Biology Classroom David Upegui, David E. Fastovsky, 2023-09-12 In this guide educators and authors David Upegui and David E Fastovsky offer a pedagogical prescription for how you can integrate the study of racial justice with evolutionary biology in your existing high school biology curriculum Designed as a practical manual for teaching the chapters focus on teaching concepts of equity through evolutionary biology modules a cornerstone for building students scientific understanding of biotic diversity The book provides pedagogical components alongside historical and scientific components with contextual chapters that give teachers the background knowledge to understand the historical relationship between science and racism for topics such as natural selection social justice and American slavery and colonization Ready to use lesson plans are situated in a historical and theoretical context of science as it relates to racial oppression and demonstrate how rigorous science education can lead to your students liberation and personal empowerment despite the historically problematic history of some applications of science These lesson plans and classroom exercises are presented in a way that introduces the timely extra dimension of anti racism into the existing biology curricula without significantly increasing teaching loads The contextual material provided allows the lessons to be implemented across a variety of classrooms regardless of initial familiarity with DEI Ideal for secondary biology teachers and their students particularly in grades 10 12 this book synthesizes timely ideas for high school educators harnessing the power of rigorous science to combat marginalization Lessons and activities have been classroom tested and are aligned with three different standards Next Generation Science Standards NGSS College board AP Biology Vision and Change and use the 5E format

The Lived Experiences of African International Students in the UK James Marson, Katy Ferris, Mohammed Dirisu, 2022-01-11

International student migration makes a significant contribution to higher education in the United Kingdom with Southern Africa and Nigeria in particular positioned joint sixth in the top ten of sending countries Many of these student migrants in supplementing their finances to fund their studies in the United Kingdom undertake employment Temporary and or part time employment is integral to the student migrant experience despite the express purpose of their admission into the United Kingdom designated for study purposes and not work This explicit object is reflected in restrictions affixed to international students employment rights whilst studying they are generally restricted to a maximum of 20 hours of work per week during term time and proscribed from working full time or as independent contractors Given the scant regard this topic has received in the existing literature this study offers an examination of students lived employment experiences under these rules The study aims to offer a contribution first in respect of the employment experiences of student migrants through the analytical framework of precarity by examining the various manifestations of insecurity in the students lived realities nuanced by structures of migration control and labour market temporalities Secondly by adopting the socio legal schema of legal consciousness the study considers the student migrants relationship with the law by way of the legal restrictions on their employment and examines their agency as evidenced through efforts to derogate from these rules
