Life Science Scope For November 2014:

Art and Future Peter Stupples, Jane Venis, 2018-04-18 This selection of essays examines the future of art in a changing world. In particular, contributors discuss the agency of art in conditions of ecological threats to the natural world to climate change and the effects of globalisation, neoliberal economics and mass tourism. Following the lead of Chicago-based Frances Whitehead, whose essay is a key text, some contributors take positions on working with local government agencies to embed art thinking within development projects going back to the art thinking at the centre of Kazimir Malevich's work in Vitebsk one hundred years ago in Russia. Other papers highlight small scale art interventions that bring ecological issues to public notice and suggest positive responses whilst others discuss large scale problems brought about by the social economic and laissez faire history of the emerging Anthropocene with possible dystopic outcomes. Dual-use life science research and biosecurity in the 21st Century: Social, Technical, Policy, and Ethical Challenges Jonathan E. Suk, Kathleen M. Vogel, Amanda Jane Ozin, 2015-06-04 In September 2011, scientists announced new experimental findings that would not only threaten the conduct and publication of influenza research but would have significant policy and intelligence implications. The findings presented a modified variant of the H5N1 avian influenza virus hereafter referred to as the H5N1 virus that was transmissible via aerosol between ferrets. These results suggested a worrisome possibility: the existence of a new airborne and highly lethal H5N1 virus that could cause a deadly global pandemic. In response, a series of international discussions on the nature of dual use life science arose. These discussions addressed the complex social, technical, political, security and ethical issues related to dual use research. This Research Topic will be devoted to contributions that explore this matrix of issues from a variety of case study and international perspectives. Regulatory Protection in the Pharmaceutical and Life Science Industries Żaneta Zemła-Pacud, 2025-06-09 This book examines the EU framework for regulatory protection in life science industries with a particular focus on the pharmaceutical sector. Żaneta Zemła-Pacud discusses the rules governing regulatory exclusivities and rewards for innovative life science products and the regulatory data underlying them. The author presents the framework's meaning for the sector as a sui generis instrument of protection of Intellectual Property and provides an up-to-date analysis of the legislation driving EU reform of pharmaceutical regulation. Jules Verne Lives! Gary Westfahl, 2023-07-05 This volume is a fresh examination of the works of Jules Verne, the pioneering and enduringly popular science fiction writer. Essays study Verne's various novels including Around the World in Eighty Days, The Mysterious Island and The Adventures of Captain Hatteras. Included essays offer analyses of literary responses to Verne's work, assessments of film adaptations of his novels and discussions of steampunk, the Verne-inspired science fiction subgenre that has influenced writers like Philip José Farmer, Caleb Carr and Adam Roberts. Life Science Unicorns, from a China Investment Perspective Da LIU, 2023-06-27 This book systematically expounds the history of the global pharmaceutical industry in the past 50 years, adopts the philosophical theory of paradigm and paradigm shift, analyzes the current investment hot areas and predicts potential life sciences unicorns Written by many industry opinion leaders this book is a rare professional work that combines practice with theory combines Chinese characteristics with a global perspective and combines business with science With the purpose of popularizing knowledge and education this book uses a large number of cases introductions recommended books and report catalogs so that readers can learn and think systematically and comprehensively

Religious Perspectives on Social Responsibility in Health Joseph Tham,Chris Durante,Alberto García Gómez,2018-04-26 This book discuss the meaning and implications of the social and ethical implications of the notion of social responsibility in healthcare in six major world religions Buddhism Christianity Confucianism Hinduism Islam Judaism This collection of papers is based on a four day workshop where bioethics experts from various religious traditions gathered They discussed the ways in which their respective traditions could or could not uphold the tenets of Article 14 of UNESCO s Universal Declaration of bioethics and Human Rights The different papers presented in this book are based on this interchange of ideas at the workshop The book explores the potential points of convergence among the various perspectives presented as well as a discussion on the ways in which their moral differences may be managed The managing of these moral differences through international socio ethical mechanisms contributes significantly to the UNESCO Universal Declaration of Bioethics and Human Rights goal of simultaneously respecting religio cultural pluralism while upholding a commitment to human rights
