Crdd In Ghana:

Ghana: 50 Year of Independence Joseph Godson Amamoo, 2011-12-16 A comprehensive review of major political events in Ghana with critical comments during the past 50 years The book takes off where its predecessor The New Ghana the international best seller published in 1958 Ghana s first independence anniversary ended Absorbing balanced and detailed it is nevertheless controversial and challenging Unique for its vignettes on all the major personalities of the five decades that the author has been privileged to interact with The book challenges certain myths about the Trans Atlantic Slave Trade The slow rate of development in Ghana in particular and Africa in general the reasons why Ghana despite its vast natural and mineral resources is still a developing country Traditions and customs which negate the rapid development of Ghana and robustly reviewed What killed Nkrumah Was Nkrumah anti white These are only a few of the interesting questions that the book attempts to answer The book which is unique in many ways ends on a note of hope and expectation that the next 5 years would be better than the last half century Only time can tell     Exploring Curriculum Landscapes in Africa Oscar Koopman, Karen J. Koopman, Wally Lumadi, Samuel Amponsah, 2025-06-13 This book examines post colonial curriculum transformation across seven African nations These are South Africa Egypt Cameroon Nigeria Zimbabwe Namibia and Ghana It investigates whether these educational systems have truly decolonized their curricula or still remain rooted in Western frameworks despite achieving political independence Through analysis of curriculum policies and teaching practices the authors explore educational reform dynamics in post colonial African contexts The book evaluates how successfully these systems have incorporated indigenous knowledge and local ways of knowing versus continuing to propagate Western paradigms The work provides both theoretical and empirical analysis of challenges and opportunities in rebuilding African education systems that reflect local cultural values while addressing modern educational needs     Crosscurrents and Crosscutting Themes Kagendo Mutua, Cynthia S Sunal, 2006-08-01 In this Third Volume of the series Research on Education in Africa the Caribbean and the Middle East the volume continues with the previously established overarching purpose of publishing chapters that are based upon research conducted in those regions by scholars many of whom are indigenous to the regions they write about and are therefore able to provide cultural insights about relevant issues as well as nonindigenous scholars who have conducted their studies in countries within the regions or about those regions This mixture of indigenous scholarship offering emic perspectives and outside scholarship offering etic perspectives continues to be a relative strength and uniqueness of this book series In addition several chapters in the current volume constitute collaborations between the authors etic and emic to the contexts about which they write This bifocality in the gaze cast upon issues covered in this book series has been well received by readers of earlier volumes of the series     Ghana Gazette Ghana, 1976     Modern Mathematics Dirk De Bock, 2023-03-08 The international New Math developments between about 1950 through 1980 are regarded by many mathematics educators and education historians as the most historically important development in curricula of the twentieth century It attracted the attention of local and international politicians of teachers and of parents and influenced the teaching and learning of mathematics at all levels kindergarten to college graduate in many nations After garnering much initial support it began to attract criticism But as Bill Jacob and the late Jerry Becker show in Chapter 17 some of the effects became entrenched This volume edited by Professor Dirk De Bock of Belgium provides an outstanding overview of the New Math modern mathematics movement Chapter authors provide exceptionally high quality analyses of the rise of the movement and of subsequent developments within a range of nations The first few chapters show how the initial leadership came from mathematicians in European nations and in the United States of America The background leaders in Europe were Caleb Gattegno and members of a mysterious group of mainly French pure mathematicians who since the 1930s had published under the name of a fictitious Nicolas Bourbaki In the United States there emerged during the 1950s various attempts to improve U S mathematics curricula and teaching especially in secondary schools and colleges This side of the story climaxed in 1957 when the Soviet Union succeeded in launching Sputnik the first satellite Undoubtedly this is a landmark publication in education The foreword was written by Professor Bob Moon one of a few other scholars to have written on the New Math from an international perspective The final epilogue chapter by Professor Geert Vanpaemel a historian draws together the overall thrust of the volume and makes links with the general history of curriculum development especially in science education including recent globalization trends
