Action in Elementary Social Studies David W. Van Cleef, 1991 M CREATED Measuring History S. G. Grant, 2009-03-01 Measuring History complements the cases presented in Wise Social Studies Practices Yeager Davis 2005 Yeager and Davis highlight the rich and ambitious teaching that can occur in the broad context of state level testing In this book the chapter authors and I bring the particular state history tests more to the fore and examine how teachers are responding to them At the heart of Measuring History are cases of classroom teachers in seven states Florida Kentucky Michigan New York Texas Mississippi and Virginia where new social studies standards and new and generally high stakes state level history tests are prominent In these chapters the authors describe and analyze the state s testing efforts and how those efforts are being interpreted in the context of classroom practice The results both support and challenge prevailing views on the efficacy of testing as a vehicle for educational reform Catherine Horn University of Houston and I lay the groundwork for the case studies through a set of introductory chapters that examine the current environment the research literature and the technical qualities of history tests Illiteracy in America National Advisory Council on Adult Education (U.S.). Literacy Committee,1986 Constructivism and the New Social Studies Geoffrey Scheurman,Ronald W. Evans,2018-07-01 The New Social Studies refers to a flurry of academic and commercial activity during the 1960s and 1970s that resulted in the mass development and dissemination of revolutionary classroom materials and teacher resources In science as well as social studies a spirit of inquiry based teaching filled the air during this time resulting in the development of curricula that were both pedagogically innovative and intellectually rigorous Constructivism and the New Social Studies contains a collection of classic lessons from some of the most successful projects of the era providing a resource of exceptional ideas and materials that have stood the test of time These revealing artifacts are presented with commentaries from some of the original directors of major projects including Edwin Fenton Barry Beyer and Suzanne Helburn In addition to American and World History groundbreaking lessons are represented in Economics Government Sociology and Geography including the Public Issues Series Fred Newann The Amherst History Project Richard Brown and Geoffrey Scheurman and Teaching American History The Quest for Relevancy Allan Kownslar Gerald Ponder and Geneva Gay and Man A Course of Study Peter Dow With a Foreword by Jerome Bruner the volume not only provides a resource of exceptional curriculum ideas and actual materials it also builds a lucid bridge between the theoretical ideas of constructivism and the pedagogical principles of inquiry learning With over 50 years of expertise from curriculum history and social studies pedagogy the editors make the case that guided inquiry as presented in these projects was constructivist by design offering a range of instructional methods that begin with questions rather than answers and considers progress in terms of the development of analytical skills and experimental habits of mind rather than the mere acquisition of knowledge Projects developed during the New Social Studies serve as both an interesting historical archive of powerful curricular innovations as well as a treasure trove of actual lessons and materials still useful in social studies classrooms striving to become more constructivist The lessons and other materials we chose should be relevant if you are an historian researcher theorist or teacher of any subject but it will be especially significant if you are interested in the nature of social civic or historical literacy in America including how to teach for authentic achievement in those areas Social Studies Assessment Grades 3-4 C Ryan,1994-06 The Technology Fix William D. Pflaum,2004 An inside look at how schools throughout the United States are incorporating education technology in daily instruction Children in Jeopardy Irving Brooks Harris,1996-01-01 Harris a successful businessman has devoted himself to children s causes for the past forty years and has initiated and funded numerous programs geared to children and families He presents data from research in pediatrics social work nursing psychology and education showing that children who receive early nurturing and stimulation are far more likely to have success in school and in life The Complete Sourcebook on Children's Software Children's Software Review,2001-03 5000 critical
