Dual-use life science research and biosecurity in the 21st Century: Social, Technical, Policy, and Ethical Challenges

Jonathan E. Suk, Kathleen M. Vogel, Amanda Jane Ozin, 2015-06-04 In September 2011 scientists announced new experimental findings that would not only threaten the conduct and publication of influenza research but would have significant policy and intelligence implications The findings presented a modified variant of the H5N1 avian influenza virus hereafter referred to as the H5N1 virus that was transmissible via aerosol between ferrets These results suggested a worrisome possibility the existence of a new airborne and highly lethal H5N1 virus that could cause a deadly global pandemic In response a series of international discussions on the nature of dual use life science arose These discussions addressed the complex social technical political security and ethical issues related to dual use research This Research Topic will be devoted to contributions that explore this matrix of issues from a variety of case study and international perspectives The Best Class You Never Taught Alexis Wiggins, 2017-09-27 The best classes have a life of their own powered by student led conversations that explore texts ideas and essential questions In these classes the teacher s role shifts from star player to observer and coach as the students Think critically Work collaboratively Participate fully Behave ethically Ask and answer high level questions Support their ideas with evidence and Evaluate and assess their own work The Spider Web Discussion is a simple technique that puts this kind of class within every teacher s reach The name comes from the weblike diagram the observer makes to record interactions as students actively participate in the discussion lead and support one another s learning and build community It s proven to work across all subject areas and with all ages and you only need a little know how a rubric and paper and pencil to get started As students practice Spider Web Discussion they become stronger communicators more empathetic teammates better problem solvers and more independent learners college and career ready skills that serve them well in the classroom and beyond Educator Alexis Wiggins provides a step by step guide for the implementation of Spider Web Discussion covering everything from introducing the technique to creating rubrics for discussion self assessment to the nuts and bolts of charting the conversations and using the data collected for formative assessment She also shares troubleshooting tips ideas for assessment and group grading and the experiences of real teachers and students who use the technique to develop and share content knowledge in a way that s both revolutionary and truly inspiring Applied
