Routledge Handbook of the Global South in Sport for Development and Peace Billy Graeff, Simona Šafaříková, Lin Cherurbai Sambili-Gicheha, 2024-07-18. This book explores the field of Sport for Development and Peace (SDP), putting Global South voices and perspectives at the centre of the analysis. Covering a wide range of thematic and methodological areas that inform existing and emerging discourses in SDP, it represents an unparalleled resource for researchers and practitioners working in this area. Arranged into geographical sections covering Africa, Asia, South America, North America, and Oceania, the book presents original research in Global South countries or by Global South researchers and practitioners, sometimes in collaboration with colleagues from the Global North. It highlights practices and theories created, developed, interpreted, and reinterpreted by people who belong to the communities where these sporting experiences have been taking place and whose critical reflections and experiences have yet to gain attention in international academic and practitioner communities in the English language. The book presents the views of diverse stakeholders: programme participants, promoters, coaching staff, volunteers, researchers, teachers, lecturers, and other actors that have been difficult to access for researchers who do not usually speak languages other than English. A landmark publication in the field of SDP, this book is essential reading for any advanced student, research practitioner, or policy maker with an interest in the value of sport in international development.

Gender and the Environment: Building Evidence and Policies to Achieve the SDGs OECD, 2021-05-21. Gender equality and environmental goals are mutually reinforcing, with slow progress on environmental actions affecting the achievement of gender equality and vice versa. Progress towards the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) requires targeted and coherent actions.

Careers in Law: A Guide for Students, Graduates and Professionals Manda Raz, Erwin Loh, John Devereux, 2020-09-07. This book addresses the difficult decisions in the life of law students, graduates, and young law professionals in deciding the area of legal practice to pursue as a career. The number of legal fields and subfields is over one hundred, making it virtually impossible for an upcoming lawyer to explore all of these career avenues. Many students finish law school with little understanding of what specific law careers involve, for example, or what sports or space lawyers routinely do. This book highlights the time-consuming nature of law education and training that causes a lack of experience in legal fields, as being able to successfully determine the right legal profession for the student. Finding a law career that is a significant source of satisfaction is a function of serious thinking and active research, which the current university-to-legal practice does not facilitate. This book is a practical guide for any student or current lawyer who is deciding and evaluating their future legal profession.
