Constructing Ecoterrorism John Sorenson,2016-07-01T00:00:00Z Animal rights is an important social justice movement and the animal rights movement presents ethical and political challenges to deeply rooted structures of violence and exploitation challenging ideologies of capitalism and speciesism Corporate interests that form the animal industrial complex understand the animal rights movement as a threat to their profits and have mobilized to undermine it Informed by both critical animal studies and critical terrorism studies John Sorenson analyzes ecoterrorism as a social construction He examines how corporations that profit from animal exploitation fund and produce propaganda to portray the compassionate goals and nonviolent practices of animal activists as outlandish anti human campaigns that operate by violent means not only to destroy Western civilization but also to create actual genocide The idea of concern for others is itself a dangerous one and capitalism works by keeping people focused on individual interests and discouraging compassion and commitment to others Driven by powerful and wealthy industries founded upon the exploitation of nonhuman animals and the extraction of natural resources the discourse of ecoterrorism is a useful mechanism to repress criticism of the institutionalized violence and cruelty of these industries as well as their destructive impact on the environment their major contribution to global warming and ecological disaster and their negative impacts on human health Further by deliberately constructing an image of activists as dangerous and violent terrorists these corporations and their representatives in government have created a widespread climate of fear that is very useful in legitimizing calls for more policing and more repressive legislation such as Bill C 51 in Canada

Economics for People and the Planet James Boyce,2019-01-16 Economics for People and the Planet a collection of essays by James K Boyce on the environment inequality and the economy argues that there is not an inexorable trade off between advancing human well being and having a clean and safe environment The goal of economic policy should be to grow the good things that improve our well being and environmental quality and reduce the bad things that harm humans and nature To reorient the economy for these ends we will need to achieve a more egalitarian distribution of wealth and power Global climate change the most pressing environmental challenge of our time adds urgency to this task and creates historic opportunities for moving towards a greener future The audiobook version of Economics for People and the Planet features new chapters on the Green New Deal and the environmental costs of inequality Foreword by Manuel Pastor Congressional Record , The State of Conservation Joshua Nygren,2025-01-06 In the twentieth century natural resource conservation emerged as a vital force in US politics laying the groundwork for present day sustainability Merging environmental agricultural and political history Joshua Nygren examines the political economy and ecology of agricultural conservation through the lens of the conservation industrial complex This evolving public private network which united the US Department of Agriculture Congress local and national organizations and the agricultural industry guided soil and water conservation in rural America for much of the century Contrary to the classic tales of US environmental politics and the rise and fall of the New Deal Order this book emphasizes continuity Nygren demonstrates how the conservation policies programs and partnerships of the 1930s and 1940s persisted through the age of environmentalism and how their defining traits anticipated those typically associated with late twentieth century political culture The conservation industrial complex promoted a development oriented brand of conservation that aided the rise of large scale capital intensive agriculture which continues today It also reshaped the physical and political landscapes of the country leading to impressive conservation victories and spectacular failures by privileging some environments degrading others and intensifying farm depopulation In the name of environmental protection agricultural conservation made rural America less equal Training for job interview Offshore Oil & Gas Rigs Petrogav International Oil & Gas Training Center,2020-07-01 The job interview is probably the most important step you will take in your job search journey Because it s always important to be prepared to respond effectively to the questions that employers typically ask at a job interview Petrogav International has prepared this eBooks that will help you to get a job in oil and gas industry Since these questions are so common hiring managers will expect you to be able to answer them smoothly and without hesitation This eBook contains 275 questions and answers for job interview and as a BONUS web addresses to 289 video movies for a better understanding of the technological process This course covers aspects like HSE Process Mechanical Electrical and Instrumentation Control that will enable you to apply for any position in the Oil and Gas Industry
