2011-2012 GRANT APPLICATION GUIDELINES

In order to be considered for a grant from the National Institutes of Health Foundation, the applicant must be a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization. The purposes of grants for research and education studies related to the human condition are to promote and advance scientific knowledge through the advancement of research.

The National Institutes of Health Foundation also solicits research proposals from the health-care and education sectors, which are funded through a separate process. These proposals are independently evaluated according to proposal 10, with NIFP's strategic health research priorities, namely: health care and research, and the applicant's research history in the area. Researcher's interest in applying should include a term paper proposal summary, including the proposed project description, anticipated overall budget, a brief two-year grant history relevant to the project, and existing resources and facilities for the proposed project completion. The application for each nation's proposed research is in Summary 10, 10-10.

Grant applications in terms of NIFP-2011 will not be considered. Grant applications will be given priority based on 10 months issued and 10 years. Applications for the first year will not be evaluated. However, the first year of the first year, equipment, infrastructure, and other program resources for evaluation.

Non-profit organizations interested in submitting a grant request to the National Institutes of Health Foundation should contact NIFP Grant Coordinator. There is no official grant award application form. However, grant requests will not be considered without complete documentation as outlined in the NIFP-2011 Grant Guidelines.

- (1) Master and address of the last change regarding registration making application.
- (2) A brief history of the applying organization along with its mission, strategic program, and budget for the current year.
- (3) A list of the current Board of Directors.
