The Road Home By Jim Harrison:

The Road Home Jim Harrison, 2007-12-01 In one of Jim Harrison's greatest works five members of the Northridge family narrate the tangled epic of their history on the Nebraska plains. The Road Home continues the story of the captivating heroine Dalva and her peculiar and remarkable family. It encompasses the voices of Dalva's grandfather John Northridge, the austere hard-living half-Sioux patriarch Naomi, the widow of his favorite son and namesake Paul, the first Northridge son who lived in the shadow of his brother, and Nelse, the son taken from Dalva at birth who now has returned to find her. It is haunted by the hovering spirits of the father and the lover Dalva lost to this country's wars. It is a family history drenched in suffering and joy, imbued with fierce independence and love rooted in the Nebraska soil and intertwined with the destiny of whites and native Americans in the American West. Epic in scope, stretching from the close of the nineteenth century to the present day, The Road Home is a stunning and trenchant novel written with the humor, humanity, and inimitable evocation of the American spirit that have delighted Jim Harrison's legion of fans. A graceful novel. To read this book is to feel the luminosity of nature in one's own being. The New York Times Book Review. The Road Home confirms what his longtime fans already know: Harrison is on the short list of American literary masters. The Denver Post. Demonstrates why Harrison is considered one of the best storytellers around. The Washington Post. The Road Home is Harrison at the peak of his powers, a splendid combined prequel and sequel, very much alive and probably his best novel. Boston Sunday Herald. The Road Home Jim Harrison, 1999

Conversations with Jim Harrison, Revised and Updated Robert DeMott, 2018-12-18 Conversations with Jim Harrison, Revised and Updated offers a judicious selection of interviews spanning the writing career of Jim Harrison, 1937-2016, from its beginnings in the 1960s to the last interview he gave weeks before his death in March 2016. Harrison labeled himself and lived as a quadra-schizoid writer. He worked in fiction, poetry, nonfiction, and screenwriting, and he published more than forty books that attracted an international following. These interviews supply a lively narrative of his progress as a major contemporary American author. This collection showcases Harrison's pet peeves, his candor and humility, his sense of humor, and his patience. He does not shy from his authorial obsessions, especially his efforts to hone the novella for which he is considered a contemporary master, or the frequency with which he defied polite narrative conventions and created memorable, resolute female characters. Each conversation attests to the depth and range of Harrison's considerable intellectual and political preoccupations, his fierce social and ecological conscience, his aesthetic beliefs, and his stylistic orientations in poetry and prose. Jim Harrison Gregg Orr, Beef Torrey, 2009-06 Jim Harrison, a literary maverick, is widely considered one of the great and iconic writers in contemporary American literature. This pioneering volume, an extensive and up-to-date illustrated guide to Harrison's published works, is the first full-length catalog of a distinguished literary career spanning more than forty years. Longtime Harrison readers and collectors Gregg Orr and Beef Torrey have amassed a thorough list of the author's wide-ranging work, annotated and arranged by genre to provide a full view of the breadth of Harrison's accomplishment This work contains more than sixteen hundred citations of writings by and about Harrison including his fiction poetry essays interviews screenplays criticism and reviews it also features photographs of his books dust jackets and broadsides With a foreword by Harrison penned especially for this seminal volume and an introduction by writer and scholar Robert DeMott this is the definitive bibliographical study of a major figure in late twentieth and early twenty first century American letters Postmodern Humanism in Contemporary Literature and Culture T. Davis, K.

Womack, 2016-01-23 Davis and Womack investigate the emerging gaps between literary scholarship and the reading experience The idea of reconciling the void the locus of our sociocultural disillusionment and despair in an uncertain world concerns explicit artistic attempts to represent the ways in which human beings seek out meaning hope and community

The Midwestern Pastoral William Barillas, 2006-02-15 The midwestern pastoral is a literary tradition of place and rural experience that celebrates an attachment to land that is mystical as well as practical based on historical and scientific knowledge as well as personal experience It is exemplified in the poetry fiction and essays of writers who express an informed love of the nature and regional landscapes of the Midwest Drawing on recent studies in cultural geography environmental history and mythology as well as literary criticism The Midwestern Pastoral Place and Landscape in Literature of the American Heartland relates Midwestern pastoral writers to their local geographies and explains their approaches William Barillas treats five important Midwestern pastoralists Willa Cather Aldo Leopold Theodore Roethke James Wright and Jim Harrison in separate chapters He also discusses Jane Smiley U S Poet Laureate Ted Kooser Paul Gruchow and others For these writers the aim of writing is not merely intellectual and aesthetic but democratic and ecological In depicting and promoting commitment to local communities human and natural they express their love for their understanding of and their sense of place in the American Midwest Students and serious readers as well as scholars in the growing field of literature and the environment will appreciate this study of writers who counter alienation and materialism in modern society Rooted David R. Pichaske, 2009-05 David Pichaske has been writing and teaching about midwestern literature for three decades In Rooted by paying close attention to text landscape and biography he examines the relationship between place and art His focus is on seven midwestern authors who came of age toward the close of the twentieth century their lives and their work grounded in distinct places Dave Etter in small town upstate Illinois Norbert Blei in Door County

Wisconsin William Kloefkorn in southern Kansas and Nebraska Bill Holm in Minnesota Linda Hasselstrom in Hermosa South Dakota Jim Heynen in Sioux County Iowa and Jim Harrison in upper Michigan The writers intimate knowledge of place is reflected in their use of details of geography language environment and behavior Yet each writer reaches toward other geographies and into other dimensions of art or thought jazz music and formalism in the case of Etter gender issues in the case of Hasselstrom time past and present in the case of Kloefkorn ethnicity and the role of the artist in the case of Blei magical realism in the case of Heynen the landscape of literature in the case of Holm and the curious worlds of academia best selling novels and Hollywood films in the case of Harrison The result Pichaske notes is the growing away from roots the explorations and alter egos of these writers of place and the tension between the here and there that gives each writer s art the complexity it needs to transcend provincial boundaries Quoting generously from the writers Pichaske employs a practical jargon free literary analysis fixed in the text making Rooted interesting readable and especially useful in treating the literary categories of memoir and literary essay that have become important in recent decades

Encyclopedia of the American Novel Abby H. P. Werlock, 2015-04-22 Praise for the print edition no other reference work on American fiction brings together such an array of authors and texts as this Dalva Jim Harrison, 2013-12-20 From the New York Times bestselling author of Legends of the Fall a beautifully crafted story of one woman s journey to find her son From her home on the California coast Dalva hears the broad silence of the Nebraska prairie where she was born and longs for the son she gave up for adoption years before Beautiful fearless tormented at forty five she has lived a life of lovers and adventures Now Dalva begins a journey that will take her back to the bosom of her family to the half Sioux lover of her youth and to a pioneering great grandfather whose journals recount the bloody annihilation of the Plains Indians On the way she discovers a story that stretches from East to West from the Civil War to Wounded Knee and Vietnam and finds the balm to heal her wild and wounded soul One of Harrison s most ambitious novels Dalva explores an extraordinary family through the strong engaging voice of an unforgettable woman confirming Harrison as one of America s most memorable writers There is no putting aside Dalva until the time bombs go off the identities are revealed and the skeletons almost literally tumble from the closets Dalva is suspended in its own beauty Louise Erdrich Chicago Tribune The Making of a Sportsman Edward W.
