Rail Transport—Systems Approach Aleksander Ślădkowski, 2017-03-08 This book shows how the systems approach is employed by scientists in various countries to solve specific problems concerning railway transport. In particular, the book describes the experiences of scientists from Romania, Germany, the Czech Republic, the UK, Russia, Ukraine, Lithuania, and Poland. For many of these countries, there is a problem with the historical differences between the railways. In particular, there are railways with different rail gauges, with different signaling and communication systems, with different energy supplies, and finally with different political systems, which are reflected in the different approaches to the management of railway economies. The book's content is divided into two main parts, the first of which provides a systematic analysis of individual means of providing and maintaining rail transport. In turn, the second part addresses infrastructure and management development, with particular attention to security issues. Though primarily written for professionals involved in various problems concerning railway transport, the book will also benefit manufacturers, railway technical staff, managers, and students with transport specialties, as well as a wide range of readers interested in learning more about the current state of transport in different countries.

Port towage in New Zealand Peter J. Brom, 2023-07-04 This book deals with towage in the New Zealand ports. Due to the geographical location of New Zealand, the ports have to deal with very diverse nautical conditions. It shows how regional councils decide what the best solution is for their port towing service. This has resulted in an interesting variety of tailor-made tugboats. However, in recent years, there has been a development towards the use of more standard types of tugboats. Furthermore, this book deals with the commercial companies that operate from these ports. These are companies in the field of marine construction, dredging, salvage, and transport. The tugboats operated by those companies are also covered in this book. Peter J. Brom, 1953, was born in Amsterdam. As a young man, he became fascinated by the many tugs in the Netherlands. Since then, he has followed the towage industry and wrote about it among other things in the monthly magazine Lekko.

Electric Boats and Ships Kevin Desmond, 2017-09-25 Electric propulsion for boats was developed in the early 19th century and, despite the advent of the internal combustion engine, continued with the perfecting of the modern turbo-electric ship. Sustainable and hybrid technologies pioneered in small inland watercraft toward the end of the 20th century have, in recent years, been scaled up to create integrated electric drives for the largest ocean-going vessels. This comprehensive history traces the birth and rebirth of the electric boat from 1835 to the present, celebrating the Golden Age of electric launches, 1880–1910.

supports other initiatives related to women's studies The Official MBA Handbook 2005/2006 Michael Pilgrim, 2005
The MBA market is expanding and changing as business schools and universities seek to respond to the global economic trends and the long term effects of e-commerce. The huge variety of programmes increases the need for information for all applicants. The Official MBA Handbook continues to address the needs of all prospective MBA students helping to answer the question Why do an MBA through to choosing a school and financing study. This year one focus will be on the specific needs of women and overseas students in the MBA market. Written in conjunction with the Association of MBAs this essential Guide has been fully updated for 2005-2006 MBA Programmes Willing's Press Guide and Advertisers' Directory and Handbook, 2006 IIE Passport Marie O'Sullivan, 2006 Theatre Worlds in Motion S.E. Wilmer, H. van Maanen, 2024-04-02 Theatre Worlds in Motion aims to clarify the different theatre traditions and practices in Western Europe from a historical and sociological perspective. The book grew out of a perceived need among theatre scholars who had recognised that while they understood the theatre system of their own country they often found it difficult to discover how it compared with other countries. The chapters analyse the basic components and dynamics of theatre systems in seventeen Western European nations in order to elucidate how the systems function in general and how they vary in different cultures. The book provides a sense of what has been happening recently in particular countries and indicates how the theatre systems have developed over time and have led to the current practices and structures. Each national chapter considers the historical tradition and place of theatre within the country and analyses the role of the state in fostering theatre during the last fifty years. Material from the national chapters has been used in two general chapters at the beginning and end of the book to provide an overview to developments in all Western Europe. The introductory chapter on decentralisation discusses the tendency amongst governments to encourage cultural development outside the national capital by providing subsidy for regional theatre venues and theatre companies and in many cases by developing the decision making and budgetary powers for the theatre to regional and local authorities. The epilogue on the functioning of theatre examines the common structures of theatre in society as described in the seventeen national chapters and it proposes areas for future research Humanistica Lovaniensia Jozef Ijsewijn, 1997-02-15 Volume 46 Proceedings of the Fourteenth International Congress of Linguists. Beginning with a discussion of current issues in the control of cancer pain the initial chapters provide a clear concise explanation of cancer pain syndromes an up to date understanding of the pathophysiological mechanism and recent developments in creating pre-clinical cancer pain models. The book offers the reader the wide and improved options for management of cancer pain in clinical practice including the use of opioid and non opioid drugs and the role of non pharmacological methods in pain control Subsequent chapters address particular challenges in pain control such as breakthrough pain neuropathic cancer pain as well as pain associated with cancer treatment which until recently has not been fully appreciated Recent issues relating to new adverse side effects to chronic opioid medications such as hyperalgesia and neurotoxicity are explained and best practice to reduce or avoid them is stated The book also aims to aid in the overall educational need for young doctors as well as established primary care physicians by highlighting the available tools and the importance of early pain interventions in the overall cancer treatment strategy Empirical Studies of Literature
