Dorman, 2017-01-28 This volume presents the history of marine fog research and applications and discusses the physical processes leading to fog's formation evolution and dissipation A special emphasis is on the challenges and advancements of fog observation and modeling as well as on efforts toward operational fog forecasting and linkages and feedbacks between marine fog and the environment Browsing Science Research at the Federal Level in Canada Brian B. Wilks, 2004-01-01 Wilks provides a historical background list of publications and description of activities for most of the major science initiatives undertaken at the federal level He surveys a wide range of government documents and monographic and serial science collections used by both faculty and students

The Surface Climates of Canada William G. Bailey, T. R. Oke, Wayne R. Rouse, 1997 Climate particularly physical and surface climate plays an intimate role in landscape pattern and diversity in Canada Focusing on climatic processes at and near the earth's surface and on how these processes interact with the natural and human modified landscapes The Surface Climates of Canada goes beyond mere descriptive climatology to reveal the interrelationship between Canada's surface and its climate In the opening chapters contributors lay out the large scale context of the physical climate of Canada introducing the processes balances and dynamic linkages between the surface and atmosphere that create and maintain the diversity of surface climates found in Canada as well as outlining the nature of the physical processes that operate near the ground's surface Individual chapters are dedicated to snow and ice the almost universal surface cover in Canada and the other major natural surface environments of Canada ocean and coastal zones fresh water lakes wetlands arctic islands low arctic and subarctic lands forests and alpine environments The final part of the book considers those surface environments that have been strongly influenced by human activity such as agricultural lands and urban environments and examines the prospects for future climate change Bringing together for the first time a wide range of scholarship by leading climatologists The Surface Climates of Canada will be an indispensable tool for understanding Canada's surface climates and the processes responsible for their creation and control Meteorology Today C. Donald Ahrens, 2003 METEOROLOGY TODAY has for many years been one of the most widely used and authoritative texts for the introductory meteorology course Each edition is extensively reviewed by leading researchers in the field to ensure that the text remains completely up to date and reflects today's current understanding of meteorological concepts Author Donald Ahrens has been widely praised for his ability to explain relatively complicated ideas so that even under prepared students can understand them The text's clear and inviting presentation is supplemented by numerous pedagogical features that help augment students understanding Introductory stories found at the beginning of each chapter draws students naturally into the discussion In chapter reviews then help students to consolidate their understanding as they read while four types of end of chapter exercises provide opportunities for everything from further review to in class discussion questions Graphics are carefully designed and subsequently refined so that the key ideas clearly emerge Many of the photos in the book are taken by the author and provide unmatched images of dramatic weather phenomena A unique and popular feature over this title's seven editions has been the foldout cloud chart at the back of the book A wealth of online resources accompanies METEOROLOGY TODAY Seventh Edition allowing professors to integrate striking and illuminative interactive weather exercises into their course Many of the exercises on the BLUE SKIES CD ROM packaged FREE with each new copy of the text are tied to downloadable real time weather data offering instructors an easy way to bring the exploration of current weather events into the course discussion
