Indigenous Teaching Disciplines and Perspectives for Higher Education Kgari-Masondo, Maserole Christina, 2025-03-28 Literature indicates that sociolinguists and educationists often claim multilingual practice and Africanizing and Indigenizing education will jeopardize national unity and social cohesion Such claims delay the implementation of decolonization policies and the transformation of the curriculum under false assumptions However research reveals many Indigenous students struggle with higher educational content which is often presented through languages that are unfamiliar to them This implies that there is a need to uncover resources that can assist in necessitating the implementation of Indigenous education globally and that all multilingual strategies in education must be based on quality mother tongue illustrative content as its foundation As a result further research on the subject is necessary to enhance teaching strategies that reach all Indigenous students Indigenous Teaching Disciplines and Perspectives for Higher Education illustrates the need for the implementation of a decolonized teaching and learning curriculum with integrated resources as models It explores how to improve Indigenous knowledge content and teaching methods Covering topics such as cultural identity African research methodology and Indigenous media this book is an excellent resource for teachers policymakers school administrators researchers scholars academicians and more Geography Teacher Education and Professionalization Eyüp Artvinli, Inga Gryl, Jongwon Lee, Jerry T. Mitchell, 2022-11-02 This book focuses on how current and prospective teachers worldwide are prepared for the significant task of teaching geography given the important role of teachers It eschews a traditional career centric framework pre service in service teaching in favor of a topical approach toward issues that all teachers face The book updates thinking on geography education subfields such as GI education and fieldwork and traces important contemporary discourses such as digitalization and sustainability The book further explains the broad variety of institutionalization of geography teacher education in various political systems In short this book collects strategies for geography teacher educators worldwide to provide insight into the challenges conditions and solutions present at the classroom and institutional level As such this book is a must have for teacher educators and geography teachers worldwide

Handbook of Research on Creating Spaces for African Epistemologies in the Inclusive Education Discourse Maguvhe, Mbulaheni Obert, Masuku, Mfundo Mandla, 2021-12-31 Students with disabilities who are not able to perform to the best of their abilities often find themselves learning in inaccessible environments and subjected to increased stress levels due to the haphazard provisioning of education characterized by physical communicative and unsuitable teaching and learning approaches Very often this is a result of various shortcomings including unfair assessment practices Misconceptions and a lack of knowledge with regard to the implementation of inclusive education detract from the successful admission of students with disabilities and their retention and active participation The Handbook of Research on Creating Spaces for African Epistemologies in the Inclusive Education Discourse explores the concept of inclusive education in an African context. It advocates for the monitoring and evaluation of inclusive education and proposes interventions where reasonable accommodation or lack of accessibility is a reason for students with disabilities to not benefit from this system. Covering topics such as barriers to learning, rural schools, and student support, this major reference work is an essential resource for administrators, advocates for students with disabilities, policymakers, researchers, pre-service teachers, educators, academicians, and students.

Instructional Leadership and Leadership for Learning in Schools Tony

Townsend, 2019-09-27. This book offers a nuanced understanding of how two different theories of leadership can be applied to achieve better results within schools. These leadership theories, Instructional Leadership and Leadership for Learning, have assisted our recent understanding of school leadership. This book interrogates the theories themselves as well as their impact on education systems around the world. It also looks at how they can be practically applied to educate school leaders within their schools and beyond, building partnerships with families, schools, and other community agencies serving students. In doing so, the book considers the possibility that these theories are not opposed but two sides of the same coin. Both are underpinned by the question: how do we provide the best educational experience for students? The answer to this question will determine the way leaders go about the task of leading schools. This important book will be of interest and value to students and scholars of educational leadership as well as educational leaders themselves.
