Culture Facade Susan M. Rigdon, Oscar Lewis, 1988      Assessing Writing to Support Learning Sandra Murphy, Peggy O'Neill, 2022-11-08 In this book authors Murphy and O'Neill propose a new way forward moving away from high stakes test based writing assessment and the curriculum it generates and toward an approach to assessment that centers on student learning and success Reviewing the landscape of writing assessment and existing research based theories on writing the authors demonstrate how a test based approach to accountability and current practices have undermined effective teaching and learning of writing This book bridges the gap between real world writing that takes place in schools college and careers and the writing that students are asked to do in standardized writing assessments to offer a new ecological approach to writing assessment Murphy and O'Neill's new way forward turns accountability inside out to help teachers understand the role of formative assessments and assessment as inquiry It also brings the outside in by bridging the gap between authentic writing and writing assessment Through these two strands readers learn how assessment systems can be restructured to become better aligned with contemporary understandings of writing and with best practices in teaching With examples of assessments from elementary school through college chapters include guidance on designing assessments to address multiple kinds of writing integrate reading with writing and incorporate digital technology and multimodality Emphasizing the central role that teachers play in systemic reform the authors offer sample assessments developed with intensive teacher involvement that support learning and provide information for the evaluation of programs and schools This book is an essential resource for graduate students instructors scholars and policymakers in writing assessment composition and English education      Federal Register ,1969-12      Resources in Education ,1991      Planning ,1999      South Africa Yearbook ,1997      Venus in Blue Jeans Nathalie A. Bartle, Nathalie Bartle, Susan Lieberman, 1999-06 A landmark book offers a new dialogue for the next generation of mothers and daughters Who knows what is going to happen when the hormones kick in at age sixteen and she falls madly in love says one mother about her daughter Statistically the answer is alarming 65 percent of eighteen year old girls have had sex Four of every ten sexually active girls get pregnant most of them unintentionally Now more than ever talking about sex is an essential rite of passage for both mothers and daughters And in this groundbreaking book Nathalie Bartle shows mothers how to help guide their daughters safely through the fears intimacies and sexual choices of adolescence Combining stories of raising her own daughter with the voices of other families Bartle tells us what today's young women urgently want to know and what mothers need to tell them Practical strategies and real life examples help both parent and teen get the conversation right encouraging trust correcting misinformation and emphasizing the importance of relationships and values She covers When is the right time to begin talking to girls about sex How can you get your daughter to listen How can you get past the mutual embarrassment What six strategies have other mothers found effective How can you play a role in your daughter's sexual education without encouraging her to be sexually active      Research in Education ,1973
