Ann R. Sutton, Practice Makes Perfect Scratch That Practice Makes Permanent Especially for your Kid Kids are like a blank space an empty Microsoft Word document with a blinking cursor They are waiting for you to write something to steer the course They look at what you do the way you speak even how you treat the dog And whatever they learn from you and practice often is going to shape the rest of their lives They observe and practice a lot of things At this stage the blank space is getting filled up with lessons they learned every day whether good or bad they become their character their habit That is why it s tough to get your kid to stop sucking at his her thumbs if he or she does it very often At a later age you ll find the possibility of your kid unlearning these bad habits almost nonexistent But if you ever want to make your kid fall in love with learning new stuff like it s a bad habit then you should get it right the first time So what if you could make learning a habit for your kid And Instead of them sitting in front of the TV after school with a bag of Doritos they could be learning stuff that will enhance their overall love for education What if you could help your kid enjoy school more make better grades and reduce behavior problems at the same time And what if you could do all these without any piece of self doubt or impostor syndrome that comes with homeschooling If your answer is a resounding YES then you just might get your kid to start learning awesome stuff before the end of the week because this book is packed with more than 100 never seen before ideas that will take you and your kid from zero to a hundred in being the perfect learning buddies You will learn Fun things to keep kids busy at home Creative activities to boost self discipline At home bonding activities to do with your toddler Activities to boost your toddler s development 100 learning activities for 2 year olds And many more This book is not only geared toward making your kid fall in love with learning but also to foster a healthy relationship between you and your kid

Perfect Copy Jonathan Agar,2009-09-03 Cloning is some of the most exciting science and one of the most keenly fought moral debates of our time Perfect Copy is a uniquely accessible exploration this most vexed and pressing issue In 1997 Ian Wilmut and his team announced that they had done what many thought to be impossible They had cloned a mammal from an adult cell This breakthrough prompted immediate calls for the new technology of mammalian cloning to be used on humans Italian fertility specialist Severino Antinori hopes to use cloning within two years to give 200 infertile couples the opportunity to at last become parents Cloning may also solve once and for all the problem of rejection that bedevils transplant surgery Perhaps it even holds the promise of eternal life But plans to clone humans have triggered a storm of protest Scientists including Wilmut politicians from left and right and theologians from almost all religions find the idea abhorrent We cannot possibly decide who is right in this debate unless we have a good understanding of what a human clone is and how one would be created Nicholas Agar unravels the science and the ethics of cloning and begins to show how we should approach this fantastically problematic area

Children & Family Stephen Gislason, 2016-05-06 Examines the intense interactions of parents and children From Dr G's preface Parents receive a lot of advice from many people Popular magazines and books offer a continuous stream of conflicting advice Professionals have a variety of opinions about child rearing that range from helpful suggestions to misleading and even bizarre ideas Child psychology is an eclectic assembly of ideas miscellaneous observations opinions fears and irrational beliefs Confusion prevails in education about what children should learn and how they should learn it Parents receive a lot of advice from many people Popular magazines and books offer a continuous stream of conflicting advice If psychologists physicians and educators are confused what about parents The best parents are pragmatic and not theorists They stay involved with their children follow some basic guidelines they learned and tend to do whatever works Good parents improvise childcare with a combination of innate generosity common sense love and concessions to the demands of modern life In this book I develop a perspective based on understanding human nature The deep lineage for every human lies in the interaction of many layers of biological determinants The culture of parents schools and community impose a second lineage on a child that sets limits on the form and content of learning A family is any combination of adults and children that creates a home The essence of family is caring and nurturing We are social creatures Children are innately social but need to learn what we are doing these days The learning requirement is greater than ever before because we now depend on complicated technologies and must learn to interact with a great number of other humans who will be different from us in many ways To include more humans in the family of man as constructive peaceful contributors each child must receive loving care the right food sophisticated education opportunities for employment and the freedom to express his or her version of humanity Thoughtful well educated and affluent parents have the opportunity to understand their responsibilities to plan and allocate resources for an unborn child A good parent faces a continuous series of challenges and problems that need solution Parenting is not an easy job A realistic understanding of human nature will help parents to guide their children toward a successful adult life the determination of obtaining an answer but starting with the fact that we don't know what it is and perhaps through a journey within oneself one can discover what is the essence of this art of nothing To discover this one must really ask the question of what is life not someone else's life but your life Can we investigate in such a way as to discover if the art of nothing is indeed the art that transforms your entire consciousness to be free of suffering or does it introduce another idealistic theory for which we will stay trapped in our current way of living A timeless collection of Gabriele Ciminelli's works based on love freedom and passion for all humanity It questions the very state of human consciousness the never ending search for peace in this world the illusory ways of the ego self and the essence or the sacredness of the human being sacred being the untouchable the indescribable the silence the nothing The Art of Nothing requires an honest dialogue with oneself to uncover what has cleverly been hidden from you life These excerpts are not based on science philosophy knowledge from books or retreats and therefore speak to anyone open to the wholeness and beauty of life and love that comes about with insights on nothing This is a book for those who are open to the unlimitedness of allowing love and compassion to flow through them in daily living
