Literary Contexts in Novels: Anita Diamant's 'The Red Tent'. , The Genesis of Fiction Terry R. Wright,2016-03-09 This book considers a range of twentieth century novelists who practise a creative mode of reading the Bible exploring aspects of the Book of Genesis which more conventional biblical criticism sometimes ignores Each chapter considers some of the interpretive challenges of the relevant story in Genesis especially those noted by rabbinic midrash which serves as a model for such creative rewriting of the biblical text All the novelists considered from Mark Twain John Steinbeck and Thomas Mann to Jeanette Winterson Anita Diamant and Jenny Diski are shown to have been aware of the midrashic tradition and in some cases to have incorporated significant elements from it into their own writing The questions these modern and postmodern writers ask of the Bible however go beyond those permitted by the rabbis and by other believing interpretive communities Each chapter therefore attempts to chart intertextually where the writers are coming from what principles govern their mode of reading and rewriting Genesis and what conclusions can be drawn about the ways in which it remains possible to relate to the Bible     The Red Tent Lois Ruby, Anita Diamant, 2003 The story of Dinah a tragic character from the Bible whose great love a prince is killed by her brother leaving her alone and pregnant The novel traces her life from childhood to death in the process examining sexual and religious practices of the day and what it meant to be a woman

The Hebrew Bible in Contemporary Fiction and Poetry Lena-Sofia Tiemeyer, 2025-03-31 This book discusses 20th and 21st centuries literary retellings of biblical texts focusing on how fiction and poetry fill the extant narrative gaps present in the often sparse biblical accounts and align the narratives with theological and or cultural expectations of modern interpreting communities The chapters written by an international group of scholars explore biblical retellings in a variety of modern languages ranging from Korean and Chinese to Hebrew and Arabic Most of the contributions deal with retellings of the narrative books Genesis Exodus Judges Ruth 1 2 Samuel Daniel but a few are devoted to prophetic Hosea and poetic Psalms ones Another set of articles looks beyond specific biblical books and instead analyses how the Bible has been retold in different literary genres Children and YA literature sci fi and fantasy Christian Inspiration fiction and in modern political discourse North and South Korea All the chapters further highlight how literary retellings of the Bible form two way movements They reveal the often subversive quality of literary retellings retellings not only emphasise those nuances in the biblical texts that create unease but also problematise their standpoint and question their moral and theological message The Hebrew Bible in Contemporary Fiction and Poetry is suitable for students and scholars of biblical studies working on intertextuality and reception history It is also of interest to those working on comparative literature particularly with regards to the Hebrew Bible in popular culture and literature     Pitching My Tent Anita Diamant, 2003-10-02 From the bestselling author of The Red Tent and Good Harbor a collection of intimate autobiographical reflections on the milestones revelations and balancing acts of life as a wife mother friend and member of a religious community Before The Red Tent won her international literary acclaim Anita Diamant was a columnist in Boston Over the course of twenty years she wrote essays that reflected the shape and evolution of her life as well as the trends of her generation In the end her musings about love and marriage birth and death nature versus nurture politics and religion and everything from female friendships to quitting smoking have created a public diary of the progress of her life that resonated deeply with her readers Now Pitching My Tent collects the finest columns of a writer who is a reporter by training and a storyteller by heart all revised and enriched with new material Personal inspiring and often funny Pitching My Tent displays the warmth humor and wisdom that Diamant's legions of fans have come to cherish     New Blood Chris Bobel, 2010-05-05 New Blood offers a fresh interdisciplinary look at feminism in flux For over three decades menstrual activists have questioned the safety and necessity of feminine care products while contesting menstruation as a deeply entrenched taboo Chris Bobel shows how a little known yet enduring force in the feminist health environmental and consumer rights movements lays bare tensions between second and third wave feminisms and reveals a complicated story of continuity and change within the women s movement Through her critical ethnographic lens Bobel focuses on debates central to feminist thought including the utility of the category gender and challenges to building an inclusive feminist movement Filled with personal narratives playful visuals and original humor New Blood reveals middle aged progressives communing in Red Tents urban punks and artists culture jamming commercial menstrual products in their zines and sketch comedy queer anarchists practicing DIY health care African American health educators espousing holistic womb health and hopeful mothers refusing to pass on the shame to their pubescent daughters With verve and conviction Bobel illuminates today s feminism on the ground indisputably vibrant contentious and ever dynamic
