All the World Is Awry R. Kevin Lacey, 2021-12-01 Free thinking poet grammarian social critic and satirist Ab al Al Ma'arr 973-1057 CE remains one of the more celebrated and intriguing personalities in the history of Arab Islamic civilization Although the controversies surrounding his skepticism cynicism and anticlericalism have never been completely resolved his more disquieting writings are commonly available in the Arab world cited in standard histories of Arabic literature and the subject of scholarly studies Al Ma arr is universally recognized as a giant among the litterateurs of Islam deservedly famous for the role that he played in the development of Arabic verse as a more serious vehicle of religious political thought and social criticism The centrality attributed to al Ma arr as innovator has been linked to a strain of inquiry that has been particularly paramount to Westerners To what extent did al Ma arr and other unconventional thinkers stray from the course of mainstream Islamic thought In this book R Kevin Lacey places al Ma arr within the broader context of Arab Islamic political and intellectual history up to the mid eleventh century and identifies the coherencies and incoherencies within his overall thought in an effort to determine the extent to which he deviated from his inherited faith Al Ma arr and his like were hardly representative and their imprint on their co religionists may be questionable but they must be taken into consideration in order to do full justice to the intellectual history of Islam

Relational Syllogisms and the History of Arabic Logic, 900-1900 Khaled El-Rouayheb, 2010-06-14 Relational inferences are a well known problem for Aristotelian logic This book charts the development of thinking about this anomaly from the beginnings of the Arabic logical tradition in the tenth century to the end of the nineteenth Based in large part on hitherto unstudied manuscripts and rare books the study shows that the problem of relational inferences was vigorously debated in the thirteenth fourteenth and fifteenth centuries In the course of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Ottoman logicians writing in Arabic came to recognize relational inferences as a distinct kind of unfamiliar syllogism and began to investigate their logic These findings show that the development of Arabic logic did not as is often supposed come to an end in the fourteenth century On the contrary Arabic logic was still being developed by critical and fecund reflections as late as the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries
