The Stone Carvers By Jane Urquhart:

The Stone Carvers Jane Urquhart, 2014-09-18 Set in the first half of the twentieth century but reaching back to Bavaria in the late nineteenth century The Stone Carvers weaves together the story of ordinary lives marked by obsession and transformed by art At the centre of a large cast of characters is Klara Becker the granddaughter of a master carver a seamstress haunted by a love affair cut short by the First World War and by the frequent disappearances of her brother Tilman afflicted since childhood with wanderlust From Ontario they are swept into a colossal venture in Europe years later as Toronto sculptor Walter Allward's ambitious plans begin to take shape for a war memorial at Vimy France Spanning three decades and moving from a German settled village in Ontario to Europe after the Great War The Stone Carvers follows the paths of immigrants labourers and dreamers Vivid dark redemptive this is novel of great beauty and power Jane Urquhart

Laura Ferri, 2005 Jane Urquhart has published three books of poetry a collection of short stories and five best selling novels Her fiction has won many honours including Canada's 1997 Governor General's Award and France's prestigious Prix du Meilleur Livre Etranger She lives in Ontario Canada The essays in this book investigate Jane Urquhart's interweaving of historical events myth folk tales journeys and landscape with her acute perceptions of memory and self transformation The many critical voices in this collection invite readers to consider Jane Urquhart's very special vision of the world one made up of migrations dreams spiritual quests and prophecy Along with an interview with Urquhart recorded by the editor there are essays by David Staines Allan Hepburn T F Rigelhof Mary Conde Caterina Ricciardi John Moss Marlene Goldman and Anne Compton Resurgence in Jane Urquhart's Œuvre ; [inspired by the 48th Conference of Professors of English at the University of Orléans (May 16-18, 2008)] Héliane Daziron-Ventura, Marta Dvorak, 2010 This volume was inspired by the 48th Conference of Professors of English at the University of Orleans May 16 18 2008 A Map of Glass Jane

Urquhart, 2006 Jerome is a young earth artist spending a few months on an island in Lake Ontario But his idyll is shattered when he discovers a man frozen in the ice near the shore One year later Sylvia the dead man's lover appears at his studio driven by the need to recount her story to the stranger who discovered him A tender and haunting story unfolds which stretches long and wide a story that begins with Sylvia's childhood and mysterious illness and ends with her lover's tragic death This deeply evocative and romantic novel is about the fragility of love and memory and the redemptive power of stories

Changing Heaven Jane Urquhart, 2014-09-18 Two worlds are intertwined in this hauntingly beautiful story as it moves from Toronto to the English moors and to Venice Italy The time frame shifts between present and past linking the lives of a young Bront scholar a woman in the throes of a troubled love affair a turn of the century female balloonist and an elusive explorer with the ghost or the memory of Emily Bront Urquhart reveals something about the act of artistic creation the ways in which stories enter our lives and about the cyclical nature of love throughout time This is a novel of darkness and light of intense weather and inner calm Away Jane Urquhart, 2014-09-18 A stunning evocative novel set in Ireland and Canada

Away traces a family's complex and layered past. The narrative unfolds with shimmering clarity and takes us from the harsh northern Irish coast in the 1840s to the quarantine stations at Grosse Isle and the barely hospitable land of the Canadian Shield from the flourishing town of Port Hope to the flooded streets of Montreal from Ottawa at the time of Confederation to a large windowed house at the edge of a Great Lake during the present day. Graceful and moving, Away unites the personal and the political as it explores the most private, often darkest corners of our emotions where the things that root us to ourselves endure. Powerful, intricate, lyrical, Away is an unforgettable novel. "Alternative Landscapes" Frank Durnford, 2003

The Underpainter Jane Urquhart, 2014-09-18 The Underpainter is a novel of interwoven lives in which the world of art collides with the realm of human emotion. It is the story of Austin Fraser, an American painter now in his later years who is haunted by memories of those whose lives most deeply touched his own, including a young Canadian soldier and a china painter and the beautiful model who becomes Austin's mistress. Spanning decades, the setting moves from upstate New York to the northern shores of two Great Lakes from France in World War One to New York City in the 20s and 30s. Brilliantly depicting landscape and the geography of the imagination, The Underpainter is Jane Urquhart's most accomplished novel to date. Sanctuary Line Jane Urquhart, 2011-12-22 Solitary, nostalgic Liz Crane returns to her family's now deserted farmhouse to study the migratory habits of the Monarch butterfly. A rich family history, all the anecdotes and blarney of successful Irish immigrants is now tainted with sadness. Her cousin Amanda, a gifted military strategist, has been killed in Afghanistan, a loss foreshadowed by the earlier disappearance of her charismatic father. Reflecting on the fragility and transience of human life and relations mirrored in the Monarch's restless flight, Liz finds that love is there to be found where you least expect it. Catching the Torch Neta Gordon, 2014-03-25 Catching the Torch examines contemporary novels and plays written about Canada's participation in World War I. Exploring such works as Jane Urquhart's The Underpainter and The Stone Carvers, Jack Hodgins's Broken Ground, Kevin Kerr's Unity 1918, Stephen Massicotte's Mary's Wedding, and Frances Itani's Deafening, the book considers how writers have dealt with the compelling myth that the Canadian nation was born in the trenches of the Great War. In contrast to British and European remembrances of WWI which tend to regard it as a cataclysmic destroyer of innocence or Australian myths that promote an ideal of outsize masculinity, physical bravery, and white superiority, contemporary Canadian texts conjure up notions of distinctively Canadian values: tolerance of ethnic difference, the ability to do one's duty without complaint or arrogance, and the inclination to show moral as well as physical courage. Paradoxically, Canadians are shown to decry the horrors of war while making use of its productive cultural effects. Through a close analysis of the way sacrifice, service, and the commemoration of war are represented in these literary works, Catching the Torch argues that iterations of a secure, mythic notion of national identity, one that is articulated via the representation of straightforward civic and military participation, work to counter current anxieties about the stability of the nation-state in particular anxieties about the failure of the ideal of a national character. Comparing Grief in French,

British and Canadian Great War Fiction (1977-2014) Anna Branach-Kallas,Piotr Sadkowski,2018-09-24 Comparing Grief in French British and Canadian Great War Fiction 1977 2014 offers a comparative analysis of twenty three First World War novels Engaging with such themes as war trauma facial disfigurement women s war identities communal bonds as well as the concepts of mourning and post memory Anna Branach Kallas and Piotr Sadkowski identify the dominant trends in recent French British and Canadian fiction about the Great War Referring to historical sociological philosophical and literary sources they show how by both consolidating and contesting national myths fiction continues to construct the 1914 1918 conflict as a cultural trauma illuminating at the same time some of our most recent ethical concerns Making Memory Alana M Vincent,2014-11-27 The twentieth century has been called a century of horror Proof of that designation can be found in the vast and ever increasing volume of scholarly work on violence trauma memory and history across diverse academic disciplines This book demonstrates not only the ways in which the wars of the twentieth century have altered theological engagement and religious practice but also the degree to which religious ways of thinking have shaped the way we construct historical narratives Drawing on diverse sources from the Hebrew Bible to Commonwealth war graves from Greek tragedy to post Holocaust theology Alana M Vincent probes the intersections between past and present memory and identity religion and nationality The result is a book that defies categorization and offers no easy answers but instead pursues an agenda of theological realism holding out continued hope for the restoration of the world RE: Reading the Postmodern Robert David Stacey,2011-01-14 It would be difficult to exaggerate the worldwide impact of postmodernism on the fields of cultural production and the social sciences over the last quarter century even if the concept has been understood in various even contradictory ways An interest in postmodernism and postmodernity has been especially strong in Canada in part thanks to the country s non monolithic approach to history and its multicultural understanding of nationalism which seems to align with the decentralized plural and open ended pursuit of truth as a multiple possibility as outlined by Jean Fran ois Lyotard In fact long before Lyotard published his influential work The Postmodern Condition in 1979 Canadian writers and critics were employing the term to describe a new kind of writing RE Reading the Postmodern marks a first cautious step toward a history of Canadian postmodernism exploring the development of the idea of the postmodern and debates about its meaning and its applicability to various genres of Canadian writing and charting its decline in recent years as a favoured critical trope Published in English Boys and Girls in No Man's Land Susan Fisher,Susan R. Fisher,2011-01-01 Drawing on educational materials textbooks adventure tales plays and Sunday school papers Boys and Girls in No Man s Land explores the role of children in the nation s war effort *Hey Baby!
