Making Cities Work Robert P. Inman, 2009-01-05 Making Cities Work brings together leading writers and scholars on urban America to offer critical perspectives on how to sustain prosperous livable cities in today's fast evolving economy. Successful cities provide jobs, quality schools, safe and clean neighborhoods, effective transportation, and welcoming spaces for all residents. But cities must be managed well if they are to remain attractive places to work, relax, and raise a family; otherwise, residents, firms, and workers will leave, and the social and economic advantages of city living will be lost. Drawing on cutting edge research in the social sciences, the contributors explore optimal ways to manage the modern city and propose solutions to today's most pressing urban problems. Topics include the urban economy, transportation, housing, and open space; immigration; race; the impacts of poverty on children; education; crime; and financing and managing services. The contributors show how to make cities work for diverse urban constituencies and why we still need cities despite the many challenges they pose. Making Cities Work brings the latest findings in urban economics to policymakers, researchers, and students, as well as anyone interested in urban affairs. In addition to the editor, the contributors are David Card, Philip J. Cook, Janet Currie, Edward L. Glaeser, Joseph Gyourko, Richard J. Murnane, Witold Rybczynski, Kenneth A. Small, and Jacob L. Vigdor. Energy Security United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs, 2010 50 Events That Shaped African American History Jamie J. Wilson, 2019-09-19 This two volume work celebrates 50 notable achievements of African Americans, highlighting black contributions to U.S. history and examining the ways black accomplishments shaped American culture. This two volume encyclopedia offers a unique look at the African American experience from the arrival of the first 20 Africans at Jamestown through the launch of the Black Lives Matter movement and the Ferguson Protests. It illustrates subjects such as the Jim Crow period, the Brown v. Board of Education case that overturned segregation, Jackie Robinson's landmark integration of major league baseball, and the election of Barack Obama as president of the United States. Drawing from almost 400 years of U.S. history, the work documents the experiences and impact of black people on every aspect of American life. Presented chronologically, the selected events each include at least one primary source to provide the reader with a first person perspective. These range from excerpts of speeches given by famous African American figures to programs from the March on Washington. The remarkable stories collected here bear witness to the strength of a group of people who chose to survive and found ways to work collectively to force America to live up to the promise of its founding. The Maximum of Wilderness Kelly Enright, 2012 Locating a new wilderness, nature, and conservation at the start of the twentieth century.
