Acculturation and Parent-child Relationships Marc H. Bornstein, Linda R. Cote, 2006 Although many researchers agree on a general definition of acculturation the conceptualization and measurement of acculturation remain controversial To address the issues the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development NICHD sponsored a conference that brought together scholars who work to define and develop assessments of acculturation and who study the impact of acculturation on families The goals of the conference were to evaluate both the status of acculturation as a scientific construct and the roles of acculturation in parenting and human development The goal of this volume is to advance the state of the art Acculturation and Parent Child Relationships Measurement and Development is a must read for researchers students and policymakers concerned with cultural factors that affect the lives of parents and children

The Family Context of Parenting in Children's Adaptation to Elementary School Philip A. Cowan, Carolyn Pape Cowan, Jennifer C. Ablow, Vanessa Kahn Johnson, Jeffrey R. Measelle, 2005-05-06 The Family Context of Parenting in Children's Adaptation to Elementary School is a result of a longitudinal prevention study of 100 families begun the year before their first children entered kindergarten Each family went through an assessment and then a subset was randomly chosen for group intervention The children in both groups were then studied as they progressed through kindergarten and first grade to assess the quality of their adaptation to the school environment The text focuses on how parent child relationships are only one determinant of a child's academic competence social competence and behavior Rather these relationships must be understood in the context of the role they play within the family as a system It also addresses the recent challenges to claims about the impact of parents on their children's development The book sheds additional light on family influences within the larger social environment as a key determinant of the quality of children's adjustment to schooling It appeals to scientists professionals and parents alike

Promoting Positive Parenting Femmie Juffer, Marian J. Bakermans-Kranenburg, Marinus H. van Ijzendoorn, 2012-10-02 This book illuminates the successful implementations of one of the few evidence based parenting intervention programs More than 20 years ago the editors began experimenting with videotaping parental behavior in order to enhance parents sensitivity to their children's signals This new book presents the outcome of this effort Video feedback Intervention to Promote Positive Parenting VIPP is a brief and focused parenting intervention program that has been successful in a variety of clinical and non clinical groups and cultures The book opens with an introduction to the VIPP program and the theoretical background of this parenting intervention followed by a narrative and meta analytical review of the attachment based interventions The book continues with detailed descriptions and case reports of several intervention studies of the program It describes the implementation and testing of a variety of VIPP based interventions highlighting different families in a variety of childcare settings and in various countries including the Netherlands Italy the United Kingdom and the United States Chapters present how the VIPP approach was implemented in samples of insecure mothers mothers with eating disorders preterm infants adopted children and children with early behavior problems Immigrant Children Susan S. Chuang,Robert P. Moreno,2011-06-16 Over the past several decades the demographic populations of many countries such as Canada as well as the United States have greatly transformed Most striking is the influx of recent immigrant families into North America As children lead the way for a new North America this group of children and youth is not a singular homogenous group but rather a mosaic and diverse ethnic racial and cultural group Thus our current understanding of normative development covering social psychological cognitive language academic and behavioral development which has been generally based on middle class Euro American children may not necessarily be optimal development for all children Researchers are widely recognizing that the theoretical frameworks and models of child development lack the sociocultural and ethnic sensitivities to the ways in which developmental processes operate in an ecological context As researchers progress and develop promising forms of methodological innovation to further our understanding of immigrant children little effort has been placed to collectively organize a group of scholarly work in a coherent manner Some researchers who examine ethnic minority children tended to have ethnocentric notions of normative development Thus some ethnic minority groups are understood within a deficit model with a limited scope of topics of interest Moreover few researchers have specifically investigated the acculturation process for children and the implications for cultural socialization of children by ethnic group This book represents a group of leading scholars cutting edge research which will not only move our understanding forward but also to open up new possibilities for research providing innovative methodologies in examining this complex and dynamic group Immigrant Children Change Adaptation and Cultural Transformation will also take the research lead in guiding our current knowledge of how development is influenced by a variety of sociocultural factors placing future research in a better position to probe inherent principles of child development In sum this book will provide readers with a richer and more comprehensive approach of how researchers social service providers and social policymakers can examine children and immigration Handbook of School Counseling Hardin L.K. philosophers who drew from ancient texts when discussing family life and a count who assembled a group of German intellectual elites to address various topics An insightful essay of this type is by Marta Karlweis 1926 in which she notes There is no other fetish that society holds to so firmly as the conception woman with all its usual associations of infantilism and dependence The child requires protection is a minor and consequently a serf but above all it possesses no spiritual existence Neither doctorates or other distinctions nor the right to vote have as yet been able to dispel this sweet idea of the childishness of woman which man cherishes p
