A Sense Of Things The Object Matter Of American Literature:

A Sense of Things Bill Brown, 2003 In May 1906 the Atlantic Monthly commented that Americans live not merely in an age of things but under the tyranny of them and that in our relentless effort to sell purchase and accumulate things we do not possess them as much as they possess us For Bill Brown the tale of that possession is something stranger than the history of a culture of consumption It is the story of Americans using things to think about themselves Brown's captivating new study explores the roots of modern America's fascination with things and the problem that objects posed for American literature at the turn of the century This was an era when the invention production distribution and consumption of things suddenly came to define a national culture Brown shows how crucial novels of the time made things not a solution to problems but problems in their own right Writers such as Mark Twain Frank Norris Sarah Orne Jewett and Henry James ask why and how we use objects to make meaning to make or remake ourselves to organize our anxieties and affections to sublimate our fears and to shape our wildest dreams Offering a remarkably new way to think about materialism A Sense of Things will be essential reading for anyone interested in American literature and culture

The Secret Life of Things Mark Blackwell, 2007 This collection enriches and complicates the history of prose fiction between Richardson and Fielding at mid century and Austen at the turn of the century by focusing on its narratives a once popular form largely forgotten by readers and critics alike The volume also advances important work on eighteenth century consumer culture and the theory of things The essays that comprise The Secret Life of Things thus bring new texts and new ways of thinking about familiar ones to our notice Those essays range from the role of its narratives in period debates about copyright to their complex relationship with object riddled sentimental fictions from anti-Semitism in Chrysal to jingoistic imperialism in The Adventures of a Rupee from the its narrative as a variety of whores biography to a consideration of its contributions to an emergent middle class ideology

The Object of Jewish

Literature Barbara E. Mann, 2022-07-26 A history of modern Jewish literature that explores our enduring attachment to the book as an object With the rise of digital media the death of the book has been widely discussed But the physical object of the book persists Here through the lens of materiality and objects Barbara E Mann tells a history of modern Jewish literature from novels and poetry to graphic novels and artists books Bringing contemporary work on secularism and design in conversation with literary history she offers a new and distinctive frame for understanding how literary genres emerge The long twentieth century a period of tremendous physical upheaval and geographic movement witnessed the production of a multilingual canon of writing by Jewish authors Literature's objecthood is felt not only in the physical qualities of books bindings covers typography illustrations but also through the ways in which materiality itself became a practical foundation for literary expression The Literary Life of Things Babette Bärbel Tischleder, 2014-02-13 Whether in the street or the microcosm of the home the life of things conjoins human subjects and inanimate objects This material culture has long played a vital role in the American literary imagination yet scholars in literary and cultural studies have only recently re-discovered the object world as a subject of critical inquiry Engaging a great range of American literature from Harriet Beecher Stowe and Edith Wharton to Vladimir Nabokov and Jonathan Franzen The Literary Life of Things illuminates scenes of animation that disclose the aesthetic affective and ethical dimensions of our entanglement with the material world The Agency of Objects in English Prose, 1789-1832 Nikolina Hatton, 2020-07-07 The Agency of Objects in English Prose 1789-1832 Conspicuous Things engages with new materialist methodologies to examine shifting perceptions of nonhuman agency in English prose at the turn of the nineteenth century Examining texts as diverse as its narratives the juvenile writings and novels of Jane Austen De Quincey's autobiographical writings and silver fork novels Nikolina Hatton demonstrates how object agency is viewed in this period as constitutive not just in regard to human subjectivity but also in aesthetic creation Objects appear in these novels and short prose works as aids intermediaries adversaries and obstructions as well as both intimately connected to humans and strangely alien Through close readings the book traces how object agency while sometimes perceived as a threat by authors and characters also continues to be understood as a source of the delightfully unexpected in everyday life as well as in narrative A Companion to American Fiction, 1865 - 1914 Robert Paul Lamb, G. R. Thompson, 2008-04-15 A Companion to American Fiction 1865-1914 is a groundbreaking collection of essays written by leading critics for a wide audience of scholars students and interested general readers An exceptionally broad ranging and accessible Companion to the study of American fiction of the post-civil war period and the early twentieth century Brings together 29 essays by top scholars each of which presents a synthesis of the best research and offers an original perspective Divided into sections on historical traditions and genres contexts and themes and major authors Covers a mixture of canonical and the non-canonical themes authors literatures and critical approaches Explores innovative topics such as ecological literature and ecocriticism children's literature and the influence of Darwin on fiction The Object of the

Atlantic Rachel Price, 2014-11-30 The Object of the Atlantic is a wide ranging study of the transition from a concern with sovereignty to a concern with things in Iberian Atlantic literature and art produced between 1868 and 1968 Rachel Price uncovers the surprising ways that concrete aesthetics from Cuba Brazil and Spain drew not only on global forms of constructivism but also on a history of empire slavery and media technologies from the Atlantic world Analyzing Jose Marti s notebooks Joaquim de Sousa Andrade s poetry Ramiro de Maeztu s essays on things and on slavery 1920s Cuban literature on economic restructuring Ferreira Gullar s theory of the non object and neoconcrete art Price shows that the turn to objects and from these to new media networks was rooted in the very philosophies of history that helped form the Atlantic world itself

Where is American Literature? Caroline F. Levander, 2013-04-16 Where is American Literature offers a spirited and compelling argument for rethinking the way we view American literature in relation to the nation while powerfully demonstrating why it continues to matter in a global age A refreshing and accessible investigation into the various locations linguistic geographical virtual ideological where American writing is produced and consumed Takes a highly original approach by viewing US literature spatially rather than chronologically or thematically retuning our understanding of the subject The book offers a vital intervention in current debates over the impact of digital technologies on the production and reception of literature ensuring that the field remains lively and dynamic Invites readers to reconsider the subject by questioning current perspectives on and approaches to US literature offering a range of fresh perspectives on familiar texts and topics

Women and Personal Property in the Victorian Novel Deborah Wynne, 2010 A study of literary representations of women and portable property during the period 1850 to 1900 that reveals how key changes to the married women s property laws contributed to fresh ways of viewing women in society It argues that modern paradigms of consumerism cannot be applied across the board to the Victorian period

All Things Arabia , 2020-11-16 By employing the innovative lenses of thing theory and material culture studies this collection brings together essays focused on the role played by Arabia s things from cultural objects to commodities to historical and ethnographic artifacts to imaginary things in creating an Arabian identity over time The Arabian identity that we convey here comprises both a fabulous Arabia that has haunted the European imagination for the past three hundred years and a real Arabia that has had its unique history culture and traditions outside the Orientalized narratives of the West All Things Arabia aims to dispel existing stereotypes and to stimulate new thinking about an area whose patterns of trade and cosmopolitanism have pollinated the world with lasting myths knowledge and things of beauty Contributors include Ileana Baird Marie Claire Bakker Joseph Donica Holly Edwards Yannis Hadjinicolaou Victoria Hightower Jennie MacDonald Kara McKeown Rana Al Ogayyel Ceyda Oskay Chrysavgi Papagianni James Redman Eran Segal H lya Ya c o lu and William Gerard Zimmerle

Eighteenth-Century Thing Theory in a Global Context Ileana Baird, Christina

Ionescu,2016-04-29 Exploring Enlightenment attitudes toward things and their relation to human subjects this collection offers a geographically wide ranging perspective on what the eighteenth century looked like beyond British or British colonial borders To highlight trends fashions and cultural imports of truly global significance the contributors draw their case studies from Western Europe Russia Africa Latin America and Oceania This survey underscores the multifarious ways in which new theoretical approaches such as thing theory or material and visual culture studies revise our understanding of the people and objects that inhabit the phenomenological spaces of the eighteenth century Rather than focusing on a particular geographical area or on the global as a juxtaposition of regions with a distinctive cultural footprint this collection draws attention to the unforeseen relational maps drawn by things in their global peregrinations celebrating the logic of serendipity that transforms the object into some thing else when it is placed in a new locale The British and Anglo-Irish Thing-Essay from 1701 to 2021 Daniel Schneider,2023-09-29 While the it narrative the thing poem and thing theatre have been around for some time the essay which is often considered literature s fourth genre is still lacking its thing subgenre Yet particularly British and Anglo Irish literature display a long albeit so far implicit tradition of texts that can be categorised as thing essays Starting with Jonathan Swift s Meditation upon a Broomstick 1701 and continuing until today these texts draw broader insights from the contemplation of a material item of daily life This book provides the first theoretical conceptualisation of this genre Bringing elements from essay studies and the New Materialisms together it shows why the essay lends itself particularly well to literarisations of the personal relationships that people foster to everyday objects While the idiosyncrasies of each essay show the versatility of thing essays the study also seeks to unearth changing attitudes towards things and thus towards people s material surroundings in general throughout time In order to account for such synchronic and diachronic differences in thing essays this study develops a typology of three modes via which things can be approached essayistically In the book s second part this framework will be employed in close readings and historicisations of 14 thing essays from 1701 until 2021 Ranging from satire to sentimental writing from religion to consumerism from class to gender differences from feelings of nationality to exoticism from the French Revolution to Freud and from art to everyday life the stylistic and thematic broadness of these thing essays ultimately shows the multifarious connections between human life and materiality
