The Churches and the Development Debate Ignatius Swart, 2006-05-01 This book newly addresses the question about the Christian churches participation in development The innovative element of this reflection is the way in which the author finds meaning and significance particularly in the concept of a fourth generation approach to strategic development engagement The book s essential argument is that a fourth generation strategy an approach that makes the contemporary social or people s movements the primary subjects of its development action and theory holds the greatest prospect for authentic participation by the Christian churches in development

Theology and Economic Ethics Sean Doherty, 2014-03 In the wake of the economic crisis few questions are more pressing than those around the ethics of finance and economics Theology and Economic Ethics expands the self critical resources of contemporary theological economic ethics by bringing the method of a pre modern thinker Martin Luther 1483 1546 into interaction with that of a modern contribution to social ethics the Swiss theologian Arthur Rich 1910 92 The work is undertaken through a close engagement with a selected publication of Luther his 1519 20 Grosser Sermon von dem Wucher and of Rich his masterwork Wirtschaftsethik published in two volumes in 1984 and 1990 respectively It is the first substantial treatment in English of Rich s magnum opus Sean Doherty introduces Luther s sermon on usury situates it in its context then provides a commentary on this work discussing how Luther brings key theological motifs to bear on a particular economic question The study proceeds with a sketch of Arthur Rich s life and work and presents Rich s method as set out in Wirtschaftsethik Doherty illuminates Rich s understanding of ethics his approach to Scripture and his adoption of the thought of Max Weber and John Rawls Bringing insights from the study of Luther to bear in an analysis of Rich s method Doherty questions some of Rich s assumptions and notes ways in which a more self critical approach could have made his project more successful Finally the book makes tentative suggestions as to the wider applicability of these findings for a Christian approach to economic ethics

Christianity and Resistance in the 20th Century Søren von Dösten, Søren Zibrandt von Dösten-Lyng, 2009 How is the Christian supposed to act when his or her government misbehaves Should one suffer and obey the authority or should one render resistance and if so should it be passive or active and if active should it be violent or not This book will not provide the answer to this question but it will describe and analyse important persons of the 20th century who were placed in a situation where they did not merely turn the other cheek but felt that they had to resist a regime a decision which had consequences for them all Thus the book provides insight to a central and current question of Christian and indeed religious thinking

Hermeneutical Theology and the Imperative of Public Ethics Paul S. Chung, 2013-10-23 Hermeneutical Theology and the Imperative of Public Ethics is a groundbreaking attempt to present constructive missional theology in an integrative and interdisciplinary framework as it provocatively utilizes and contextualizes Reformation theology and hermeneutics concerning ethical theology embedded within the wider horizon of World Christianity Mission as constructive theology is explored and refined in an hermeneutical and interdisciplinary fashion underlying a new horizon of postcolonial theology and mission in light of God's act of speech Missional church founded up God's grace of justification and Christ's diakonia of reconciliation becomes ethically oriented public church as it is engaged in interreligious diversity of people's lives and lifeworld in the postcolonial context of World Christianity

Property for People, Not for Profit Ulrich Duchrow, Franz J. Hinkelammert, 2013-07-04 The issue of private property and the rights it confers remain almost undiscussed in critiques of globalization and free market economics Yet property lies at the heart of an economic system geared to profit maximization The authors describe the historically specific and self consciously explicit manner in which it emerged They trace this history from earliest historical times and show how in the hands of Thomas Hobbes and John Locke in particular the notion of private property took on its absolutist nature and most extreme form a form which neoliberal economics is now imposing on humanity worldwide through the pressures of globalization They argue that avoiding the destruction of people's ways of living and of Nature requires reshaping our notions of private property They look at practical ways for social and ecumenical movements to press for alternatives
