We are Fighting the World Gary Kynoch,2005 Since the late 1940s a violent African criminal society known as the Marashea has operated in and around South Africa s gold mining areas With thousands of members involved in drug smuggling extortion and kidnapping the Marashea was more influential in the day to day lives of many black South Africans under apartheid than were agents of the state These gangs remain active in South Africa In We Are Fighting the World A History of the Marashea Gangs in South Africa 1947 1999 Gary Kynoch points to the combination of coercive force and administrative weakness that characterized the apartheid state As long as crime and violence were contained within black townships and did not threaten adjacent white areas township residents were largely left to fend for themselves The Marashea s ability to prosper during the apartheid era and its involvement in political conflict led directly to the violent crime epidemic that today plagues South Africa Highly readable and solidly researched We Are Fighting the World is critical to an understanding of South African society past and present This pioneering study challenges previous social history research on resistance ethnicity urban spaces and gender in South Africa Kynoch s interviews with many current and former gang members give We Are Fighting the World an energy and a realism that are unparalleled in any other published work on gang violence in southern Africa
