Too Loud A Solitude By Bohumil Hrabal:

Too Loud a Solitude Bohumil Hrabal, 1992-04-27 A fable about the power of books and knowledge finely balanced between pathos and comedy from one of Czechoslovakia's most popular authors Los Angeles Times A New York Times Notable Book Ha t has been compacting trash for thirty five years Every evening he rescues books from the jaws of his hydraulic press carries them home and fills his house with them Ha t may be an idiot as his boss calls him but he is an idiot with a difference the ability to quote the Talmud Hegel and Lao Tzu In this irresistibly eccentric romp the author Milan Kundera has called our very best writer today celebrates the power and the indestructibility of the written word The New York Times Book Review Too Loud a Solitude : Novel ,1992 Bohumil Hrabal. A Full-length Portrait Jiří Pelán, 2019 Described as one of the great prose stylists of the twentieth century Bohumil Hrabal ranks among the most important and widely translated Czech authors Ji Pel n a respected scholar of Czech French and Italian literature approaches Hrabal as a comparatist expertly situating him within the context of European and world literature as he explores the entirety of Hrabal's oeuvre and its development over sixty years Praised for its concise clear and readable style Bohumil Hrabal A Full length Portrait offers international readers an important Czech perspective on the world class author Contains 32 photographs of Bohumil Hrabal a list of his works English translations to date and a bibliography of international scholarship History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2007-07-18 The third volume in the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe focuses on the making and remaking of those institutional structures that engender and regulate the creation distribution and reception of literature The focus here is not so much on shared institutions but rather on such region wide analogous institutional processes as the national awakening the modernist opening and the communist regimentation the canonization of texts and censorship of literature These processes which took place in all of the region's cultures were often asynchronous and subjected to different local conditions The volume's premise is that the national awakening and institutionalization of literature were symbiotically interrelated in East Central Europe Each national awakening involves a language renewal an introduction of the vernacular and its literature in schools and universities the creation of an infrastructure for the publication of books and journals clashes with censorship the founding of national academies libraries and theaters a re construction of national folklore and the writing of histories of the vernacular literature The four parts of this volume are titled 1 Publishing and Censorship 2 Theater as a Literary Institution 3 Forging Primal Pasts The Uses of Folk Poetry and 4 Literary Histories Itineraries of National Self images Prague Palimpsest Alfred Thomas, 2010-10-15 A city of immense literary mystique Prague has inspired writers across the centuries with its beauty cosmopolitanism and tragic history Envisioning the ancient city in central Europe as a multilayered text or palimpsest that has been constantly revised and rewritten from the medieval and Renaissance chroniclers who legitimized the city's foundational origins to the modernists of the early twentieth century who established its reputation as the new capital of the avant garde Alfred Thomas argues that Prague has become a paradoxical site of inscription and effacement of memory and forgetting a utopian link to the prewar and pre Holocaust European past and a dystopia of totalitarian amnesia Considering a wide range of writers including the city s most famous son Franz Kafka Prague Palimpsest reassesses the work of poets and novelists such as Bohumil Hrabal Milan Kundera Gustav Meyrink Jan Neruda V t zslav Nezval and Rainer Maria Rilke and engages with other famous authors who wrote Prague including Guillaume Apollinaire Ingeborg Bachmann Albert Camus Paul Celan and W G Sebald The result is a comparative interdisciplinary study that helps to explain why Prague more than any other major European city has haunted the cultural and political imagination of the West

Modern Czech Literature: Writing in Times of Political Trauma Andrew M. Drozd, 2025-05-20 Modern Czech culture has experienced a series of political traumas starting in the 1930s Despite the difficult shifting conditions Czech writers have not only managed to contend with the situation but have produced many fine literary efforts This volume consists of seven articles by an international team of authors who are specialists in Czech literature The first four chapters treat very well known writers There is one chapter on Karel apek and his play The White Plague There are three chapters on Milan Kundera the internationally best known Czech writer with one of these chapters covering both Kundera and Bohumil Hrabal The last three chapters deal with more recent and or lesser known writers One chapter treats the Brothers Topol and the music underground one chapter treats Czech literary responses to the period of the Normalization and the final chapter treats Eda Kriseov This volume presents new perspectives on Czech literature and will be of interest to specialists in Czech literature and history Central European literature and history Nazism and Communism For example although much has been written about Kundera the three articles provide further treatments of three different aspects of his work his ties to Russian literature his misogyny and the philosophical content of his novels Specialists interested in the period of the Normalization and after will find the last three chapters particularly useful The chapters are suitable for classroom use in courses in both Czech literature and Czech or Central European history All material from Czech language sources presented in the chapters is given in English translation

Am I Alone Here? Peter Orner, 2016-10-25 This National Book Critics Circle Award is an entrancing attempt to catch what falls between the irreducibly personal messy even embarrassing ways reading and living bleed into each other which neither literary criticism nor autobiography ever quite acknowledges The New York Times Stories both my own and those I've taken to heart make up whoever it is that I've become Peter Orner writes in this collection of essays about reading writing and living Orner reads and writes everywhere he finds himself a hospital cafeteria a coffee shop in Albania or a crowded bus in Haiti The result is a book of unlearned meditations that stumbles into memoir Among the many writers Orner addresses are Isaac Babel and Zora Neale Hurston both of whom told their truths and were silenced Franz Kafka who professed loneliness but craved connection Robert Walser who spent the last twenty three years of his life in a Swiss insane asylum working at being crazy and Juan Rulfo who practiced the difficult art of silence Virginia Woolf Eudora Welty Yasunari Kawabata Saul Bellow Mavis Gallant John Edgar Wideman William Trevor and Vaclav Havel make appearances as well as the poet Herbert Morris about whom almost nothing is known An elegy for an eccentric late father and the end of a marriage Am I Alone Here is also a celebration of the possibility of renewal At once personal and panoramic this book will inspire readers to return to the essential stories of their own lives The New Enlightenment and the Fight to Free Knowledge Peter B.

Kaufman, 2021-02-23 How do we create a universe of truthful and verifiable information available to everyone In The New Enlightenment and the Fight to Free Knowledge MIT Open Learning's Peter B Kaufman describes the powerful forces that have purposely crippled our efforts to share knowledge widely and freely Popes and their inquisitors emperors and their hangmen commissars and their secret police throughout history all have sought to stanch the free flow of information Kaufman writes of times when the Bible could not be translated you'd be burned for trying when dictionaries and encyclopedias were forbidden when literature and science and history books were trashed and pulped sometimes along with their authors and when efforts to develop public television and radio networks were quashed by private industry In the 21st century the enemies of free thought have taken on new and different guises giant corporate behemoths sprawling national security agencies gutted regulatory commissions Bereft of any real moral compass or sense of social responsibility their work to surveil and control us are no less nefarious than their 16th and 18th and 20th century predecessors They are all part of what Kaufman calls the Monsterverse The New Enlightenment and the Fight to Free Knowledge maps out the opportunities to mobilize for the fight ahead of us With the Internet and other means of media production and distribution video especially at hand knowledge institutions like universities libraries museums and archives have a special responsibility now to counter misinformation disinformation and fake news and especially efforts to control the free flow of information A film and video producer and former book publisher Kaufman begins to draft a new social contract for our networked video age. He draws his inspiration from those who fought tooth and nail against earlier incarnations of the Monsterverse including William Tyndale in the 16th century, Denis Diderot in the 18th, untold numbers of Soviet and Central and East European dissidents in the 20th, many of whom paid the ultimate price. Their successors: Advocates of free knowledge like Aaron Swartz, of free software like Richard Stallman, of an enlightened public television and radio network like James Killian, of a freer Internet like Tim Berners-Lee, of fuller rights and freedoms like Edward Snowden. All have been striving to secure for us a better world marked by the right balance between state, society and private gain. The concluding section of the book, its largest piece, builds on their work, drawing up a progressive agenda for how today's free thinkers can band together now to fight and win. With everything shut and everyone going online, The New Enlightenment and the Fight to Free Knowledge is a rousing call to action that expands the definition of what it means to be a citizen in the 21st century.
