

A dramatic illustration depicting a Martian invasion scene. In the center, a large, tripod-like Martian war machine stands on a city street, emitting a powerful, bright yellow and orange beam of light that illuminates the surrounding area. To its left, another similar machine is visible, also emitting a beam of light. In the upper left corner, a Martian flying machine (a 'flying saucer') is shown firing a beam of light. The sky is filled with swirling clouds and other flying machines. In the foreground, a chaotic scene unfolds on the street. Numerous people, dressed in early 20th-century attire, are running and fleeing in panic. A vintage car is visible on the left side of the street. The background shows several multi-story buildings, some of which appear to be on fire or in flames. The overall atmosphere is one of intense action and destruction.

The War of the Worlds Herbert George Wells, 1898 H G Wells's hugely influential book tracks the exploits of a writer who struggles to survive an alien invasion of Victorian England. As he meets other desperate humans, he becomes increasingly pessimistic about any chance of survival. The novel stands as a major milestone in science fiction literature, inspiring legions of subsequent writers and an endless array of hostile alien scenarios.
