50 Activities For Achieving Cultural Competence:

50 Activities for Achieving Cultural Competence Jonamay Lambert, Selma Myers, George Simons, 2009 An outstanding source for training activities relating to employee empowerment Today most executives and managers need to have an international business and cross cultural perspective 50 Activities for Achieving Cultural Competence includes 50 training activities and self development exercises to prepare your personnel for international assignments and develop better understanding of cross cultural communication Compiled by a team of experts from around the world these ready to use activities have been tested and refined for a wide variety of international businesses and organizations They are ideal for both preparing people to work market negotiate and otherwise do business with people in Asia Latin America and Europe and for preparing foreign nationals to work in the United States Pitfalls of Trained Incapacity Birgit Herppich, 2016-01-15

The need to train Christian missionaries was an afterthought of the Protestant missionary movement in the early nineteenth century The Basel Missionary Training Institute BMTI was the first school designed solely for the purpose of preparing European missionaries for ministry in non European lands Pitfalls of Trained Incapacity explores the various sociological and historical factors that influenced the BMTI community of practice and how the outcomes affected the work of the Basel Mission in Ghana in its initial phase It shows that the integral training of the BMTI resulted in missionary practices that lacked flexibility to adjust attitudes and behavior to the vastly different circumstances in Africa impeded the realization of mission objectives and hindered the emergence of an African appropriation of Christianity By exploring educational and sociological perspectives in a precolonial context this study reaches beyond its historical significance to raise questions of unintended effects of integral ministry training in other times and places The natural cultural bias of groups with shared theological assumptions and social ideals like the Basel Mission suggests a strong propensity for trained incapacity that is for training processes that establish inflexible mental frameworks that are potentially detrimental to intercultural engagement

Preventive Dermatology Robert A. Norman,2010-06-25 In his latest book Dr Robert A

Norman introduces us to the intriguing concept of preventive dermatology. Although dermatologists have long been patient advocates and have stressed vigorously on the importance of sun avoidance and protection, there is still much more that we can do to prevent disease. Dr. Norman and his skilled coterie of collaborators discuss two distinct types of prevention in dermatology: the prevention of skin diseases and the prevention of systemic disorders, some with only very indirect connections to the skin. The first is fairly well known to dermatologists; the second is truly an emerging concept of great importance. Educational efforts to prevent or at least control skin disease may range from the proper use of sunscreens to weight loss in psoriatic patients, the avoidance of trigger factors in rosacea, proper skin care in atopic dermatitis, or adoption of a low fat diet to decrease the incidence of actinic keratosis and non-melanoma skin cancer. Another good example is the use of vaccines to protect against diseases such as herpes zoster and genital HPV infection in females.
