women's perceptions and behaviour in their sexual relationships with their husbands Based on extensive original research the book reveals that Muslim women perceive marriage as a social cultural and religious obligation that they need to fulfil that they realise that finding an ideal marriage partner is complicated with some having the opportunity for a long courtship and others barely knowing their partner prior to marriage and that there is a strong tendency with some exceptions for women to consider a sexual relationship in marriage as their duty and their husband's right Religious and cultural discourses justify and support this view and consider refusal a sin dosa or taboo pamali Both discourses emphasise obedience towards husbands in marriage

Legal Education Caroline Strevens, Richard Grimes, Edward Phillips, 2016-04-22 The importance of simulation in education specifically in legal subjects is here discussed and explored within this innovative collection Demonstrating how simulation can be constructed and developed for learning teaching and assessment the text argues that simulation is a pedagogically valuable and practical tool in teaching the modern law curriculum With contributions from law teachers within the UK Australia Hong Kong South Africa and the USA the authors draw on their experiences in teaching law in the areas of clinical legal education legal process evidence criminal law family law and employment law as well as teaching law to non law students They claim that simulation as a form of experiential and problem based learning enables students to integrate the classroom experience with the real world experiences they will encounter in their professional lives This book will be of relevance not only to law teachers but university teachers generally as well as those interested in legal education and the theory of law

Feminism Against Progress Mary Harrington, 2023-04-25 Modern feminism increasingly benefits only a small class of professional women There is no reason to sacrifice everyone else's happiness for their sake Mary Harrington shows that women's liberation was less the result of moral progress than an effect of the material consequences of the Industrial Revolution We've now left the industrial era for the digital age in which technology is liberating us from natural limits and embodied sex differences This shift may benefit the elites but it also makes it easier to commodify women's bodies human intimacy and female reproductive abilities Feminism has been captured by well off white collar women who use it to advance their own economic and political interests under the pretense that these are the interests of all women all the while wielding the term like a club against anyone male or female who dissents Feminism against Progress is a stark warning against a dystopian future in which poor women become little more than convenient sources of body parts to be harvested and wombs to be rented by the rich Progress no longer benefits the majority of women and only a feminism that is skeptical of it can truly defend their interests in the twenty first century The Psychology of Political Behavior in a Time of Change Jan D. Sinnott, Joan S.

Rabin, 2020-10-23 This volume seeks to add a unique perspective on the complex relationship between psychology and politics focusing on three analytical points of view 1 psychology politics and complex thought 2 bio psycho social factors of masculinity and power and 3 underlying factors in political behavior Contributors examine recent political events worldwide through a psychological lens using interdisciplinary approaches to seek a deeper understanding of contemporary political ideas psychologies and behaviors Finally the book offers suggestions for surviving and thriving during rapid political change Among the topics discussed Biopsychological factors of political beliefs and behaviors Understanding political polarization through a cognitive lens Impact of psychological processes on voter decision making Motivations for believing in conspiracy theories Nonverbal cues in leadership Authoritarian responses to social change The Psychology of Political Behavior in a Time of Change is a timely and insightful volume for students and researchers in psychology political science gender studies business and marketing and sociology as well as those working in applied settings practitioners government workers NGOs corporate organizations Contested Intimacies Derrick Higginbotham, 2015-11-05 A timely collection of essays Contested Intimacies offers five unique analyses of the ways that sexuality gender and the law interact in eastern and southern African countries primarily Uganda and South Africa The authors argue strenuously for social critiques of the law that attend to the intricate intersections between different aspects of identity whether class race national identity within national continental and global debates about the status of gender and sexual minorities Contested Intimacies creates a critical space in which feminists and LGBTI communities along with their allies can forge new strategies in the effort to create a more just world whether at the level of immediate locality nation or the continent Siber Ink Publishers are proud to have collaborated with The International Academic Programmes Office IAPO and The Centre for African Studies CAS both at UCT to make this publication possible Disney Channel Tween Programming Christopher E. Bell, 2020-09-14 Much has been written about the Walt Disney Company's productions but the focus has largely been on animation and feature film created by Disney In this essay collection the attention is turned to The Disney Channel and the programs it presents for a largely tween audience Since its emergence as a market category in the 1980s the tween demographic has commanded purchasing power and cultural influence and the impressionability and social development of the age group makes it an important range of people to study Presenting both a groundbreaking view of The Disney Channel's programming by the numbers and a deep focus on many of the best known programs and characters of the 2000s shows like The Wizards of Waverly Place That's So Raven and Hannah Montana this collection asks the simple questions What does The Disney Channel Universe look and sound like Who are the stories about Who matters on The Disney Channel Marine Ecosystem Restoration (MER) - Challenges and New Horizons Brian Silliman, Avigdor Abelson, Christine Angelini, Gesche Krause, Megan Irene Saunders, Tjisse Van Der

Heide,2023-10-23 Worldwide marine ecosystems have been lost and degraded due to anthropogenic disturbances For example oyster reefs have declined by at least 85% coral reefs by 19% seagrasses by 29% North American salt marshes by 42% and mangroves by 35% from the early 19th century Deepwater reefs and deep sea vents are not immune and have also been reduced in extent in many areas Factors driving these losses include habitat destruction pollution invasive species overfishing trawling mining and more recently climate change effects such as ocean warming species range changes and acidification These habitat declines are occurring at a time when marine waters are being used at or near their maximum productive capacity to meet the contemporary needs of an ever increasing human population Because coastal and marine ecosystems generate some of the richest biodiversity hotspots on Earth and provide critical ecosystem services including storm protection fisheries production and carbon storage over 1 billion US dollars have been spent globally in an attempt to halt and reverse observed declines Early conservation efforts aimed at protecting these valuable and threatened habitats focused on reducing human impacts and physical stressors However with habitat degradation continuing and sometimes increasing in rate it is now clear conservation alone will not be sufficient to protect and reestablish coastal ecosystems Habitat restoration although in existence for many decades has recently been elevated as a new primary strategy to stem and even reverse coastal habitat loss The call for increasing investment in restoration efforts has emerged with significant advances in propagule rearing and dispersion of habitat forming organisms e g oysters seagrasses corals In addition restoration resources are increasingly allocated by governments and or large corporations with the aim to for example fix past landscape engineering efforts that had unintended environmental consequences Such investments are being made to i provide jobs for those unemployed during economic downturns ii restore ecosystems destroyed by natural disasters and stressors iii increase coastal defense in response to increased frequency of intense storms and or iv compensate for pollution and development driven habitat degradation Conservation practitioners have traditionally been skeptical to invest heavily in restoration at large scales because of the high cost per area 10 000 5 000 000 US ha for coastal vs 500 5 000 US ha for terrestrial systems to replant coastal ecosystems and or the high chance that the restored ecosystems will not live long e g outplanted corals For restoration to be effective and employed as a primary method of coastal conservation at relevant scales we must improve its efficiency lower costs and rapidly share and incorporate advances One crucial step will be to identify when and where restoration attempts have been carried out according to state of art ecological theory and gauge their success Another is generating synthesis studies that focus both within and across ecosystems to identify efficiencies adaptations and innovations Work that shows theoretical and methodological innovations in specific ecosystems as well as across systems will be critical to pushing all fields of MER forward Although there is rapidly increasing interest and investment the field of marine ecosystem restoration is just beginning to undergo synthesis Therefore the aim of this Research Topic is to bring together research contributions to help address this synthesis need provide a spotlight for recent innovations enhance our understanding of successful methods in marine ecosystem restoration and promote integration of ecological sociological and engineering theory into restoration practices Gendering Criminology Shelly

Clevenger, Jordana N. Navarro, 2022-03-22 Gendering Criminology explores issues pertaining to victimization individuals involved in the criminal legal system and those working within in the system that are unique to females males and individuals within the LGBTQIA lesbian gay bisexual transgender queer intersex asexual communities Each chapter provides an overview of each topic and delves in the literature in the area Additionally each chapter also provides active learning activities designed to fully immerse and engage students in the material current and relevant media bytes to bring the lessons to life and case studies that illustrate the content Gendering Criminology provides a contemporary guide for the reader to understand the place that gender has in society as well as how it pertains to crime victimization and professions

Neuroscience, Learning and Educational Psychology María Jesús Luque Rojas, Eduardo Blanco Calvo, María Teresa Martín-Aragoneses, 2022-08-25 Gender, Technology and Violence Marie Segrave, Laura Vitis, 2017-06-26 Technological developments move at lightening pace and can bring with them new possibilities for social harm This book brings together original empirical and theoretical work examining how digital technologies both create and sustain various forms of gendered violence and provide platforms for resistance and criminal justice intervention This edited collection is organised around two key themes of facilitation and resistance with an emphasis through the whole collection on the development of a gendered interrogation of contemporary practices of technologically enabled or enhanced practices of violence Addressing a broad range of criminological issues such as intimate partner violence rape and sexual assault online sexual harassment gendered political violence online culture cyberbullying and human trafficking and including a critical examination of the broader issue of feminist digilantism and resistance to online sexual harassment this book examines the ways in which new and emerging technologies facilitate new platforms for gendered violence as well as offering both formal and informal opportunities to prevent and or respond to gendered violence "One Rotten Apple Spoils the Whole Barrel": The

Plant Hormone Ethylene, the Small Molecule and its Complexity Domenico De Martinis, Tomotsugu Koyama, Caren Chang, 2015-08-14 The gaseous molecule ethylene C_2H_4 which is small in size and simple in structure is a plant hormone most often associated with fruit ripening yet has a diversity of effects throughout the plant life cycle While its agricultural effects were known even in ancient Egypt the complexity of its mode of action and the broad spectrum of its effects and potential uses in plant physiology remain important scientific challenges today In the last few decades the biochemical pathway of ethylene production has been uncovered ethylene perception and signaling have been molecularly dissected ethylene responsive transcription factors have been identified and numerous effects of ethylene have been described ranging from water stress development senescence reproduction plant pathogen interactions and of course ripening Thus ethylene is involved in plant development in biotic and abiotic stress and in reproduction There is no stage in plant life that is not affected by ethylene modulated by a complex and fascinating molecular machinery A multidisciplinary approach towards understanding and solving social dilemmas Lei Wang,Richard Paul Ebstein,Qiang Shen,2023-04-17 Teaching Common Sense Linda Kulman,Henry Kissinger,2016-06-07 How is critical thinking taught How will the next generation cope with an ever changing and increasingly complex world These are questions that the Grand Strategy program at Yale seeks to address The Brady Johnson Program in Grand Strategy seeks to revive the study and practice of grand strategy by devising methods to teach that subject at the graduate and undergraduate levels by training future leaders to think about and implement grand strategies in imaginative and effective ways and by organizing public events that emphasize the importance of grand strategy The program defines grand strategy as a comprehensive plan of action based on the calculated relationship of means to large ends Never an exact science grand strategy requires constant reassessment and adjustment Flexibility is key Traditionally believed to belong to and best developed in the politico military and governmental realms the concept of grand strategy applies and ISS believes is essential to a broad spectrum of human activities not least those of international institutions non governmental organizations and private businesses and corporations For fifteen years the Grand Strategy program has been cultivating leadership skills of undergraduates and graduate students of Yale University In Linda Kulman s compelling book we learn about this remarkable program from the inside sharing the stress of the murder boards the revelation of applying the classics to current geopolitical situations and the crucial importance of fast decision making under duress Teaching Common Sense weaves together on site reporting archival research and original survey data into an intellectual history of the Grand Strategy program
