BACKGROUND INFORMATIONWhat is breathing?

Breathing is the process that moves air in and out of the body (lungs). It enables oxygen to enter the body and carbon dioxide to be expelled.

Why is breathing so necessary for life?

The oxygen in the air is needed for the oxidation of food to release energy during respiration. This energy is used to perform the work needed to keep cells and organisms alive. Carbon dioxide is released during respiration and must be expelled, otherwise it will lower the pH of body fluids.

What is gaseous exchange?

There is an exchange of gases in the lungs. When we breath in, oxygen in the inhaled air in the lungs diffuses into the blood from the alveoli. Carbon dioxide diffuses from the blood into the alveoli and is breathed out.

What is the breathing mechanism?

The breathing mechanism allows for pulmonary ventilation, commonly known as 'breathing'. This is the process of moving air into and out of the lungs. Air flows into the lungs during inspiration (inhalation) and out of the lungs during expiration (exhalation). Air flows because of pressure differences between the atmosphere and the gases inside the lungs.

June Exemplars 2014 Caps Life Science:

Contemporary Climate Change Debates Mike Hulme, 2019-11-27 Contemporary Climate Change Debates is an innovative new textbook which tackles some of the difficult questions raised by climate change. For the complex policy challenges surrounding climate migration, adaptation and resilience, structured debates become effective learning devices for students. This book is organised around 15 important questions and is split into four parts: What do we need to know? What should we do? On what grounds should we base our actions? Who should be the agents of change? Each debate is addressed by pairs of one or two leading or emerging academics who present opposing viewpoints. Through this format, the book is designed to introduce students of climate change to different arguments prompted by these questions and also provides a unique opportunity for them to engage in critical thinking and debate amongst themselves. Each chapter concludes with suggestions for further reading and with discussion questions for use in student classes. Drawing upon the sciences, social sciences and humanities to debate these ethical, cultural, legal, social, economic, technological and political roadblocks, Contemporary Debates on Climate Change is essential reading for all students of climate change as well as those studying environmental policy and politics and sustainable development more broadly.
