Road to Nowhere Paris Marx, 2025-08-12 How to build a transportation system to provide mobility for all Road to Nowhere exposes the flaws in Silicon Valley s vision of the future ride hailing services such as Uber and Lyft to take us anywhere electric cars to make them green and automation to ensure transport is cheap and ubiquitous Such promises are implausible and potentially dangerous As Paris Marx shows these technological visions are a threat to our ideas of what a society should be Electric cars are not a silver bullet for sustainability and autonomous vehicles won t guarantee road safety There will not be underground tunnels to eliminate traffic congestion and micromobility services will not replace car travel any sooner than we will see the arrival of the long awaited flying car In response Marx offers a vision for a more collective way of organizing transportation systems that considers the needs of poor marginalized and vulnerable people The book argues that rethinking mobility can be the first step in a broader reimagining of how we design and live in our future cities We must create streets that allow for social interaction and conviviality We need reasons to get out of our cars and to use public means of transit determined by community needs rather than algorithmic control Such decisions should be guided by the search for quality of life rather than for profit
