Postwar Higher Education in America Richard B. Schwartz, 2018-09-15 The twenty million students now pursuing higher education in America are paying more than history culture and the consumer price index can possibly justify while the product they are purchasing is one that has become systematically debased General education has been depreciated core curricula eroded expectations at all levels reduced Slightly above half of the currently enrolled students are graduating and only half of those are finding employment commensurate with what was once understood to be an authentic college education Many are saddled with crippling debt a particularly cruel reality for those who are unemployed or underemployed and unable to remove their debts via bankruptcy Commentators now refer to the college campus as a country club or a daycare facility one that is populated by a host of counselors tutors and hand holders who serve an often unprepared or underprepared student body Remedial courses are commonplace even with the systematic reduction of expectations Among competing nations international tests place our 15 year olds no higher than 19th in three critical categories Many now speak of K 16 education as our colleges replicate the atmosphere and behaviors of our grammar and high schools How did we reach this point How did the erosion of faculty and curricular authority occur within our institutions of higher learning What roles were played by the radical students of the 1960s How did our colleges of education contribute to the problem How did corporatist administrators replace academic leaders and leverage ideologies to extend bureaucracy attract and secure tuition dollars at any intellectual cost and create self serving career paths for individuals running across the cracking ice of ineptitude and a lack of personal commitment Most important how can we reverse this process recapture the relevant strengths of past practices escape the gray vocationalism we now encounter at every turn and return to principles and standards that can legitimately be termed authentic How can we save the previously marginalized students who suffer the most within the current system These are the questions posed by this book Teaching Global History Alan J.

Masalha,2022-02-24 In this magisterial cultural history of the Palestinians Nur Masalha illuminates the entire history of Palestinian learning with specific reference to writing education literary production and the intellectual revolutions in the country The book introduces this long cultural heritage to demonstrate that Palestine was not just a holy land for the four monotheistic religions Islam Christianity Judaism and Samaritanism rather the country evolved to become a major international site of classical education and knowledge production in multiple languages including Sumerian Proto Canaanite Greek Syriac Arabic Hebrew and Latin The cultural saturation of the country is found then not solely in landmark mosques churches and synagogues but in scholarship historic schools colleges famous international libraries and archival centres This unique book unites these renowned institutions movements and multiple historical periods for the first time presenting them as part of a cumulative and incremental intellectual advancement rather than disconnected periods of educational excellence In doing so this multifaceted intellectual history transforms the orientations of scholarly research on Palestine and propels current historical knowledge on education and literacy in Palestine to new heights Women and Islam Ibtissam

Bouachrine,2014-05-21 Muslim women of all ages economic status educational backgrounds sexual orientations and from different parts of historically Muslim countries suffer the kinds of atrocities that violate common understandings of human rights and are normally denounced as criminal or pathological yet these actions are sustained because they uphold some religious doctrine or some custom blessed by local traditions Ironically while instances of abuse meted out to women and even female children are routine scholarship about Muslim women in the post 9 11 era has rarely focused attention on them preferring to speak of women s agency and resistance Too few scholars are willing to tell the complicated and at times harrowing stories of Muslim women s lives Women and Islam Myths Apologies and the Limits of Feminist Critique radically rethinks the celebratory discourse constructed around Muslim women s resistance It shows instead the limits of such resistance and the restricted agency given women within Islamic societies The book does not center on a single historical period Rather it is organized as a response to five questions that have been central to upholding the resistance discourse

What is the impact of the myth of al Andalus on a feminist critique What is the feminist utility of Edward Said s theory of Orientalism Is Islam compatible with a feminist agenda To what extent can Islamic institutions such as the veil be liberating for women Will the current Arab uprisings yield significant change for Muslim women Through examination of these core questions Bouachrine calls for a shift in the paradigm of discourse about feminism in the Muslim world Cover images provided by Tachfine Bouachrine

A Cultural History of Race in the Renaissance and Early Modern Age Kimberly Ann Coles,Dorothy Kim,2023-06-01 The past is always an interpretive act from the lens of the present Through the lens of critical race theory the essays collected here explore new analytical models theoretical frameworks and methodological approaches in attempting to reimagine the European Renaissance and early modern periods in terms of global expansion awareness and participation Centering race in these periods requires that we acknowledge the people against whom social hierarchies and differential treatment were directed This collection takes Europe as its focus but White Europeans are not centred in it and the experiences of Black Africans Asians Jews and Muslims are not relegated to the margins of a shared history Situating Europe within a global context forces the reconsideration of the violence that attends the interaction of peoples both across cultures and enmired within them The less we are attentive to the cultural interactions cross cultural migrations and global dimensions of the late medieval and early modern periods the less we are forced to recognize the violence intolerance power struggles and enforced suppressions that attend them
