Rabil, 2016-07-29 This book examines the unfolding of the Syrian refugee crisis in relation to the spillover of the Syrian civil war in Lebanon and against the background of Lebanon Syria relations and Lebanon's socio political cultural legal and economic conditions It surveys Lebanon's response plans to the refugee crisis as part of the development of the international response plans to address the protection and needs of the Syrian refugees and Palestinian refugees from Syria as well as the impacted host communities and institutions At the same time this book emphasizes the dramatic shift in popular and institutional attitudes towards the refugees as a response to and as a growth of the sheer magnitude of the refugee crisis which made Lebanon the only country in modern history with the highest per capita concentration of refugees in the world By examining these attitudes against the background of achievements and failures of the response plans the impact of the crisis on state institutions on the local and national levels and the collective consciousness of a nation barely surviving the scars of its civil war this book not only underscores the deepening tragedy of Syrian and Palestinian refugees in Lebanon but also the consequential tragedy of many Lebanese who have been forced into poverty and whose livelihoods have been affected by insecurity and the almost complete collapse of social services As a result the tragedy of the Syrian refugee crisis has become an international crisis affecting vulnerable persons across nationalities and unless it is addressed diplomatically and its response plans sufficiently funded the tragedy will only deepen across continents Governing the World's Biggest Market Eric Helleiner, Stefano Pagliari, Irene Spagna, 2018 What has been done since the 2008 financial crisis to reform the regulation of derivatives markets The volume analyzes the goals limitations and unexpected outcomes associated with post crisis international initiatives to regulate these markets as well as the different transnational inter state and domestic political dynamics that have shaped these outcomes Canadian Clinical Nursing Skills and Techniques E-Book Shelley Cobbett, Anne G. Bank Politics David Howarth,Scott James,2022-11-03 The problem of banks being too big to fail was the defining regulatory issue of the global financial crisis However attempts to tackle the problem by separating retail banking from higher risk trading activities known as structural reform proved to be highly divisive and contributed to significant regulatory divergence. In this book David Howarth and Scott James explain this variation by examining the politics of bank structural reform across six key jurisdictions: the United States, the European Union, the United Kingdom, France, Germany, and the Netherlands. Integrating political economy and public policy approaches, they develop a novel comparative financial power framework to analyse how financial industry influence is mediated by two factors: first, whether bank lobbying is unified and centralized, cooperative financial power or divided and fragmented, competitive financial power; and second, policy makers' use of venue shifting to depoliticize contentious policy issues. The book explains that the US and UK governments implemented major reforms because the banking industry was divided and faced significant opposition. However, venue shifting to an independent committee led to durable reform in the UK, while political polarization in the US contributed to contested reform. By contrast, the French and German governments balanced unified bank lobbying and political pressures to act by pursuing limited symbolic reforms. The Dutch government deflected the issue through delegation to multiple commissions, no reform, while political stalemate at the EU level resulted from early venue shifting and concerted pan-European bank lobbying. The book makes a major contribution to scholarship on the political economy of finance and business power. India Social Development Report 2023 Indira Hirway, 2024-01-20. This report highlights that gender inequalities and women's subordination in India are caused by two formidable macro structures: patriarchy and the exclusion of unpaid work from the macro economy. Both these structures reinforce each other and negatively impact women's empowerment. Patriarchy imposes subordination on women and forces a disproportionately higher share of unpaid domestic services and unpaid care onto them. This is unfair and unjust, a violation of basic human rights. Other structures like race, religion, and caste cut across these main structures. The selected papers in this report show how patriarchy causes gender inequalities in all critical dimensions of women's life: on the one hand, and how unpaid domestic services and unpaid care sustains the macro economy and its growth on the other. The contributors discuss pathways to integrate unpaid work with the macro economy such that the strength of patriarchy declines and at the same time gender equality is promoted. To put it differently, unless the structures are addressed by integrating unpaid work, inequalities cannot be addressed effectively. The report emphasizes that this is the only way to move to real macroeconomics. The papers have explored pathways to break these structures gradually to achieve gender equality and empower women. Though the path is challenging, it is feasible to reach the goal of pervasive gender equality. The Massachusetts register, 2016. Yearbook of Muslims in Europe, Volume 7 Oliver Scharbrodt, Samim Akgönül, Ahmet Alibašić, Jørgen Nielsen, Egdūnas Raciūnas, 2016-04-26.
