazed pieces from later periods.
