Life Sciences Preparatory Examination 2014:

Science Education in Countries Along the Belt & Road Ronghuai Huang, Bing Xin, Ahmed Tlili, Feng Yang, Xiangling Zhang, Lixin Zhu, Mohamed Jemni, 2022-01-18 This book aims to highlight science education in countries along the Belt and Road. It consists of 30 chapters divided into three main parts: namely Arab and African countries, Asian countries, and European countries. We invited science education experts from 29 Belt and Road countries to introduce the current status of science education in their countries and the new requirements with the rapid evolution of Information Technology. The major contributions of this book include: 1. Provide the current status of science education in countries along the Belt and Road as well as the requirement for developing and improving science education in these countries; 2. Discuss new insights of science education in future years; 3. Inspire stakeholders to take effective initiatives to develop science education in countries along the Belt and Road.

Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and the Life Sciences Duncan Matthews, Herbert Zech, 2017-06-30 Intellectual property (IP) is a key component of the life sciences, one of the most dynamic and innovative fields of technology today. At the same time, the relationship between IP and the life sciences raises new public policy dilemmas. The Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and the Life Sciences comprises contributions by leading experts from academia and industry to provide in-depth analyses of key topics including pharmaceuticals, diagnostics, and genes. Plant innovations, stem cells, the role of competition law, and access to medicines. The Research Handbook focuses on the relationship between IP and the life sciences in Europe and the United States, complemented by country-specific case studies on Australia, Brazil, China, India, Japan, Kenya, South Africa, and Thailand to provide a truly international perspective. A

Stakeholder Approach to Managing Food Adam Lindgreen, Martin K. Hingley, Robert J. Angell, Juliet Memery, 2016-08-05 This research anthology explores the concept of food production and supply from farm gate to plate, bringing together contemporary thinking and research on local, national, and global issues from a stakeholder perspective. A Stakeholder Approach to Managing Food includes a number of sections to represent these challenges, opportunities, conflicts, and cohesions affecting relevant stakeholder groups within food production and supply, and their reaction to engagement with and co-creation of the food environment. For some local, national, and global interests, they may seem at odds. We are in an era of growing and pervasive multi-national corporations, and these corporations have significant influence at all levels. Rapidly growing economies such as China are a focus for the global brand, but is this a scenario of adaptation or homogenization of food? Alongside this trend toward national and global development in food, this volume presents the counter-reaction that is taking place, especially in developed countries, toward local speciality and culturally bound foods, with emphasis on the importance of the inter-connection of local communities and agri-food culture and economy. With an in-depth analysis of agricultural businesses, this book shows that the entrepreneurial spirit is alive and well in rural communities, with often renewed and engaged connection with consumers and imaginative use of new media. This book will be of interest to students

Baltic Sea Academy,Philipp Jarke,Max HogeForster,2015-03-19 At the 10th Hanseatic Conference 2015 in Hamburg representatives from business organisations academic institutions and policy makers from all countries around the Baltic Sea exchanged their experiences This book contains the presented papers and a summary of the participants discussion Vocational training has dramatically lost its appeal More and more young people rather opt for study programmes at the university and refuse to learn practical skills in vocational education However the qualifications of the high number of academics do not match the demand of SMEs for skilled workers and entrepreneurs as their knowledge is mostly theoretical At the same due to demographic changes the number of school leavers in the Baltic Sea Region is declining Both developments have led to a dramatic shortage of skilled workers and entrepreneurs which is severely limiting growth and innovativeness of SMEs In order to overcome this crisis dual vocational training and dual degree study programmes have to be promoted substantially In dual vocational training enterprises can actively influence and improve the quality of the education their apprentices receive and in dual degree study programmes students can test and apply their theoretical knowledge which they acquire at the university simultaneously in the enterprises The contributors of this book describe how this reform of education policy can be implemented in practice

Dealing with Medical Uncertainty in and through the History of Medicine, 2025-03-27 This book examines the history of medicine as a sub discipline within the medical humanities and its possible contributions to dealing with medical uncertainty It investigates how the history of medicine reduced intolerance for ambiguity among medical students in the past and can continue to do so today Using several case studies the second part of this volume illustrates the long term and varied nature of questions of uncertainty in the history of medical practice Starting with concrete examples it explores the extent to which physicians have openly discussed such issues or alternatively attempted to hide them under a cloak of expertise Contributors are Sari Aalto Rolf Ahlén Niels De Nutte Pieter Dhondt Jolien Gijbels Rachel Irwin Saara Maija Kontturi Virginia Langum M ns Lind n Suvi Rytty Petr Svobodn Evelina Wilson and Jonatan Wistrand
