A Splintered Mirror Chinese Poetry From The Democracy Movement:

A Splintered Mirror, 1991-02-01 A Splintered Mirror gathers together poems by seven of the Chinese Misty Poets whose writings proved one of the first signs of the democracy movement in China. Published clandestinely or pasted upon walls, Misty poetry quietly exploded the rigid structures of official Chinese poetry, presenting a new poetics infused with personal emotions and private imagery. This collection displays the full range of human concerns, often poignant, evocative, and bittersweet expressions of personal longing. Gu Cheng's stubborn dreams, Mang Ke's weaving of time, nature, and emotion, Duo Duo's sharp self-mocking anger, and Bei Dao's vision of art as a splintered mirror. A Splintered Mirror, 1991-01-01

China's Search for Democracy: The Students and Mass Movement of 1989 Suzanne Ogden, Kathleen Hartford, Nancy Sullivan, David Zweig, 2016-09-16 Within a framework of analysis and background by the four editors, this book presents a view from the grassroots of the 1989 student and mass movement in China and its tragic consequences. Here are the core eyewitness and participant accounts expressed through wall posters, students' speeches, movement declarations, handbills, and other documents. In their introductions to the material, the editors address the political economy of the democracy movement, the evolving concept of democracy during the movement, the movement's contribution to China becoming a civil society, and the changing view of the Chinese Communist Party by students, intellectuals, workers, and others as the crisis unfolded.

Chinese Poetry and Translation Maghiel Crevel, Lucas Klein, 2025-10-01 Chinese Poetry and Translation: Rights and Wrongs offers fifteen essays on the triptych of poetry translation: Chinese, The, and Translation. The collection has three parts: The Translator's Take, Theoretics, and Impact. The conversation stretches from queer feminist engagement with China's newest poetry to philosophical and philological reflections on its oldest, and from Tang and Song dynasty classical poetry in Western languages to Baudelaire and Celan in Chinese. Translation is taken as an interlingual and intercultural act, and the essays foreground theoretical expositions and the practice of translation in equal but not opposite measure. Poetry has a transforming yet ever acute relevance in Chinese culture, and this makes it a good entry point for studying Chinese foreign encounters. Pushing past oppositions that still too often restrict discussions of translation: form versus content, elegance versus accuracy, and the original versus the translated, this volume brings a wealth of new thinking to the interrelationships between poetry translation and China. Stretching from queer feminist engagement with China's newest poetry to philological reflection on its oldest, this book brings a wealth of new thinking to the interrelationships between poetry translation and China. Chinese Poetry in Times of Mind, Mayhem and Money Maghiel van Crevel, 2008-10-02 Chinese Poetry in Times of Mind, Mayhem and Money is a groundbreaking study covering a range of contemporary authors and issues, from Haizi to Yin Lichuan, and from poetic rhythm to exile bashing. Its rigorous scholarship, literary sensitivity, and lively style make it eminently fit for classroom use.

Between the Lines: Yang Lian's Poetry through Translation Cosima Bruno, 2012-06-08 In Between the Lines Cosima Bruno illustrates how the study of translation can enhance our experience of reading poetry By inquiring into the mutual dependence of the source text and its translation the study offers both theoretical insights and methodological tools that bring in depth stylistic analysis to bear on the translations as against the originals Through such a process of discovery Cosima Bruno elaborates a textual exegesis of the work by Yang Lian one of the most translated and critically acclaimed contemporary Chinese poets This book thus reconciles the theory/practice divide in translation studies as well as helps to dismantle the lingering Eurocentrism still present in the discipline

Transcultural Poetics Yifeng Sun, Dechao Li, 2023-02-09 This book examines many facets of transcultural poetics in the English translation of Chinese literature from 12 different expert contributors Translating Chinese literature into English is a special challenge There is a pressing need to overcome a slew of obstacles to the understanding and appreciation of Chinese literary works by readers in the English speaking world Hitherto only intermittent attempts have been made to theorize and explore the exact role of the translator as a cultural and aesthetic mediator informed by cross cultural knowledge awareness and sensitivity Given the complexity of literary translation sophisticated poetics of translation in terms of literary value and aesthetic taste needs to be developed and elaborated more fully from a cross cultural perspective It is therefore necessary to examine attempts to reconcile the desire for authentic transmission of Chinese culture with the need for cultural mediation and appropriation in terms of the production and reception of texts subject to the multiplicity of constraints in order to shed new light on the longstanding conundrum of Chinese English literary translation by addressing Chinese literature in the multiple contexts of nationalism cross cultural hybridity literary untranslatability the reception of translation and also world literature The book will be of great interest to students and scholars of translation studies Chinese literature and East Asian studies Chinese Literature in the Second Half of a Modern Century Pang-Yuan Chi, David Der-wei Wang, 2000-09-22 an important contribution to the study of recent Chinese literature Choice This fine scholarly survey of Chinese literature since 1949 discusses such trends as modernism nativism realism root seeking and scar literature misty poets and political feminist and societal issues in modern Chinese literature Library Journal This volume is a survey of modern Chinese literature in the second half of the twentieth century It has three goals 1 to introduce figures works movements and debates that constitute the dynamics of Chinese literature from 1949 to the end of the century 2 to depict the enunciative endeavors ranging from ideological treatises to avant garde experiments that inform the polyphonic discourse of Chinese cultural politics 3 to observe the historical factors that enacted the interplay of literary post modernities across the Chinese communities in the Mainland Taiwan Hong Kong and overseas A Study Guide for Bei Dao's "All" Gale, Cengage Learning, 2016 A Study Guide for Bei Dao's All excerpted from Gale's acclaimed Poetry for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further reading and much more For any literature project trust Poetry for Students for all of your research needs Transpacific Displacement Yunte Huang, 2002-02-06 Yunte Huang has produced a fascinating study of what he calls textual travelling which is to say the transformation of poetic texts in this case Chinese ones at the hands of American scholars editors translators and especially poets This brave and highly original study is sure to raise controversy Marjorie Perloff author of Wittgenstein's Ladder East Asian Social Movements Jeffrey Broadbent, Vicky Brockman, 2011-01-07 In the study of civil society and social movements most cases are based in Western Europe and North America These two areas of the world have similar histories and political ideals and structures in common which in turn affect the structure of its civil society In studying civil society in Asia a different understanding of history politics and society is needed The region's long traditions of centralized authoritarian states buttressed by Confucian and in some cases Communist ideologies may render this concept irrelevant The chapters in this international volume cover most of the areas and countries traditionally defined as belonging to East Asia Japan Taiwan South Korea Hong Kong Singapore and China The case studies included in this volume confront the utility of using the Western concept of civil society represented in its most active form social movements to think about East Asia popular politics Along with providing an array of important case studies of social movements in East Asia the introduction
