Choreographing Relations Petra Sabisch, 2011 Choreographing Relations undertakes the experiment of a conceptual site development of contemporary choreography by means of practical philosophy Guided by the radically empiricist question What Can Choreography Do the book investigates the performances of Antonia Baehr Juan Dominguez Xavier Le Roy and Eszter Salamon and the philosophical works of Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari It establishes a relation between these practitioners as an encounter in method and develops method as a singular material and experimental practice In view of these singular methods and the participatory relations to which they give rise Choreographing Relations offers a prolific inventory of representational procedures that qualitatively transformed choreography and philosophy at the turn of the twentieth century

Rethinking Inclusive Education: The Philosophers of Difference in Practice Julie Allan, 2007-11-07 One of the important responsibilities that advocates of inclusion need to continually practise is that of self criticism This includes examining and re-examining the assumptions informing our perspectives the concepts that we use including inclusive education and our intentions especially in relation to the question of change We need to beware of the danger of unexamined orthodoxies the possibilities of adopting inclusive language with little if any changes in our thinking and practice and a sterile and insensitive position with regard to the pursuit of new or alternative ideas In this very important book Allan powerfully reminds us of the necessity and centrality of these concerns and provides a direct perceptive and thoughtful examination and critique of the varied barriers to the task of how to make inclusion happen Allan challenges the reader to step back and re-examine the rationale for inclusion through an alternative mindset She challenges the varied attacks upon inclusion including those in the education business to stop using economic it costs too much and pedagogical it is bad for the other children in the class and traumatic for the disabled children and social just too much for the teacher's workload reasons for closing the door and doing the right thing and those who argue that inclusion was an experiment that did not work

Children and the Ethics of Creativity Victoria Jane Hargraves, 2020-08-26 This book presents a critical reimagining of education and educational research in addressing practices of representation and their relation to epistemology subjectivity and ontology in the context of early childhood education Drawing on posthumanist perspectives and the immanent materialism of Deleuze Guattari to conceive of early childhood education childhood and indeed adult life in new ways it highlights the powerful role of language in subjectivity and ontology and introduces affectivity as a concept which can be put to work to undo habitual relations and meanings It proposes that ethical becomings require the engagement of an expansion and intensification of a body's affect or capacity and offers readers a provocation for enhancing creative capacity as an ethic This book is an important contribution to the discussions on methods for living and of ways of thinking commensurate with the orientation of a posthuman turn

Ethics and Images of Pain Asbjørn Grønstad, Henrik Gustafsson, 2012-04-27 Few phenomena are as formative of our experience of the visual world as displays of suffering But what does it mean to have an ethical experience of disturbing or traumatizing images What kind of ethical proposition does an image of pain mobilize How may the spectator learn from and make use of the painful image as a source of ethical reflection Engaging with a wide range of visual media from painting theatre and sculpture to photography film and video this interdisciplinary collection of essays by leading and emerging scholars of visual culture offers a reappraisal of the increasingly complex relationship between images of pain and the ethics of viewing Ethics and Images of Pain reconsiders the persistent and ever pertinent nexus of aesthetics and ethics the role of painful images as generators of unpredictable forms of affect the moral transformation of spectatorship the ambivalence of the witness and the representation of affliction as a fundamental form of our shared scopical experience The instructive and illuminating essays in the collection introduce a phenomenological context in which to make sense of our current ecology of excruciating images one that accentuates notions of responsibility empathy and imagination Contributors trace the images of pain across a miscellany of case studies and amongst the topics addressed are the work of artists as disparate as Doris Salcedo Anselm Kiefer and Bendik Riis photographs from Abu Ghraib and Rwanda Hollywood war films and animated documentaries performances of self immolations and incidents of police brutality captured on mobile phones
