Global Jewish Foodways Hasia R. Diner, Simone Cinotto, 2018-06 The history of the Jewish people has been a history of migration Although Jews invariably brought with them their traditional ideas about food during these migrations just as invariably they engaged with the foods they encountered in their new environments Their culinary habits changed as a result of both these migrations and the new political and social realities they encountered The stories in this volume examine the sometimes bewildering kaleidoscope of food experiences generated by new social contacts trade political revolutions wars and migrations both voluntary and compelled This panoramic history of Jewish food highlights its breadth and depth on a global scale from Renaissance Italy to the post World War II era in Israel Argentina and the United States and critically examines the impact of food on Jewish lives and on the complex set of laws practices and procedures that constitutes the Jewish dietary system and regulates what can be eaten when how and with whom Global Jewish Foodways offers a fresh perspective on how historical changes through migration settlement and accommodation transformed Jewish food and customs

Reconstructing Obesity Megan B. McCullough, Jessica A. Hardin, 2013-10-01 In the crowded and busy arena of obesity and fat studies there is a lack of attention to the lived experiences of people how and why they eat what they do and how people in cross cultural settings understand risk health and bodies This volume addresses the lacuna by drawing on ethnographic methods and analytical emic explorations in order to consider the impact of cultural difference embodiment and local knowledge on understanding obesity It is through this reconstruction of how obesity and fatness are studied and understood that a new discussion will be introduced and a new set of analytical explorations about obesity research and the effectiveness of obesity interventions will be established

The Pursuit of Pleasure Rudolph Matthee, 2021-05-11 From ancient times to the present day Iranian social political and economic life has been dramatically influenced by psychoactive agents This book looks at the stimulants that as put by a longtime resident of seventeenth century Iran Rapha l du Mans provided Iranians with damagh gave them a kick got them into a good mood By tracing their historical trajectory and the role they played in early modern Iranian society 1500 1900 Rudi Matthee takes a major step in extending contemporary debates on the role of drugs and stimulants in shaping the modern West At once panoramic and richly detailed The Pursuit of Pleasure examines both the intoxicants known since ancient times wine and opiates and the stimulants introduced later tobacco coffee and tea from multiple angles It brings together production commerce and consumption to reveal the forces behind the spread and popularity of these consumables showing how Iranians adapted them to their own needs and tastes and integrated them into their everyday lives

Matthee further employs psychoactive substances as a portal for a set of broader issues in Iranian history most notably the tension between religious and secular leadership Faced with reality Iran's Shi'i ulama turned a blind eye to drug use as long as it stayed indoors and did not threaten the social order Much of this flexibility remains visible underneath the uncompromising exterior of the current Islamic Republic

Food and Media Jonatan Leer, Karen Klitgaard Povlsen, 2016-06-17 Food is everywhere in contemporary mediascapes as witnessed by the increase in cookbooks food magazines television cookery shows online blogs recipes news items and social media posts about food This mediatization of food means that the media often interplays between food consumption and everyday practices between private and political matters and between individuals groups and societies This volume argues that contemporary food studies need to pay more attention to the significance of media in relation to how we do food Understanding food media is particularly central to the diverse contemporary social and cultural practices of food where media use plays an increasingly important but also differentiated and differentiating role in both large scale decisions and most people's everyday practices The contributions in this book offer critical studies of food media discourses and of media users interpretations negotiations and uses that construct places and spaces as well as possible identities and everyday practices of sameness or otherness that might form new or renew old food politics
