The Melancholy of Resistance L szl Krasznahorkai s magisterial surreal novel depicts a chain of mysterious events in a small Hungarian town A circus promising to display the stuffed body of the largest whale in the world arrives in the dead of winter prompting bizarre rumours Word spreads that the circus folk have a sinister purpose in mind and the frightened citizens cling to any manifestation of order they can find music cosmology fascism The novel s characters are unforgettable the evil Mrs Eszter plotting her takeover of the town her weakling husband and Valuska our hapless hero with his head in the clouds who is the tender centre of the book the only pure and noble soul to be found Compact powerful and intense The Melancholy of Resistance as its enormously gifted translator George Szirtes puts it is a slow lava flow of narrative a vast black river of type And yet miraculously the novel in the words of Guardian lifts the reader along in lunar leaps and bounds Translated by George Szirtes

Alienation and Resistance Laura Findlay, Gordon Spark, 2020-05-22 This collection draws together recent work by new and emerging scholars which examines the representation of alienation and resistance in texts and images both modern and traditional The essays collected here incorporate both high and low culture covering a wide range of disciplines from traditional literary sources to the more modern mediums of film and comic Informing each of the contributions is one overriding question what are the roles forms and conditions of alienation and resistance in our culture and its diverse media The contributors to this collection find examples of both alienation and resistance everywhere from sixteenth century drama to contemporary fiction from American comics to Eastern European cinema from representations of the body to the site of the body itself In seeking out these representations of alienation and resistance the essays begin also to probe the limits and limitations of such terms As such the collection as a whole offers both a broad overview of the field of play as it stands today and makes tentative suggestions as to potential paths of future inquiry

Poetics of Slow Cinema Emre Çağlayan, 2018-10-12 This book discusses slow cinema a contemporary global production trend that has recently gained momentum in film theory and criticism Slow films dispense with narrative progression in favour of a contemplative mood which is stretched out to the extreme in order to impel viewers to confront cinematic temporality in all its undivided glory Despite its critical reputation as an oblique mode of film practice slow cinema continues to attract challenge and provoke audiences Focusing on filmmakers B la Tarr Tsai Ming liang and Nuri Bilge Ceylan this book identifies nostalgia absurd humour and boredom as intrinsic dimensions of slow cinema and explores the ways in which these directors negotiate local filmmaking conventions with the demands of a global cinephile niche As the first study to treat slow cinema both as an aesthetic style and as an institutional discourse Poetics of Slow Cinema offers an illuminating perspective on the tradition s historical genealogy and envisions it with a Janus faced disposition in the age of digital technologies lamenting at once the passing of difficult ambiguous modernist film and capitalizing on the yearning for its absence

Conversations with Kafka Gustav Janouch, 2012-08-01 A literary gem a portrait from life of Franz Kafka now with an ardent preface by Francine Prose avowed fan of Janouch s odd and beautiful book Gustav Janouch met Franz Kafka the celebrated author of The Metamorphosis as a seventeen year old fledgling poet As Francine Prose notes in her wonderful preface they fell into the habit of taking long strolls through the city strolls on which Kafka seems to have said many amazing incisive literary and per things to his companion and interlocutor the teenage Boswell of Prague Crossing a windswept square apropos of something or other Kafka tells Janouch Life is infinitely great and profound as the immensity of the stars above us One can only look at it through the narrow keyhole of one s personal experience But through it one perceives more than one can see So above all one must keep the keyhole clean They talk about writing Kafka s own but also that of his favorite writers Poe Kleist and Rimbaud who transforms vowels into colors as well as technology film crime Darwinism Chinese philosophy carpentry insomnia street fights Hindu scripture art suicide and prayer Prayer Kafka notes brings its infinite radiance to bed in the frail little cradle of one s own existence

On Garbage John

Scanlan,2005-03 On Garbage is the first book to examine the detritus of Western culture in full range not only material waste and ruin but also residual or broken knowledge and the lingering remainders of cultural thought systems Pynchon and the Political Samuel Thomas,2010-04-02 Thomas Pynchon s writing has been widely regarded as an exemplary form of postmodern fiction It is characterized as genre defying and enigmatic as a series of complex and esoteric language games This study attempts to demonstrate however that an oblique yet compelling sense of the political Pynchon disappears all too easily under the mantle of postmodernity Innovative and unsettling discussions of freedom war labour poverty community democracy and totalitarianism are passed over in favour of constrictive scientific metaphors and theoretical play Against this current this study analyses Pynchon s fiction in terms of its radical dimension showing how it points to new directions in the relationship between the political and the aesthetic Kafkaesque Cinema Angelos Koutsourakis,2024-05-31 For all its familiarity as a widely used term e Kafkaesque cinemae remains an often baffling concept that is poorly understood by film scholars Taking a cue from Jorge Luis Borges point that Kafka has modified our conception of past and future artists and Andre Bazin s suggestion that literary concepts and styles can exceed authors and e novels from which they emanate this monograph proposes a comprehensive examination of Kafkaesque Cinema in order to understand it as part of a transnational cinematic tradition rooted in Kafka s critique of modernity which however extends beyond the Bohemian author s work and his historical experiences Drawing on a range of disciplines in the Humanities including film literary and theatre studies critical theory and history Kafkaesque Cinema will be the first full length study of the subject and will be a useful resource for scholars and students interested in film theory World Cinema World Literature and politics and representation Utopia and Democracy Zsolt Czigányik,Iva Dimovska,2025-09-26 This book provides a comprehensive review of the relationship between utopia and democracy challenging the tendency in Western scholarship to assume that an ideal society is inherently democratic Taking an interdisciplinary approach the book covers an extensive range of historical periods and genres and places emphasis on an understudied issue in the field namely the role of Eastern and Central Europe in the study of utopianism The various chapters reflect on the frequently overlooked role utopian thought plays in the development of democratic political structures despite the fact that the history of classical utopianism demonstrates a multitude of non democratic patterns With contributions from political theory history cultural and literary studies the volume explores a range of contexts demonstrating how utopias offer both a critique and an inspiration for the evolution of democratic societies

The Languages of World Literature Achim Hölter,2024-03-04 This volume opens the series of papers presented at the Vienna Congress of AILC ICLA 2016 beginning with eight keynotes Thirty four further papers are dedicated to the central theme of the conference the linguistic side of world literature under different focal points The volume further contains five roundtables the papers of a workshop of the UNESCO memory of the worlds programme a presentation of the avldigital de platform as well as several bibliographically enriched overviews of the special lexicography of comparative literature up to date versions of the ICLA publications and an example of multiple translations of a famous modern classic The Dictator's Dictation Robert Boyers, 2005-10-26 In these elegant essays many of them originally written for The New Republic and Harper's Robert Boyers examines the role of the political imagination in shaping the works of such important contemporary writers as W G Sebald and Philip Roth Nadine Gordimer and Mario Vargas Llosa Natalia Ginzburg and Pat Barker J M Coetzee and John Updike V S Naipaul and Anita Desai Occasionally he finds that politics actually figures very little in works that only pretend to be interested in politics Elsewhere he discovers that certain writers are not equal to the political issues they take on or that their work is fatally compromised by complacency or wishful thinking In the main though Boyers writes as a lover of great literature who wishes to understand how the best writers do justice to their own political obsessions without suggesting that everything is reducible to politics Resisting the notion that novels can be effectively translated into ideas or positions he resists as well the notion that art and politics must be held apart lest works of fiction somehow be contaminated by their association with real life or public issues The essays offer a combination of close reading argument and assessment What Boyers asks is the relationship between form and substance in a work whose formal properties are particularly striking Is it reasonable to think of a particular writer as reactionary merely because he presents an unflattering portrait of revolutionary activists or because he is less than optimistic about the future of newly independent societies What is the status of private life in works set in politically tumultuous times Can the novelist be responsible if he consistently refuses to engage the conditions that affect even the intimate lives of his characters Such questions inform these essays which strive to be true to the essential spirit of the works they discuss and to interrogate as sympathetically as possible the imagination of writers who negotiate the unstable relationships between society and the individual art and ideas Politics and Time Michael J. Shapiro, 2016-09-06 Catastrophic events like the bombing of Hiroshima Hurricane Katrina's devastation of New Orleans and drone strikes periodically achieve renewed political significance as subsequent developments summon them back to public awareness But why and how do different conceptions of time inform and challenge these key events and the narratives they create In this book Michael J Shapiro provides an approach to politics and time that unsettles official collective histories by introducing analyses of lived experience articulated in cinematic televisual musical and literary genres His investigation is framed by questions of our responsibility to acknowledge those victims of violence and catastrophe who have failed to rise above the threshold of public recognition Ultimately by focusing on time as an active force shaping our conception of political life we can deepen our understanding of complex political dynamics and improve the theories and methods we rely on to interpret them This bold and original book will be of interest to students and scholars of political theory cultural studies and cinema studies looking for a new perspective on the temporal aspects of political life

Carnivale and the American Grotesque Peg Aloi, Hannah E. Johnston, 2015-02-13 HBO's Carnivale was a critically acclaimed elaborate period narrative set in Depression era America that set the stage for the current explosion of cinematic storytelling on television Despite an ambitious and unusual storyline remarkable production design and stellar cast the show was cancelled after only two seasons No other television series has been so steeped in history spirituality and occultism and years later it retains a cult like following This collection of fresh essays explores the series through a diverse array of topics from visual aesthetics to tarot symbolism to sexuality to the portrayal of deformity Organic Cinema Thorsten

Botz-Bornstein,2017-06-01 The organic is by now a venerable concept within aesthetics architecture and art history but what might such a term mean within the spatialities and temporalities of film By way of an answer this concise and innovative study locates organicity in the work of B la Tarr the renowned Hungarian filmmaker and pioneer of the slow cinema movement Through a wholly original analysis of the long take and other signature features of Tarr s work author Thorsten Botz Bornstein establishes compelling links between the seemingly remote spheres of film and architecture revealing shared organic principles that emphasize the transcendence of boundaries The Cinematic Political Michael J.

Shapiro,2019-11-01 In this book Michael J Shapiro stages a series of pedagogical encounters between political theory represented as a compositional challenge and cinematic texts emphasizing how to achieve an effective research paper essay by heeding the compositional strategies of films The text s distinctiveness is its focus on the intermediation between two textual genres It is aimed at providing both a conceptual introduction to the politics of aesthetics and a guide to writing strategies In its illustrations of encounters between political theory and cinema the book s critical edge is its emphasis on how to intervene in cinematic texts with innovative conceptual frames in ways that challenge dominant understandings of life worlds The Cinematic Political is designed as a teaching resource that introduces students to the relationship between film form and political thinking With diverse illustrative investigations the book instructs students on how to watch films with an eye toward writing a research paper in which a film or set of films constitutes the textual vehicle for political theorizing
