Justice in Young Adult Speculative Fiction Marek C. Oziewicz, 2015-04-17 This book is the first to offer a justice focused cognitive reading of modern YA speculative fiction in its narrative and filmic forms It links the expansion of YA speculative fiction in the 20th century with the emergence of human and civil rights movements with the communitarian revolution in conceptualizations of justice and with spectacular advances in cognitive sciences as applied to the examination of narrative fiction Oziewicz argues that complex ideas such as justice are processed by the human mind as cognitive scripts that scripts when narrated take the form of multiply indexable stories and that YA speculative fiction is currently the largest conceptual testing ground in the forging of justice consciousness for the 21st century world Drawing on recent research in the cognitive and evolutionary sciences Oziewicz explains how poetic retributive restorative environmental social and global types of justice have been represented in narrative fiction from 19th century folk and fairy tales through 21st century fantasy dystopia and science fiction Suggesting that the appeal of these and other nonmimetic genres is largely predicated on the dream of justice Oziewicz theorizes new justice scripts as conceptual tools essential to help humanity survive the qualitative leap toward an environmentally conscious culturally diversified global world This book is an important contribution to studies of children's and YA speculative fiction adding a new perspective to discussions about the educational as well as social potential of nonmimetic genres It demonstrates that the justice imperative is very much alive in YA speculative fiction creating new visions of justice relevant to contemporary challenges diaspora studies and environmental justice frameworks the Handbook re envisions the role of media and technology with an inclusive trauma informed approach to scholarship that is essential for the future of this research Bicycle Justice and Urban Transformation Aaron Golub,Melody L. Hoffmann,Adonia E. Lugo,Gerardo F. Sandoval,2016-07-15 As bicycle commuting grows in the United States the profile of the white middle class cyclist has emerged This stereotype evolves just as investments in cycling play an increasingly important role in neighborhood transformations However despite stereotypes the cycling public is actually quite diverse with the greatest share falling into the lowest income categories Bicycle Justice and Urban Transformation demonstrates that for those with privilege bicycling can be liberatory a lifestyle choice whereas for those surviving at the margins cycling is not a choice but an often oppressive necessity Ignoring these invisible cyclists skews bicycle improvements towards those with choices This book argues that it is vital to contextualize bicycling within a broader social justice framework if investments are to serve all street users equitably Bicycle justice is an inclusionary social movement based on furthering material equity and the recognition that qualitative differences matter This book illustrates equitable bicycle advocacy policy and planning In synthesizing the projects of critical cultural studies transportation justice and planning the book reveals the relevance of social justice to public and community driven investments in cycling This book will interest professionals advocates academics and students in the fields of transportation planning urban planning community development urban geography sociology and policy The Justice of the King Hamilton Drummond,2020-07-30 Reproduction of the original The Justice of the King by Hamilton Drummond

web feb 1 2022 explanation we know that if we divide or multiply a polynomial by any constant real number then the zeroes of polynomial remains same here $\alpha = 2$ and $\beta = 5$ $\alpha + \beta = 2 + 5 = 7$ and $\alpha\beta = 2 \times 5 = 10$ so required polynomial is $x^2 - 7x + 10$
