Bunnell, Sheila S. Jaswal, Megan B. Lyster, 2023-07-03 For all STEM faculty chairs administrators and faculty developers who work to support students learning and thriving in STEM especially those students who have felt unwelcome and unsupported in their past STEM experiences this book offers sustainable strategies that are now being widely adopted to create inclusive environments in undergraduate STEM classes and programs Further this book presents a framework for partnering with students to collaboratively envision how STEM can be a space that fosters a sense of belonging for and promotes the success of all individuals in STEM This book presents the Being Human in STEM Initiative or HSTEM as a model for challenging the assumptions we make and how we communicate to students about who belongs and who can thrive in STEM This work arose out of a time of conflict at Amherst College A four day sit in protesting in support of the Black Lives Matter movement and bringing attention to related experiences of exclusion and marginalization that minoritized students experienced on campus What emerged from that conflict has been transformative for the college its students and for its faculty and staff In this book the authors share how the HSTEM course came into being offer a course overview readings and resources for developing an HSTEM course at your own institution provide recommendations for evaluating the multi level impact of inclusive change initiatives and profile models of how the HSTEM course has been adapted at colleges and universities across the country In addition to providing a road map for developing your own HSTEM course the authors articulate ways that you can make any course or institutional structure more inclusive through active listening and validation and through reflective practice and partnership to progressively make incremental and sustainable changes in STEM education Through listening and reflecting the model facilitates uncovering the disconnects that can impede inclusivity in our classrooms and laboratories While the authors offer a proven process and model for change originally motivated by the urgent need to respond to students demands they recognize that larger institutional culture shifts require the identification and commitment to common values a shared sense of purpose in the work of change and the provision of agency and resources to individuals tasked with making change happen How might we shift institutional STEM culture The HSTEM model provides one solution By reflecting on our own lived experiences and identities engaging with the literature on the factors that enhance and limit full inclusion in STEM and partnering with students to identify actionable ways to bring about sustainable change in our scientific communities we can all work towards creating a more inclusive and human STEM ecosystem Each chapter opens with a set of guiding reflective questions to help you connect these ideas frameworks and strategies to your own teaching and institutional context While each chapter builds on the previous ideas and frameworks the book can also be used as a resource to identify a just in time strategy to address particular questions you may have about making your teaching more inclusive The appendices offer an array of Facilitator Guides each of which outlines a student endorsed exercise based on the pedagogical literature that can foster a sense of belonging and inclusion in your classrooms and laboratory spaces

Technologies in Biomedical and Life Sciences Education Harry J. Witchel, Michael W. Lee, 2022-06-24 This contributed volume focuses on understanding the educational strengths and weaknesses of mediated content including media as a learning supplement in comparison to traditional face to face learning Each chapter includes research on and a broad brush summary of approaches to combining life sciences education with educational technologies The chapters are organized into four main sections each of which focuses on a key question regarding the consequences of incorporating media into education In this regard the authors highlight how educational technology is both a bridge and barrier to student access and inclusivity Further they address the ongoing discussion as to whether students need to be present for lectures and on how having agency in their own learning can improve both retention and conceptual understanding To link the content to current events the authors also shed light on the impact that the COVID 19 pandemic is having on the continuity of educational programs and on the growing importance of educational technologies Consequently the book offers life science educators valuable guidance on the technologies already available and an outlook on what is yet to come

From Thomas to Train Conductor Suzanne Jacobsen, 2013-07-26 In 2010 Kirin Jacobsen walks across the auditorium stage to receive his Bachelor s Degree For his parents Suzanne and John Jacobsen this moment is more than a milestone it is a celebration of Kirin s courage to overcome enormous obstacles Follow the Jacobsen family as Kirin grows from a boy who passionately loves Thomas the Tank Engine into a wise and wonderful young man who becomes a train conductor The Jacobsen family faces many challenges with medical professionals and educators demonstrating the extent of the advocacy required to support Kirin into adulthood Individuals with developmental differences and their families are constantly faced with ignorance complacency disrespect and misunderstanding The Jacobsens story is shared to encourage parents to advocate for their loved ones and inspire changes that will make a difference in the lives of these individuals Higher Education, Meritocracy and Inequality in China Ye Liu, 2016-10-08 This book investigates the changing opportunities in higher education for different social groups during China s transition from the socialist regime to a market economy The first part of the book provides a historical and comparative analysis of the development of the idea of meritocracy since its early origins in China and in more recent western thought The second part then explores higher education reforms in China the part played by supposedly meritocratic forms of selection and the implications of these for social mobility Based on original empirical data Ye Liu sheds light on the socio economic gender and geographical inequalities behind the meritocratic facade of the Gaokao Liu argues that the Chinese philosophical belief in education based meritocracy had a modern makeover in the Gaokao and that this ideology induces working class and rural students to believe in upward social mobility through higher education When the Gaokao broke the promise of status improvement for rural students they turned to the Chinese Communist Party and sought political connections by actively applying for its membership This book reveals a bleak picture of visible and invisible inequality in terms of access to and participation in higher education in contemporary China Written in an accessible style it offers a valuable resource for researchers and non specialist readers alike Crimes of the Educators Samuel Blumenfeld ,Alex Newman,2025-01-17 Utopian dictators like Stalin Hitler Pol Pot and Mao are criminals genocidal psychopaths who have killed more human beings in the last hundred years than any other ideologues in history They don't limit their murder to individuals but to entire nations In the United States another form of utopians the progressives have tried to destroy traditional America by strategically dumbing down her people America's future is being crippled on purpose in order to fundamentally transform the nation its values and its system of government Laid out a century ago by progressive luminary John Dewey the fruits of his schemes are plain to see today Dewey got rid of the traditional intensive phonics method of instruction and imposed a look say sight or whole word method that forces children to read English as if it were Chinese The method is widely used in today's public schools which is a major reason there are so many failing public schools that cannot teach children the basics This can only be considered a blatant form of child abuse American author and veteran educator Samuel Blumenfeld and journalist Alex Newman have taken on the public education establishment as never before and exposed it for the de facto criminal enterprise it is Crimes of the Educators reveals how the architects of America's public school disaster implemented a plan to socialize the United States by knowingly and willingly dumbing down the population a mission closer to success than ever as the Obama administration works relentlessly to nationalize K 12 schooling with Common Core The whole word method of teaching children to read introduced by John Dewey and colleagues in the early twentieth century and which permeates Common Core is a significant cause of dyslexia among students Public education's war against religion the great American math disaster promotion of death education and the government's plan to lower standards for all so no one is left behind is destroying the logic reasoning and overall educational prowess of America's next generation According to the Program for International Student Assessment which collects test results from 65 countries for its rankings In reading students in 19 other locales scored higher than U S students In science 22 education systems scored above the U S In mathematics 29 nations and other jurisdictions outperformed the United States Journalist Henry Mencken said it best in 1924 when he wrote that the aim of public education is to reduce as many individuals as possible to the same safe level to breed and train a standardized citizenry to put down dissent and originality It is time to hold the Department of Education accountable for the crimes of the educators General

Active Learning: Theoretical Perspectives, Empirical Studies and Design Profiles Robert Cassidy,Elizabeth S. Charles,James D. Slotta,Nathaniel Lasry,2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in between straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation Two Cheers for Higher Education Steven Brint,2020-08-04 Crusing student debt rapidly eroding state funding faculty embroiled in speech controversies a higher education market disrupted by online competition today s headlines suggest that universities power to advance knowledge and shape American society is rapidly declining But after a recent period that witnessed soaring student enrollement and ample research funding author Steven Brint argues that universities are in a better position than ever before Focusing on the years 1980 2015 Brint details the trajectory of American universities which was influenced by evolving standards of disciplinary professionalism market driven partnerships and the goal of social inclusion Today knowledge driven industries generate almost half of U S GDP but students flock increasingly to fields connected to power centers of American life and steer away from the liberal arts And opportunities for economic mobility are expanding even as academic expectations decline In describing how universities can meet such challenges head on especially in improving classroom learning Brint offers not only a clear eyed perspective on the current state of American higher education but also a pragmatically optimistic vision for the future From publisher s description Inquiry-Based Learning for the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences Patrick Blessinger, John M. Carfora, 2014-12-15 This volume is the second in the series covering the many issues and concepts of how inquiry based learning IBL can be applied to arts humanities and social sciences programs Handbook of CALL Teacher Education and Professional Development Dara Tafazoli, Michelle Picard, 2023-04-26 This comprehensive handbook provides an overview of current trends in computer assisted language learning CALL teacher education and professional development across the globe It highlights theories and practices in CALL teacher education and professional development in five sections such as English language teaching including pre service teachers in service teachers teacher educators material developers course designers and researchers It explores the role of CALL teacher education and professional development in many underexplored countries such as Africa Asia Eastern Europe and the Middle East It stresses the critical role of professional development programs from the use of technology in its generic sense The theoretical and empirical chapters in the book provide a more inclusive and comprehensive picture of various aspects of CALL teacher education and professional development globally It offers context specific approaches and strategies to language teachers and teacher educators It provides pedagogical implications and suggestions for promoting digital literacy and autonomy in online education This book provides valuable insights for researchers teacher educators and teacher trainers in applied linguistics
