Seeing is a cultural and intellectual history of people with mental illnesses in the twentieth century United States While acknowledging the fraught and often violent histories of American psychiatric hospitals Heather Murray also suggests that it is in these hospitals that patients became more intense observers they gave more conscious consideration to institutional and broader kinds of citizenship to the nature and needs of communities versus those of individuals to scientific modernity and to human rights and solidarities among the suffering All of these ideas have animated twentieth century America and as Murray shows have not just flowed into psychiatric hospitals but outward from them as well These themes are especially clear within patients intimate creative and political correspondence writings and drawings as well as in hospital publications and films This way of thinking and imagining contrasts with more common images of the patient as passive resigned and absented from the world in the cloistered setting of the hospital that have animated psychiatry over the course of the twentieth century Asylum Ways of Seeing traces how it is that patient resignation went from being interpreted as wisdom in the early twentieth century to being understood as a capitulation in scientific and political sources by mid century to being seen as a profound violation of selfhood and individual rights by the century s end In so doing it makes a call to reconsider the philosophical possibilities within resignation The NIH Record ,1999 Brief Interventions for Adolescent Alcohol and Substance Abuse Peter M. Monti,Suzanne M. Colby,Tracy O'Leary Tevyaw,2018-05-04 Bringing together leading experts this book demonstrates the unique value of brief motivational interventions for addressing adolescent alcohol and other substance use in a range of clinical contexts It presents cutting edge knowledge on the etiology and developmental context of adolescent addictive behaviors and reviews exemplary treatment approaches Effective strategies are described for intervening with
