Lifesciences Grade11 December 2014:

Material Theories Elena Chestnova, 2022-06-19 Material Theories takes a radically new approach to well established thinking on nineteenth century architecture and design by investigating Gottfried Semper's classic ideas about dressing metamorphosis of material and cultural development culminating in his two volume publication Style This book demonstrates how Semper's theories crystallised among his encounters with material things of the late 1840s and early 1850s It examines several discursive frameworks and phenomena which shaped the attitude to artefacts in Europe in the mid nineteenth century and which were specifically pertinent to Semper's evolution archaeology and antiquarianism the domestic interior print media collections and the embodied relationship between the designer and their work For the first time this book examines the construction of a design theory not only as an intellectual endeavour but also as a process of confrontation with material things It employs recent approaches to material culture in particular Thing Theory in order to show that Semper's artefact references constituted his ideas rather than simply giving impetus to them It will be an important investigation for academics and researchers interested in interior design history as well as scholars of material culture and history of design theory

Trends in Teaching Experimentation in the Life Sciences Nancy J. Pelaez, Stephanie M. Gardner, Trevor R. Anderson, 2022-05-11 This book is a guide for educators on how to develop and evaluate evidence based strategies for teaching biological experimentation to thereby improve existing and develop new curricula It unveils the flawed assumptions made at the classroom department and institutional level about what students are learning and what help they might need to develop competence in biological experimentation Specific case studies illustrate a comprehensive list of key scientific competencies that unpack what it means to be a competent experimental life scientist It includes explicit evidence based guidelines for educators regarding the teaching learning and assessment of biological research competencies The book also provides practical teacher guides and exemplars of assignments and assessments It contains a complete analysis of the variety of tools developed thus far to assess learning in this domain This book contributes to the growth of public understanding of biological issues including scientific literacy and the crucial importance of evidence based decision making around public policy It will be beneficial to life science instructors biology education researchers and science administrators who aim to improve teaching in life science departments Chapters 6 12 14 and 22 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link springer.com

Earth System Evolution and Early Life A.T. Brasier, D. McIlroy, N. McLoughlin, 2017-06-09 This volume in memory of Professor Martin Brasier which has many of his unfinished works summarizes recent progress in some of the hottest topics in palaeobiology including cellular preservation of early microbial life and early evolution of macroscopic animal life encompassing the Ediacara biota The papers focus on how to decipher evidence for early life which requires exceptional preservation employment of state of the art techniques and also an understanding gleaned from Phanerozoic lagerst tte and modern analogues The papers also apply Martin s MOFAOTYOF principle my oldest fossils are older than your oldest fossils requiring an integrated approach to understanding fossils The adoption of the null hypothesis that all putative traces of life are abiotic until proven otherwise and the consideration of putative fossils within their spatial context characterized the work of Martin Brasier as is well demonstrated by the papers in this volume
