The Valley Of Decision By Marcia Davenport:

The Valley of Decision, By Marcia Davenport Marcia Davenport, 1944 Irish Domestic Servants in Transatlantic Culture, c. 1870-1945 Catherine Healy, 2025-10-11 This book provides the first major transatlantic history of Irish serving women drawing on four years of archival research in Dublin Belfast New York Boston London and Liverpool Domestic service was the largest source of employment for generations of women who left Ireland in the decades after the Great Famine The perceived difficulty of managing Irish servants became a prominent feature of cultural discourse in the United States and England where countless cartoons editorials and literary works caricatured the figure of Bridget Irish maids and cooks were a canvas on which to project fears not only about Irish politics and immigration but also changing class and gender roles Existing scholarship on the Irish experience of domestic service has typically focused on socio economic conditions but such approaches tend not to capture the complex ways in which Irish female immigrants were encountered both in private households and in wider society Irish servants were framed through discourses that could involve nostalgia and guilt as well as amusement and disgust more complex scripts in general than those used to describe Irish immigrant men The period covered in the book allows for a diverse range of cultural sources including romance novels and Hollywood films depicting working Irish women to be examined moving beyond the Victorian era caricatures typically emphasised in earlier work on the Irish in domestic service Chronicle of the Pulitzer Prizes for Fiction Heinz-D. Miller,2022-09-01 Steel City is the story of the 1890s golden age of Pittsburgh when its technological innovations and wealth creation made it the Silicon Valley of its day Pittsburgh was first in steel food processing and electricity and the leaders of those industries Carnegie Frick Heinz and Westinghouse are names we still know today Amid this fevered atmosphere Jamie Dalton a recent Yale graduate and son of a corporate lawyer must decide whether to accede to his father s wishes and pursue a career in law or the steel business or follow his own instincts and become a newspaperman The greatest natural disaster of the 19th century the Johnstown Flood confirms his choice to be a journalist and Jamie goes on to cover Pittsburgh s business titans labor strikes and assassination attempts While reporting on the unions of the era he is exposed to a very different world symbolized by his infatuation with a mysterious woman under the sway of an Eastern European anarchist Jamie struggles with balancing the access he has to Pittsburgh s business elite while maintaining the objectivity to tell the hard truths about those same people Ultimately he must thwart a terrorist plot that could disrupt the massive corporate merger that would restructure the nation s largest industry steel Irish Pittsburgh Patricia McElligott,2013 Many modern Irish Pittsburghers can trace their roots to immigrants fleeing an Ireland devastated by the Great Potato Famine of the mid 1800s They migrated to Pittsburgh a booming industrial town and worked in the iron and steel mills the mines and the railroads Irish women became domestic servants in such large numbers that Bridget the Maid was a stock character on stage and later in films The immigrants settled in neighborhoods such as the Point the Hill District Homewood and the North Side Fighting anti Irish and anti Catholic sentiments they paved the way for their children who would dominate municipal politics and the Catholic Church and rise to surprising heights in sports entertainment and business Gov David L Lawrence dancer Gene Kelly and boxing champion Billy Conn were three of these Irish Pittsburgh groundbreakers Their success echoed the smaller but equally significant success of ordinary Pittsburghers who rose from poverty to middle class from shantytown to lace curtain respectability in the neighborhoods and later in the suburbs of the city Pittsburgh's Immigrants Lisa A. Through Different Eyes J. Barbara Alvord,2004-03-14 What happens when a meagerly educated peasant girl is chosen in 1903 to leave her family and accompany her illiterate godfather from Europe to the Midlands of America Young Anna Barbara Mrkvicka left the dirt floor of her over crowded one room home to enter an unknown world and overwhelming challenges at every turn Through Different Eyes describes the back breaking peasant life of that era Anna worked in the fields at six years of age It travels with the young peasant in steerage on a daunting ocean voyage and it reveals the frustrating immigrant experience of Ellis Island It explores the sounds and smells of sleeping for six weeks on steamy tenement rooftops of New York Citys dangerous Lower East Side sometimes with a knife handy for protection The journey includes a lengthy train ride into the Heartland of the United States reveals the anxiety of arriving to work with strangers on an isolated farmstead in early Iowa With no way to learn the English language of America for three hard years the frightened girl was unable to escape an abusive step aunt She was neither paid for her exhausting farm work nor allowed enough to eat she was beaten Yet Anna not only miraculously survived her ordeals her grit and determination at last enabled her to bring all seven members of her family and a foster brother to Iowa in 1909 It was just in time World War I was threatening to engulf Europe After years of research this creative biography honors all unsung immigrants like young Anna It pays homage to the millions of men and women who desperately struggled to transplant their family lives to the freedom of America their precious gift to those of us so privileged to be citizens of this great land

Nadine Paulina K. Dennis,2001-10 The Retail Bookseller ,1944 Crucible of Freedom Eric Leif Davin,2012-07-10 This book explores the relation between democracy and industrialization in United States history Over the course of the 1930s the political center almost disappeared as the Democratic New Deal became the litmus test of class with blue collar workers providing its bedrock of support while white collar workers and those in the upper income levels opposed it By 1948 the class cleavage in American politics was as pronounced as in many of the Western European countries such as France Italy Germany or Britain with which we usually associate class politics Working people created a new America in the 1930s and 1940s which was a fundamental departure from the feudalistic and hierarchical America that existed before They won the political rights of American citizenship which had been previously denied them They democratized labor capital relations and gained more economic security than they had ever known They obtained more economic opportunity for them and their children than they had ever known and they created a respect for ethnic workers which had not previously existed In the process class politics re defined the political agenda of America as for the first time in American history the political universe polarized along class lines Eric Leif Davin explores the meaning of the New Deal political mobilization by ordinary people by examining the changes it brought to the local county and state levels in Pittsburgh Allegheny County and Pennsylvania as a whole
