The population of cities around the world is growing at an alarming rate and as a result the landscapes of most cities are going through enormous changes In particular fertile agricultural lands at the periphery of cities are being developed without consideration of holistic planning As such peri urban areas zones of transition from rural to urban land uses located between the outer limits of the urban and the rural environment are experiencing significant losses of agricultural land increased runoff and water quality degradation Concurrently the demands for water food and energy are increasing within cities and unless a balance is struck the liveability of these cities will soon be compromised The current water and land use changes have serious consequences on lifestyle environment health and overall well being of urban communities This book therefore helps readers to understand the current issues and challenges and examines suitable strategies and practices to cope with current and future pressures of urbanisation and peri urban land use changes The book examines a number of critical aspects in relation to the future of cities and peri urban regions including the suitability of policies and institutions to sustain cities into the future impact of current trends in land use change population increase and water demand long term planning needs and approaches to ensure the secured future for generations ahead and strategies to adapt the cities and land uses so that they remain viable and liveable The readership of the book will include policy makers urban planners researchers post graduate students in urban planning and environmental and water resources management and managers in municipal councils

Network Infrastructure and the Urban Environment Lars Lundqvist, Lars-Göran Mattsson, Tschangho John Kim, 2012-12-06 This volume is the result of an international collaboration which started with a conference at Smadalaro Gfrd in Sweden The workshop was supported by the National Science Foundation of the USA INT 9215114 and by the Swedish National Road Administration the Swedish Council for Building Research the Swedish Transport and Communications Research Board and the Swedish Council for Planning and Coordination of Research This support is gratefully acknowledged The collaboration started as a bilateral u S Swedish endeavour but was soon widened to other scholars in Europe Asia Australia and South America

Network Infrastructure and the Urban Environment is a policy area of growing importance Sustainable cities and sustainable transport systems are necessary for attaining a sustainable development The research and policy field represented in this volume comprises a number of challenging contrasts the contrast between infrastructure investments mobility and environmental sustainability the contrast between policy contexts modelling traditions and available decision support systems in various parts of the world the contrast between available best practice methods and the majority of models applied in planning the contrast between static models of cross sectionary equilibria and dynamic models of disequilibrium adjustments and the contrast between state of the art operationalland use transport models and new demands for land use transportlenvironment models due to changing policy contexts Bridging some of these gaps constitutes important research tasks that are discussed in the twenty two chapters of this book A number of emerging research directions are identified in the introduction and summary chapter

Advancements in Urban Environmental Studies Atiqur Rahman, Shouraseni Sen Roy, Swapan Talukdar, Shahfahad, 2023-03-03 According to UN estimates approximately nearly half of the world s population now lives in cities and that figure is expected to rise to almost 70% by 2050 Cities now account for around 70% of worldwide greenhouse gas emissions and this percentage is predicted to rise in the near future as a result of projected increases in global urbanization patterns It is widely acknowledged that irrational urban planning and design can increase emissions while also exacerbating threats and risks resulting in a slew of environmental issues such as urban heat islands air pollution flooding amongst other issues as well as environmental social and economic losses Therefore these concerns must be addressed promptly in order to cope up with these rising difficulties and make urban environments safer for residents With the advancement of remote sensing technology and the use of current remote observation systems urban data science remote sensing and artificial intelligence AI modeling and quantifying emergent difficulties in urban regions and urban systems have become easy They aid in the quantitative analysis of urban shape functions and human behavior in cities Harvesting data developing models and suggesting new methodologies will be aided by combining urban ecology with new breakthroughs in data science This book is of great value to a diverse group of academicians scientists students environmentalists meteorologists urban planners remote sensing and GIS experts with a common interest in geospatial sciences within the earth environmental sciences as well as human and social sciences

Weather and climate extremes in the urban environment: Modeling and observations Chenghao Wang, Ashish Sharma, Quang-Van Doan, V. Vinoj, Zhaowu Yu, 2022-12-26

Rapid Urban Environmental Assessment: Methodology and preliminary findings Josef Leitmann, 1994 Urban Management Program Series Paper 14 A recent evaluation of urban research in developing countries noted that scant data are available on the urban environment as little research has been done on the topic This first volume in a two volume set describes the development of a three step evaluation process whereby data are collected and analyzed to support the involvement of stakeholders suggests future directions and improvements and summarizes results from use of the approach in selected cities The second of a two volume set see below contains tools that practitioners and researchers can apply directly in the field See also Volume 2 ISBN 0 8213 2791 7 Stock No 12791

Urban Climate Change

Adaptation Baojie He, Joni Jupesta, Giuseppe T. Cirella, Gloria Pignatta, 2024-09-17 Urban Climate Change Adaptation is a timely and informative book that delves into the complex challenges posed by climate change and explores the pathways to achieving environmental sustainability. The book begins by examining the scientific consensus on climate change, detailing the causes and consequences of rising global temperatures, changing weather patterns, and the resulting impacts on ecosystems and human societies. Readers are further introduced to a range of innovative and nature-based solutions that promote environmental sustainability. These solutions encompass a diverse array of approaches, including renewable energy, sustainable agriculture, conservation of biodiversity, and the restoration of ecosystems. The book serves as an indispensable resource for anyone seeking a comprehensive understanding of complex issues on climate change and the pursuit of environmental sustainability. It also offers practical solutions for individuals, communities, and policymakers.

Land Use in an Urban Environment, 1961 Peri-urban futures: Scenarios and models for land use change in Europe Kjell Nilsson, Stephan Pauleit, Simon Bell, Carmen Aalbers, Thomas A. Sick Nielsen, 2013-02-05 Presently, peri-urbanisation is one of the most pervasive processes of land use change in Europe, with strong impacts on both the environment and quality of life. It is a matter of great urgency to determine strategies and tools in support of sustainable development. The book synthesizes the results of PLUREL, a large European Commission-funded research project (2007-2010). Tools and strategies of PLUREL address main challenges of managing land use in peri-urban areas. These results are presented and illustrated by means of 7 case studies, which are at the core of the book. This volume presents a novel future-oriented approach to the planning and management of peri-urban areas, with a main focus on scenarios and sustainability impact analysis. The research is unique in that it focuses on the future by linking quantitative scenario modeling and sustainability impact analysis with qualitative and in-depth analysis of regional strategies, as well as including a study at European level, with case study work also involving a Chinese case study. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2004 Urban Metabolism and Climate Change Rahul Bhadouria, Sachchidanand Tripathi, Pardeep Singh, P. K. Joshi, Rishikesh Singh, 2023-05-23 This book provides a basic understanding and state of the art of urban metabolism. Urban centres are increasingly challenged by population increase and the resultant environmental concerns, including the urban sprawl and climate change. Different patterns of urbanization contribute to the changing climate via differences in their urban metabolism, represented by energy and matter. Urban metabolic studies, in terms of energy and material inflows, outflows, and stocks, can be associated with traditional evaluation techniques to help assess the magnitude and potential effects of a variety of environmental challenges the world is facing today. Urban centres are critical real-time observatories that indicate the impact anthropogenic activities have on global biogeochemical cycles. Urban processes have significant and lasting impacts on the global carbon budget. The technological and infrastructural advancements have fuelled an increase in urban inputs and outputs of material and energy Therefore more sustainable approaches need to be adopted in changing scenarios for urban planning particularly for sustainable resource utilization and better waste management practices The book emphasises on the sustainability in urban metabolism sustainable urban planning ecosystem services and disaster resilience to provide an interdisciplinary understanding of urban metabolism The book also identifies an urgent need to develop new methodological approaches for real time and reliable evaluation of urban metabolism
