

Chemicals Required

NB Ensure that all reagents are bulked before distributed.

1 The chemicals required are described in general terms below.

2 Where quantities are specified for each candidate (shown against each listed item), they are meant as guides only and are quantities greater than candidates will normally need to use. It is suggested that about 80% of the specified quantities should be distributed to candidates with the remainder kept as a central reserve. More material may be supplied if requested by candidates, without penalty.

Where relevant, spare material should be available to cover accidental loss.

3 Each candidate needs the following quantities.

FA1 100cm³

FA2 150cm³

Distilled/Deionised water 500cm³

Detailed Identities of Chemicals Required

1 It is especially important that great care is taken that the confidential information given below does not reach the candidates either directly or indirectly.

2 The identities of the chemicals with FA code numbers are as follows.

FA1 is 0.60 mol dm⁻³ hydrogen peroxide prepared by diluting 36.0 cm³ "20 volume" to 1 dm³. This solution must be prepared as close as possible to the start of the examination and kept chilled in a refrigerator and issued to candidates at the latest possible time.

[To confirm the concentration of this solution, the Supervisor is asked to dilute 25.50 to 250 cm³ and titrate 25.0 cm³ of this diluted solution against the 0.02 mol dm⁻³ manganate (VII) to be used in the examination. The titre should be between 24 – 25 cm³. Adjust solution FA1 to give a titre within this range.]

NB: In centres with large numbers of candidates, it is essential that titration results are provided for each session and for each laboratory within the session. These Supervisor's results should be obtained at the same time and under the same conditions as those experienced by the candidates.

3 FA2 is 0.010 M KMnO₄.

4 1.0 M H₂SO₄ labelled as such.

Account November 2005 Paper 2:

Globalisation Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Treasury Committee, 2007-10-16 Globalisation is having an enormous impact on the UK's economy creating significant challenges for policy making with the shift in economic power from West to East particularly the rise of China and India in the global economy The effects will be felt on highly skilled jobs as well as some less skilled employment and public policy needs to respond to the likely implications for the labour market The Committee's report considers domestic policy challenges relating to the promotion of innovation and improving the business environment and the skills base in the economy and issues discussed include the drivers of globalisation trade and protectionism global imbalances as well as the beneficial and adverse effects of globalisation for the UK economy The Committee recommends that in order to promote understanding of the impact of globalisation on jobs and communities the Government should publish an annual review of new developments affecting the impact of and prospects for globalisation Given that protectionist sentiment is increasing posing a threat to the progress of both developed and developing countries the Committee supports the Government's promotion of a successful conclusion to the Doha trade round Globalisation is also threatened by the risk of a disorderly unwinding of global imbalances and the success of a reformed International Monetary Fund will be judged by its performance in ensuring global imbalances are properly addressed NATO-Russia Relations in the Twenty-First Century Aurel Braun, 2008-03-26 Since the end of the Cold War NATO has redefined its raison d'être extending its membership broadening its political goals and widening its zone of operation It has also sought to enhance its co-operation with Russia for example through the NATO Russia Council though moves here have coincided with factors which make co-operation more difficult such as growing uncertainty about the transition to democracy in Russia a feeling among some people in Russia that NATO enlargement and the simultaneous diminution of Russia's influence were related and more recently Russia's attempts to reassert its influence over its neighbouring states This book examines the current state of relations between NATO and Russia examining a number of key areas and assesses the prospects for future development It concludes that all parties have a powerful interest in building and maintaining security and that the growth of the zone of democracy holds out the best hope for solving some of Russia's most seminal security concerns Cambridge

International AS and A Level Economics Revision Guide Susan Grant, 2013-03-18 Cambridge International AS and A Level Economics Revision Guide helps students prepare for the Cambridge examination Cambridge International AS and A Level Economics Revision Guide provides guidance on tackling the different types of questions set by the examination board It includes advice on revision and essay writing as well as clear summaries of the syllabus content The Politics of Aid

Selectivity Wil Hout, 2007-06-28 The first extended analysis of selectivity policies of important bilateral and multilateral aid donors this book combines a policy analytical with a quantitative empirical approach Bringing out the conflicts that may exist between foreign assistance agendas and the desire of governments in developing countries to set priorities for their national development policies the author describes in detail the policies of aid selectivity adopted by the World Bank the Netherlands and the United States since the end of the 1990s including the underlying assumptions looks at key decisions related to a selection of developing countries compares policy making and different approaches to selectivity in the United Kingdom with those in developing countries Critical and analytical in style this book is among other areas an invaluable resource for students of various sub fields of development studies and policy analysis as well as appealing to researchers and policy makers working in the area of foreign assistance across the globe

Historical Perspectives of Fisheries Exploitation in the Indo-Pacific Joseph Christensen, Malcolm Tull, 2014-04-01 The waters of the Indo Pacific were at the centre of the global expansion of marine capture fisheries in the twentieth century yet surprisingly little has been written about this subject from a historical perspective This book the first major study of the history of fishing in Asia and Oceania presents the case studies completed through the History of Marine Animal Populations HMAP initiative It examines the marine environmental history and historical marine ecology of the Indo Pacific during a period that witnessed the dramatic escalation of industrial fishing in these seas
