Families in the Digital Age Toni Hassan, 2019-07-01 One of the most needed and grab you by the throat convincing books around today Steve Biddulph author of Raising Boys For parents who feel defeated by the powerful influence of social media in their children's lives this book will sympathise illuminate inspire and encourage us to believe there is another better way to live Hugh Mackay social researcher and bestselling author Smartphones and other interactive devices have turned up the volume on stress and are harming our mental and physical health They have shrunk the capacity of families to spend time together and when together they have increased conflicts Two thirds of Australian families experience tension or disagreement about screens at least three times a week In this confronting yet constructive guide on parenting in the digital age award winning journalist Toni Hassan catalogues the impacts of interactive devices on children and young people and offers ways out Rather than freeing us screens have made us dependent she says They have thinned relationships and thinned time for the things that ultimately nourish us Almost no part of children's lives are free from the anxiety created by commercial forces curating their moment to moment experiences Moving beyond the gloom Hassan offers lots of practical hope with ideas and tips for families to manage the digital age so that despite the challenges children and young people can thrive

The Life of I Anne Manne, 2015-08-03 Far from being the work of a madman Anders Breivik's murderous rampage in Norway was the action of an extreme narcissist As the dead lay around him he held up a finger asking for a Band Aid Written with the pace of a psychological thriller The Life of I is a compelling account of the rise of narcissism in individuals and society Manne examines the Lance Armstrong doping scandal and the alarming rise of sexual assaults in sport and the military as well as the vengeful killings of Elliot Rodger in California She looks at narcissism in the pursuit of fame and our obsession with making it She goes beyond the usual suspects of social media and celebrity culture to the deeper root of the issue how a new narcissistic character type is being fuelled by a cult of the self and the pursuit of wealth in a hypercompetitive consumer society The Life of I also offers insights from the latest work in psychology looking at how narcissism develops But Manne also shows that there is an alternative how to transcend narcissism to be fully alive to the presence of others how to create a world where love and care are no longer turned inward

The rule of law on the Internet Council of Europe,2014-12-09 We exercise a significant part of our human rights today using the Internet and the wider digital environment But our human rights can also be breached using these very same means There is general agreement that human rights should be enjoyed online as they are offline In practice however the actors who can ensure that we enjoy human rights are not exactly the same in the two environments In particular the disproportionate influence and control that certain states and certain private companies exercise on the Internet and its physical infrastructure at the global level are two essential elements of this difference This issue paper looks at how the rule of law can be maintained in an environment characterised by these specific governance issues focusing on some policy areas of particular human rights relevance freedom of expression data protection and privacy cybercrime and national security It suggests possible ways forward to ensure that we can trust the rule of law to apply to our online activities Ageing, Gender and Sexuality Sue to adulthood and that human development cannot be described in average terms The 42 year perspective that the JYLS provides shows the developmental consequences of children s differences in socioemotional behavior over time and the great significance of children s positive socioemotional behavior for their further development until middle age Not only will the book be an invaluable tool for those considering research methods and analysis on large datasets it is ideal reading for students on lifespan courses and researchers methodologically interested in longitudinal research Queering International Law Dianne Otto,2017-07-14 Beyond the push in the human rights field to ensure respect for the rights of people with diverse sexual orientations and gender identities queer legal theory provides a means to examine the structural assumptions and conceptual architecture that underpin the normative framework and operation of international law highlighting bias and blind spots and offering fresh perspectives and practical innovations Issues in Religion and Education ,2015-02-04 Issues in Religion and Education Whose Religion is a contribution to the dynamic and evolving global debates about the role of religion in public education This volume provides a cross section of the debates over religion its role in public education and the theoretical and political conundrums associated with resolutions The chapters reflect the contested nature of the role of religion in public education around the world and explore some of the issues mentioned from perspectives reflecting the diverse contexts in which the authors are situated The differences among the chapters reflect some of the particular ways in which various jurisdictions have come to see the problem and how they have addressed religious diversity in public education in the context of their own histories and politics Contributors are Lori G Beaman Catherine Byrne Christine L Cusack Adam Dinham Lauren L Forbes St phanie Gravel Bruce Grelle Mathew Guest Anna Halafoff Kim Lam Solange Lefebvre Alison Mawhinney Damon Mayrl Asha Mukherjee Heather Shipley Sonia Sikka Geir Skeie Leo Van Arragon and Pamela Dickey Young Justice-based ethics Chris Jones,2018-12-01 The book reflects academically on important and relevant ethical fields from a multidimensional South African context The book challenges conventional borders from different ethical theological philosophical economic and cultural perspectives with insight and expertise and seeks to add academic ethical value locally and globally with its different points of departure deeply embedded in justice From a mainly qualitative methodological perspective this scholarly book demonstrates that ethics requires analytical thinking and critical people who in an existentially and emancipatory way can help make the world a more just decent and humane place in which to live The authors who represent different academic and cultural backgrounds present in their respective chapters their research systematically intersectionally and constructivistically based on profound theoretical analysis and reasoning This epistemology results in an act of knowing that actively gives meaning and order to the reality to which it is responding By doing this they point out that people are in an ongoing process of becoming more human allowing ourselves and our fellow human beings to flourish and to reach fuller potential through justice based ethical reflection and action Technology Entrepreneurship Natasha Evers,James Cunningham,Thomas Hoholm,2020-12-12 This second edition of the critically acclaimed core textbook provides students from technology and science based backgrounds with the theoretical knowledge and practical skills required to transform innovative ideas into commercially viable businesses for profit or social ends. Blending theory, policy and practice in a manner that is accessible to readers with little prior knowledge of business commercialisation, it offers a framework for understanding the entrepreneurial process for technological ideas. The book provides students with comprehensive guidance on the specialized field of technopreneurship. It provides the tools and frameworks required for managing commercialising and marketing technological innovation. With real life examples and case studies from a range of countries and industries, it will equip students with the understanding required to successfully launch their product. This text caters for undergraduate and postgraduate students studying technology entrepreneurship modules on engineering science and computing technology programmes. New to this edition: All chapters updated to reflect the evolution of theory and practice in the field. New cases on digital entrepreneurship, growth and scaling. Extended geographical coverage of case studies. Entrepreneurial practices updated to include recent research. Strategic context of business models, business growth and scaling, digital entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial marketing, organization design and crowdfunding developed and updated.
